THE RAGING RIVER.

The Mississippi River Rising at Minneapolis About Half an Inch Per Hour.

One Room Gone Out, Another is in Bad Shape, and the Flats Submerged.

The Dams at Sauk Rapids All Right—Blizzard at Some Minnesota Points.

Reports from Sioux City Say the Total Deaths Will Not Exceed Twenty.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 20.—The Mississippi is rising at the rate of half an inch per hour and a rise of two feet has been recorded since noon yesterday. Considerable damage has already been experienced on the flats below the falls where many Bohemians reside. They are now submerged and the families have all been compelled to move to higher ground. None of the houses have yet been carried away but if the rise of water continues great damage will result. Above the falls the water is higher than for years and many logs for the mills have already been lost.

The boom of the J. W. Day mill in this city has gone out with 300,000 feet of logs which are jammed up against the Northern Pacific bridge. This is an old structure and its fate is uncertain. The Akeley mill boom is in bad shape and it is estimated that seven inches more of rise will take it out with disastrous results to the bridge.

Floods are general in the Northwest. The suspension bridge at the mouth of Block river has gone out. At Princeton farm are flooded. Rum river is out of its banks. Much of the country is under water. Snow and ice are reported from all sections and colder weather is promised.

NO DAMS CARRIED AWAY.

Reports of Trouble at St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids Denied.

ST. PAUL, May 20.—Advises received from the railroad offices which have telegraphic connections with St. Cloud and Sauk Rapids state that no dams have been carried away and there is no trouble from high water as was reported.

At this point the river has commenced a more rapid rise since noon yesterday and it is now coming up at the rate of half an inch per hour. A rise of two feet is recorded since noon yesterday. It can come up four feet more, however, before any damage can be done.

THE DAMS MAY BURST.

A Rise of Two and a Half Feet at Aitken.

ST. PAUL, May 20.—A special to the Dispatch from Aitken, Minn., says that the Mississippi rose two feet during last night and a later dispatch says the water came up five inches from 7 o'clock to noon today. The reservoirs are full and fears are expressed that the dams will either have to be opened or they will burst. The government officials have notified the steamboat men to be in immediate readiness to take the settlers off in case the dams are opened.

NO DAMAGE AT SAUK RAPIDS.

SAUK RAPIDS, Minn., May 20.—The storm turned to snow last evening, which continued falling a great part of the night, nearly two inches being on the ground at 7 o'clock this morning. A high north wind still prevails with the thermometer 2 degrees below freezing point. The Mississippi is receding very slowly. No damage has been done thus far.

SEEDING STOPPED.

FARIBAULT, May 20.—Over two inches of snow has fallen here this morning and the storm still continues, stopping corn planting, gardening and spring work.

ICE IN WISCONSIN.

NEW RICHMOND, Wis., May 20.—The storm continues unabated. There is two inches of snow on the ground at this time. Ice formed last night.

BLIZZARD AT SLEEPY EYE.

SLEEPY EYE, May 20.—Severe blizzard accompanied by frost started in about midnight and is still raging.

STORM AT PIPESTONE.

PIPESTONE, Minn., May 20.—A big blizzard has been raging here since 4 o'clock this morning with the thermometer below freezing.

THE SIOUX CITY DELUGE.

Communication Obtained at Last—Names of Those Drowned.

SIOUX CITY, May 20.—Communication has at last been opened up with the deluged city. Last night, for the first time since the flood broke loose, a train reached here, the Chicago, Minneapolis & Omaha being the first to accomplish the feat after a terrible trip. The list of those known to be drowned has been reduced by the discovery of some who were supposed to have perished, but when the debris near the mouth of the Floyd can be removed it will be increased. Those known to be drowned are as follows: Geo. C. Millard, aged 62; Nellie West, aged 5; A. G. Anderson, Frank Henderson, wife and baby 3 weeks old; Thomas Fitzgerald; Olive Hoblett, daughter of E. Leonard, aged 9; son of E. Leonard, aged 7.

Those reported drowned by persons claiming to have been eye witnesses are: A. P. McLaren, Mrs. H. Ticks, Mrs. Peter Rasmussen and two children; two men unknown, drowned on Fourth street, near Fairmount avenue bridge; an unknown man, drowned at the north end of the Sioux City & Northern material yards; unknown man, in house on Lower Fifth street, several children and infants of unknown families.

The worst news of the flood has been told. The death list will not exceed twenty. The body of Mrs. Henderson was identified this morning. None of the bodies of children have yet been discovered. They may be cast up by the Missouri, that is flowing at twelve miles an hour. It is so high that the usual sand bars and eddies will not retain the bodies of victims.

The loss to property, especially to the packing houses and railroads, has been very mildly put. The Sioux City & Northern had four bridges over the Floyd and all are gone. For a distance of twenty miles the road bed is practically destroyed and the railroad ties carried out of their places. The Illinois Central lost two bridges and their track which parallels the Northern over its disastrous twenty miles is also badly damaged.

THE RAGING MISSOURI.

Great Damage Done at East St. Louis and Other Points.

ST. LOUIS, May 20.—The river fell slowly last night, and at 11 o'clock this morning the gauge marked 35 feet 9 inches. Experienced river men predict that when the floods along the Missouri river and upper Mississippi reach this city the water will go at least 6 or 8 inches higher. The crest of the flood is expected here tomorrow, and if the embankments along the river front on both sides of the stream withstand the current and beating waves for the next thirty-six hours, it is believed the worst will have passed and the floods will slowly recede.

Reports from St. Charles, Mo., this morning state a heavy gale swept through that section last night, and the waves were so high that no measures could be taken with any degree of accuracy. A number of houses are reported as moved from their foundations and floating off. The occupants hoisted improvised signals of distress and were rescued by relief steamers. The wind was so strong that small boats were swamped and many people narrowly escaped drowning. So far there has been but little loss of human life. The doctors say that the danger to and loss of life will come during the hot summer months, after the water has receded from the low lands. Notwithstanding the fact that the houses have been swept away, their live stock drowned and their farm lands in such condition that no crop can be raised this year, the people decline outside assistance and save the county of St. Charles will take care of its own people.

At Alton the situation is worse this morning. The heavy wind of last night interfered with the work of strengthening the embankments and but little progress was made. The waves tore several small steamers from their moorings and carried them down stream. One vessel sunk before it could be secured by the large steamer which had gone to the rescue. Officials of all the railroads entering this place are busily engaged in an effort to protect their property. The town is still cut off from railroad communication. Many families whose homes have been destroyed are living in box cars and on one stretch of track forty cars afford shelter for as many families.

The situation at the water works in North St. Louis is growing more serious. The water has flooded the pump houses and is within a foot of the engines. If the water rises at the rate predicted by the river men for the next twenty-four hours, it is feared the entire water supply of the city may be cut off. In East St. Louis the situation is not changed. The little city passed a night of anxiety and fear that any moment the railway embankments would give way to the pressure of the current and their dwellings be swamped in the flood. All night long hundreds were at work placing sand ballast, rocks and heavy timbers on the railway dykes and when day broke this morning the embankments were strengthened to an extent that bids to resist the rapid current. The greatest anxiety is felt over the anticipated rise tomorrow and hundreds of families have their household goods packed and ready to leave their homes at the first signal of danger.

At East Carondelet, seven miles south of here on the eastern side of the Mississippi river, the sufferings of the people who were caught in the flood is indescribable. Over 200 persons were camped last night on the high places of the town and this morning they are being taken off by boats, which were sent down from the city. The rescue is effected with great difficulty as the water is very rough, and the people in their anxiety to get away crowd the boats to the gunwales, and it requires skillful oarsmen to transport in safety the victims of the deluge.

The dwelling house of a colored family in the northern portion of East St. Louis was destroyed by fire this morning. Mrs. Thomas Moore and her 3-year-old daughter were burned to death. The water had forced the family to the upper floors of the house and in some manner the building caught fire this morning and before assistance could reach them the mother and child had perished. The town of Madison is entirely submerged. The railroad round house at the eastern terminus of the Merchants' bridge is the only building out of water. In many houses the water is two feet deep and in some streets there is a depth of four feet. The town is composed of nearly 300 dwellings and the occupants are moving their goods to the upper floors.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon a public meeting of citizens of St. Louis was held at the Merchants' exchange. A committee was appointed to receive subscriptions for the benefit of the flood sufferers. A large amount of money was immediately subscribed. The committee will at once begin the work of relieving the distressed.

Bad Storm in Iowa.

SPEENCER, Ia., May 20.—A snow storm, almost equal to the January blizzard, began crossing this section of the country this morning. A strong northwest wind is blowing and it is extremely cold. The storm on top of the flood just experienced here seems to banish all hopes of crops this year.

DEACON CONVICTED

The Sensational Case of Edward Parker Deacon for the Killing of M. Abielle.

Great Interest Taken in the Trial and the Courtroom Crowded With Spectators.

Deacon Tells All About His Troubles—Mrs. Deacon Denies Intimacy With Abielle.

NICE, May 20.—The trial of Edward Parker Deacon for the killing of Abielle, his wife's lover in the Hotel Splendide, at Cannes, on the night of Feb. 5, was commenced today. The courtroom was thronged, many of those present being foreigners. The prosecution recited the facts which the authorities expected to prove. Mr. and Mrs. Parker Deacon are Americans, well known in Paris, and they have for some time lived in the most aristocratic society of the Faubourg St. Germain. Mr. Parker Deacon is a banker. During the height of the Cannes season they have come regularly to the resort and while Mr. Deacon has frequented the cercle nautique, his wife has been received in many of the fashionable salons of English and American society. She is a very attractive lady of 30, quite a beauty in fact, a blonde of medium height, with large sympathetic eyes. She has always been dressed in the latest fashions. Her husband complained, indeed, of her extravagance in this respect, and many of the quieter people here considered her style as too pronounced.

During the statement of the case, the audience that thronged the courtroom listened with the greatest interest. The courtroom is not large. The whole population was excited over the event and if all Nice could have crowded into the courtroom very few people would have been elsewhere. Double ranks of soldiers restrained the crowd, and the multitude who could not gain admission were pressed back into the adjacent streets. It was half-past 9 when Mr. Deacon arrived at the court and entered the prison. Although Mr. Deacon speaks French, yet in accord with custom when foreigners are accused, an interpreter was sworn. The selection of a jury was quickly disposed of. The prosecution objected to three of the persons empanelled, who were consequently rejected and the defense objected to nine. The jury being completed the indictment was read. The indictment closed with the averment that Deacon had confessed all to the police at the time of his arrest. The first witness called was M. Dumoir, procureur de la republique, who read a certificate of a physician excusing Mrs. Deacon from attendance. Questions and answers then ensued between M. Aubertin, the presiding judge, who was assisted by M. Hubault and M. Sicard and Mr. Deacon.

Judge Aubertin, after rehearsing all he knew of the case, said to Mr. Deacon: "Have you had any previous trouble with the police?" Mr. Deacon, in a calm and dignified tone, replied "No." Judge Aubertin—"I hear that you like to drink?" Deacon—"I am no drunkard." Judge Aubertin—"You are of hasty temper?" Mr. Deacon—"Yes, I admit that I am." Judge Aubertin—"You have property in Boston?" Mr. Deacon—"Yes, worth about 30,000 francs." Judge Aubertin—"Your wife has a large income?" Mr. Deacon—"Yes, I admit that I am." Judge Aubertin—"You have suspected his wife. He wrote to her from Homburg telling her that she must cease her intimacy with M. Abielle. People are talking, he wrote to her, 'and you must choose between us.'" To this Mr. Deacon had answered: "Under your tyrannical treatment I have become too nervous to endure living with you." She suggested that he, Mr. Deacon, should go to America. This was in July '01. "I wrote to her," said Mr. Deacon, "that I must see her and asked her if she would come to St. Maurice. She telegraphed in reply that she was leaving for the Italian lakes. I went to Geneva, where I heard that my wife and M. Abielle were still together at St. Maurice. I then heard that they had gone to Belagie. I telegraphed to the hotel asking if Mrs. Deacon had arrived there. In answer I got an insulting reply stating that my wife and daughter had arrived there. I felt as assistance could reach them the mother and child had perished. The town of Madison is entirely submerged. The railroad round house at the eastern terminus of the Merchants' bridge is the only building out of water. In many houses the water is two feet deep and in some streets there is a depth of four feet. The town is composed of nearly 300 dwellings and the occupants are moving their goods to the upper floors.

IMPORTANT POINTERS.

WE DO BUSINESS ON THE SMALL PROFIT SYSTEM!

People seldom patronize high-priced stores unless they haven't got the cash and want their purchases charged.

Can houses doing a small business buy their goods as cheap as a house doing a large business? No. Neither can they sell them as cheap. The masses patronize the best stores in every city.

Our purchasing advantages are second to none in America. In many instances we could sell to some merchants here.

Our New York representative keeps us thoroughly posted on all the latest creations and on all the lowest prices.

If you want low prices; if you want the latest creations; if you want reliable goods; if you want a great variety, come to PANTON & WATSON.

A MATTER OF FIGURE.

The Dressmaker's Dummy is Fearfully and Wonderfully Made, and So is the Animated Dummy.

This Remarkable Exhibit is Like Nothing in Heaven or Earth or in the Waters Beneath.

The Genesis and Development of Fashionable Forms of Dress—Interesting, if Not Convincing.

There is something about the modern "figure," the female "figure," as given in its full perfection by the dressmaker's revolving dummy, that strikes awe and admiration to the heart of the thoughtful beholder.

Well knowing that no form in the universe exists without a cause, that every limit in size and shape, every curve and line and angle of organic nature shows the pressure of life from within shaped by resistance from without, one wonders, with a respectful scientific wonder, what power and what resistance combined to form the strange, unearthly shape portrayed in Fig. 1.

It is like nothing in heaven or earth, this dummy, or the waters under the earth. It is no more like a woman's body than this is like a horse:

Well knowing that no form in the universe exists without a cause, that every limit in size and shape, every curve and line and angle of organic nature shows the pressure of life from within shaped by resistance from without, one wonders, with a respectful scientific wonder, what power and what resistance combined to form the strange, unearthly shape portrayed in Fig. 1.

It is like nothing in heaven or earth, this dummy, or the waters under the earth. It is no more like a woman's body than this is like a horse:

It is not like any kind of body, this dummy, for all live bodies are the visible sun of multitudes of perfectly adapted interlacing muscles and supporting bones.

And yet it has a certain charm of its own, this dummy, a fixed proportion of Hogarth's lines of beauty, appealing to the eye with the same satisfaction given by a well turned baluster, a substantial vase.

That is to say the true type does—the revolving dummy; when applied to a conical human body underneath, the result is not so happy, and the fixed proportion of lines of beauty suffers in its deadly conflict with the lines of action and structural necessities of the creature inside.

Those who most affect it, however, having no object in life to interfere with this ambition and consistently avoiding all motions and positions incompatible with a dummy, achieve a measurable triumph, losing all semblance of their faulty human shape and becoming almost perfect.

But among the masses of humanity the struggle is unequal. The cruel needs of life call for more or less normal exertion, and as the bones and muscles of the creature become stronger and the bones and stitches of the dummy weaker, owing to a necessary cheapness and homogeneity of material, the result is wholly unsatisfactory to look at and highly unpleasant to feel.

Let us first study a little the distinctive features of the dummy—its main points of antagonism to the natural body, its mysterious and lasting charm—and then cast a brief glance into its laws and causes.

The most salient characteristics of the dummy, for its shape does vary a little from year to year, is its smooth immobility. In this it partakes of the nature of a carapace or shell, holding the body as a turtle's body is held in solid walls.

The creature inside can move its neck and arms and legs, though even these are greatly modified in size and shape by the central pressure, and marginal restrictions; but it can only move its body all at once, like the supple above mentioned. Nature has long since cheerfully adapted herself to this condition, and the live dummies never think of moving their bodies—the body and the body have become one, in their minds at least.

Next in order of importance comes the shape.

This changes in, some degree with the changing years. It may be long in proportion or short, it may be flat relatively or it may be round, it may be curved marginally or it may be pointed; but one thing it always must be—slender. And here ensues a most pathetic struggle, the long, noble, persevering struggle of the dummy with the crude human form.

After the smooth immobility and the slenderness come certain relative curves and proportions, which have to vary somewhat with the individual, some proving extremely refractory in this, and which also vary somewhat with the course of time.

But speaking broadly and elastically, the form is like that shown in Fig. 3. This is what is called "the figure," and its three most prominent features we may name the waist, the bust and the bustle.

The waist we have touched upon under the attribute of slenderness, but the bust and the bustle need special mention. All these are closely interrelated when we come to cause.

The bust is a conventional outline, bearing a certain curvilinear proportion to the waist, of uniform horizontal dimensions, and melting imperceptibly into the general curves of "the figure." It serves to indicate by a noncommittal protuberance some faint, distant and conventionalized idea of the form beneath, and so to distract the mind from the beautiful body of woman.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
May 20.—The storm which was central over Northern Illinois yesterday, has moved very slowly during the past twenty-four hours, and is now central over Wisconsin. No heavy rain has fallen, but light snow is now falling over Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. There has been a decided fall in temperature over the northwestern part of Minnesota, the thermometer registering 25° at Moorhead and Saint Vincent, and has fallen to 24° at St. Paul and La Crosse, 26° at Huron, S. D., and 28° at Des Moines, Iowa.Clearing weather is in the extreme Northwest, and also over the South. Over the country to the west of here the wind is blowing a gale,
ranging from twenty-two miles per hour at Moorhead to thirty-six at Huron, forty at Wisconsin and forty-eight at Winnipeg.The storm, while apparently diminishing in force, is moving so that it will pass near this section, clearing and colder weather will prevail, probably by tonight.The rainfall here during the storm amounted to two and one-half inches. There was a slight fall in temperature yesterday, rising again during the night to 41°.DULUTH, May 20.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity, May 21: Rain, followed by clearing and colder; northeast to northwest gales, diminishing in force by tomorrow.B. H. BROOKS, Observer.WASHINGTON, May 20.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
Saturday: For upper Michigan and Wisconsin:
Clearing tonight; colder; northwest gales diminishing; severe frosts in the interior tonight;
fair Saturday and Sunday. For Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Nebraska: Generally fair
all Sunday; clearing in Minnesota and Eastern Iowa; cooler tonight with severe frosts; warmer
Saturday; northwest gales diminishing.

BEST FOR ALL READERS.

The Saturday edition of The Herald
has become the popular newspaper of the week in Duluth. The Sunday morning papers are no longer in the race,
but struggle feebly along in the rear.
Able, bright, progressive, attractively illustrated and carefully edited, it stands unchallenged in the lead as the foremost home newspaper. Among the special features of tomorrow's edition may be mentioned the following:Bill Nye's Letter.—The exclusive franchise for the letters of the celebrated philosopher and raconteur, Edgar W.
Nye—famously known as "Bill"—has been secured by The Herald for this section of the country. Bill Nye's popularity is universal and his work is so well known that it requires no explanation or eulogium. Hereafter the Bill Nye letters will be a special feature of the Saturday Herald. They are illustrated
from the inimitable drawings of Mc-Dougall.New Business Blocks.—A glance at the handsome new buildings which are to be erected on Superior street during the present year.Society in Spring.—May diversions of fashionable people in Duluth. The social events of the past week and those in prospective.Music and Drama.—The coming attractions at the Duluth theaters. Latest gossip concerning well-known people on the stage.Books and Magazines.—The latest productions in the literary arena. Some of the bright features of the monthly magazines.Duluth's Latest Impetus.—Why Duluth
will be the chief center of iron and steel manufacture. By E. V. Smalley, editor of the Northwest Magazine.Eloquent Divines.—Four preachers who became prominent at the Methodist general conference at Omaha. Illustrated.In addition to these and other special features, the latest news, both local and telegraphic, will be presented in complete and attractive style.

BRIDGING THE HARBOR.

The new ordinance of the Duluth & Northeastern Railway & Terminal company, which was presented at an adjourned meeting of the city council yesterday, makes a radical change in the plans of that company which have heretofore been under discussion. The tunnel scheme of connecting the mainland
with Park Point has been abandoned for the present, at least, on account of the very heavy expense that it would entail
upon both the company and the city.
The original proposition was that the city and the company should share the expense equally. It was then believed that a tunnel of sufficient size could be constructed for about $1,000,000, but after a careful investigation the company's engineer has reported that it would cost at least $1,600,000 to construct a suitable tunnel. This would mean an expenditure of $800,000 each by the city and the company.Of course it is utter nonsense to talk of the city assuming such a heavy liability at this stage in its history. It would be suicidal to place such a heavy burden upon the taxpayers. The officials of the railroad company also feel that they cannot assume such a large expenditure. They have decided, therefore, that they must abandon the idea of a tunnel. Engineering authorities haveadvised them that the next best plan is to construct a bridge across the harbor,
and in the ordinance now before the council they ask authority to erect a bridge from the foot of Fifth avenue west to Astor street on Park Point. The proposed plan involves the construction of a double track railroad bridge, providing also double passages for passenger and traffic and furnishing facilities for street railway purposes. The company will build this bridge without any expense to the city, and it will be designed with draws so as to meet the approval of the war department and not be an obstruction to navigation. It is believed that no serious objection would be offered by the vessel interests to such a bridge and that, even if they should object, the war department would not refuse permission.Indeed the vessel owners are practically estopped from objection to such a bridge, in view of their statements before the board of engineers at Detroit recently. In objecting to the proposed bridge across the canal, the Cleveland Vessel Owners' association said: "Still another plan suggested is to build a trestlework, with draw, through the inner harbor. It would be an inconvenience certainly even there, but a good,
proper plan of construction would leave no undue risk or danger attendant." The delegates of the Lake Carriers' association likewise said, in opposing the canal bridge:
"Even a bridge and draw across the inside bay is infinitely preferable. Vessels could pass through such a draw with safety." Not one of the strong arguments against the proposed canal bridge could apply to a bridge across the harbor from Fifth avenue west to Astor street. The secretary of war has declined to permit the bridging of the canal. The expense of tunneling the canal is too great for either the city or company, or both combined, to assume.It is necessary that connection be established with Park Point, and the bridge
now proposed seems to be the only feasible solution of the problem.There are one or two features of the ordinance that are open to objection.
The company virtually asks the exclusive use of Railroad street and Railroad alley as far as Twenty-sixth avenue west. If this were granted, the council would be unable to give right-of-way to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Winnipeg, as has been proposed. It will be said in answer to this objection that these two roads will be given right-of-way
over the Duluth & Northeastern tracks on reasonable terms. The truth is, however, that the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, at least, must secure right-of-way
and terminals in order to obtain the capital which it requires to carry out its plans. This fact consequently impels
the council to modify this portion of the ordinance so that a portion of Railroad
alley and Railroad street will be reserved for the Missabe road.Again, the section affecting the use of the Duluth & Northeastern tracks by other roads should be made more explicit as to the rates to be charged those roads. The section now says that these rates "shall be reasonable charges without any discrimination against any party
it may serve, and in case of dispute
these rates shall be determined by the railroad commissioners of the state of Minnesota." There does not appear to be any good reason why the section
should not definitely fix these rates at,
say, 6 per cent on the actual cost of the facilities, exactly as was done in the case of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern ordinance. The section regarding the bridge might also be wisely amended, so that it will state distinctly the facilities to be afforded for railroad, street car, team and passenger traffic. With these amendments, the ordinance would appear to be very satisfactory and in the interest of the city.THE SIXTH DISTRICT.
Congressional politics in the Sixth district are becoming more interesting.
The first candidate will be put in the field within the next two weeks. On Wednesday, June 1, the People's party of the district will meet at Little Falls
and nominate a candidate for congress.
If the Democrats and the friends of this early-day congressional possibility intend to join forces in the Sixth they had better get in line pretty soon. Henry Keller is flitting around the southern end of the district in lively style and thinks
he can have the Democratic nomination
if he wants it. Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans have called their district conventions, but it is expected that this matter will soon receive attention.The St. Louis county Republicans will hold their convention on June 4 to elect twenty-six delegates to the district convention. At this time the question of indorsing a Duluth man for the nomination will be settled. Sotat, Hon. H. C. Kendall appears to be the only candidate in the field, and his only opponent in the district at present is Judge Searle, of St. Cloud. The judge, however, says he is not a candidate, but his friends say he is and are booming him as much as possible.The Fargo Republican is not downcast by the damage done by the heavy rainstorms, and is cheering up its neighbors in the following style: "Don't worry. The sun will shine. The fields will dry, and bountiful harvests will beready for the reaper. There have been hundreds of such months of May before
and there is yet time for an abundant harvest in all parts of North Dakota."The report that St. Paul is thinking of selling its water works in order to pay off the large city debt is almost incredible. Good business sense is opposed to such a scheme, which would be in conflict with the best interests of the city. Besides, it is the only dividend-paying asset that St. Paul possesses.Col. Elliott F. Shepard asserts that nearly 400,000 Rhode Islanders have signed petitions demanding the closing of the World's fair on Sunday. As the last census of Rhode Island showed a total population of only 345,506, the colonel's figures need revision.The rains descended upon Duluth in a pretty lively fashion yesterday, but no serious damage was done. It was another example of the advantages attending a city built upon a rock."What shall be done to make New York a better city?" asks one of the workers of that city. Well, as a starter,
it might be well to abolish the Parkhurst
circuses.A Boston paper says that plots to kill the czar are as numerous as floods in the West. But it will be noticed that they are not attended by such serious results.A boy burglar arrested in Milltown,
N. J., says he smoked forty cigarettes every day. And yet we wonder at the increase of crime!

WHO ARE THE BEARS?

A Few Facts From a Member of the Stock Exchange.To the Editor of The Herald:
I don't think you were exactly fair in charging me with ignorance of exchange rules. But I will explain. Our rules provide that variations in price shall not be less than 5 cents per share. They do not prevent a broker bidding as high or as low as he wishes for any stock. This is what I tried to say yesterday.Your readers can judge of the force
and volume of the bear movement
against the so-called Merritt stocks when they know the fact that since the exchange opened less than 1200 shares, all told, of those stocks have been sold. One man, who is supposed to be an officer of the Biwabik company, has sold more of that stock than all the other members of the exchange combined, and he is one of the most prominent in abusing the mysterious bear combine. The lowest bid on Biwabik stock has been made by a Merritt, the lowest sale of Biwabik stock has been made by a Merritt and the heaviest selling of Biwabik stock has been done by an officer of the Biwabik company. Of Cincinnati stock alone since the exchange opened there have been twenty times as many shares sold
as of all the Merritt stocks combined.
As the Cincinnati people don't whine.
As these facts are verified by the sales book of the exchange let your readers say who are the bears.
Everybody seems to have some of these Merritt stocks. How are the members of the exchange to know that the Merrits hold a controlling interest in any of them? What evidence has the exchange that the control of all these stocks has not passed into the hands of those who are directly opposed to it, their withdrawal from the exchange? Certainly no such evidence has been presented. As long as a member of the exchange has no objection to any listed stock
he has the right to sell it on the exchange and have the sale quoted. Referring to a portion of your editorial I suggested that so far neither The Herald nor any other city paper has made any strenuous effort to verify
friends of the exchange who had views for publication. The talk which has found its way into the papers has all been on the other way. Most of the exchange members are pretty outspoken
and would have no objections to talking to a reporter.

FRANKLIN PAINE.

Duluth, May 20, 1892.

OUGHT TO BE STOPPED.

Time that All This Boys' Play Were Ended.To the Editor of The Herald:
It is most gratifying to one who has passed a large portion of his time in New York as a member of both exchanges to note that someone is strong enough to come out boldly and criticize
the proceedings that are now taking place between the stock exchange and
the mine owners, and were it in my power to aid him in any way to overcome obstacles that are apparent at the present time, it would be a cheerful pastime to do so.The boys' play that has been going on on both sides for the past week or ten days certainly ought to be stopped for the interests of Duluth. The stock exchange has become an established fact.
If it were conducted with business principles (one in particular), that is to say,
opening and closing at an hour in the morning, and doing so promptly at that hour, it would show to the public both at home and abroad that an endeavor was being made to carry it on as other similar bodies are in large cities, and eventually would win.Then on the other hand, if the mine owners, some of them who have a great deal of sand and with a little more of a bank account, would put their heads together they could twist these few little bears in an operation or two out of sight,
raise the value of the stocks of their properties, and all would be happy.Barnett Manages Both.
The Minneapolis journal says: "H.
M. Barnett, well known in this city, will manage the new Highland pavilion at Duluth, as well as the Lake Harriet pavilion. The Duluth pavilion is situated on the Highland view, and was built by the Duluth Street Railway company and Thos. Lowry. Situated as it is, 600 feet above the ice level, and lighted by the sea's are lights, this lighthouse by the sea is visible for fifty miles out over the Lake Superior ice on a mild Fourth of July evening."The date will stand.

ARE GETTING ON TO IT.

Trades and Labor Assembly is Aware of the Shipment of Laborers to the Idaho Mines.Some Measures Will be Taken to Prevent Laborers from Leaving Under False Impressions.Duluth Employment Agencies Have Orders to Ship Three Thousand Men at Once.The Trades and Labor assembly held an important meeting last night, the object being to take some action with regard to the large number of men who are being shipped away from here and through here by the Northern Pacific road to Coeur d'Alene, the scene of the mining strike in Idaho. Private dispatches had been received showing the state of affairs there and notifying the trades and labor people that union principles were at stake and calling upon them to help uphold the miners, not by money but by sympathetic action. In the absence of President Mason the chair was filled by Mr. Gleason whose first action was to call on Delegate Mc-Dowell, from the Typographical union, to explain the reason of the call for the special meeting. That gentleman responded by producing his budget of Idaho news,
stating that a large number of men had been received at the mines, but that some of them, who were union men, refused to go to work when they learned the true state of affairs. After discussing the matter at some length, some private action was taken, a committee appointed to investigate further, some posters were ordered printed and some advertising will be done to prevent laborers from going there under false impressions. The matter will come up for final action on Thursday, May 26, at the regular monthly meeting.What the Agents Say.
The local agents here for the employment of the men state that they have shipped quite a number to the mines
already and that all who have arrived
there have gone to work without the least annoyance or hindrance of any description. They admit, however, that seventeen men of the last party forwarded "got away" from them en route.
The original order which called for 300
men was increased to 1,200 and now calls for 2,000, and they are being forwarded as fast as they are secured. The great number of men, however, come from the Michigan peninsula and are brought into South Superior by the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, where they are transferred along with those secured
in Duluth and West Superior, to trains on the Northern Pacific road and forwarded to their destination.He who can Save and Won't Save

Lind Says the Contest for Governor Is Narrowed to These.WASHINGTON, May 20.—Representa-

Minnesota Wednesday night. He said the contest for the Republican governmental nomination in Minnesota had practically narrowed down to two men, Nelson and Ives, although McGill had quite a following.Asked if there was likelihood that the Democrats and third party would "fuse"
in the coming election in the state, he said: "I can see no signs of any deal between these two parties." Regarding the presidency he thinks Rusk would land, after raining continuously for forty-eight hours, snow began to fall, and the ground is now covered with about two inches.

The directors of the Superior board of fate of the institution which when put in operation was to destroy at one fell blow

The directors will decide this afternoon

Minneapolis wharves, there will not be left enough of a town on the Superior site to engender any sewage that will hurt.

THERE IS OPPOSITION.

The Ordinance of the Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal Company Not Entirely Approved.

It is Referred Back to the Ordinance Committee and Will be Reported on Monday Evening.

Objections are Raised to Several of the Changes Made in the Ordinance Committee's Report.

The Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal company ordinance did not pass the council yesterday afternoon as reported by the committee and it was not supported that it would. It is again in the hands of the ordinance committee and is to be reported on next Monday. The council was not called to order until 10 o'clock and Aldermen Long, Wilson and Helm were absent. After the reading of the amended ordinance Alderman Thomas moved that it be referred to the ordinance committee to report on next Wednesday. He showed some opposition to the change in the plans and said that if a bridge was built it ought to be over the canal or else some other means of crossing ought to be obtained. Alderman Kennedy wanted the ordinance to go back to the ordinance committee and Alderman Thomas agreed and to this committee it went in spite of an amendment by Alderman Hugo providing that it be reported on next Monday. The city engineer on motion of Alderman Kennedy, was directed to prepare a plan showing the line of the road and the property to be taken.

The council shortly afterward went into executive session upon motion of Alderman N. F. Hugo, and at his own request W. C. Sargent was allowed to offer some explanations of the ordinance to the council. After being in session for a half hour or more the doors were opened and a motion was again made that the ordinance be reported to the council at Monday evening's session. This was carried.

Some of the revisions do not meet the approval of a number of them do not favor them. The opposition to the bridge scheme does not seem to be general and comes from Alderman Thomas more particularly than anyone else, but then there is a decided opinion that the provisions in the ordinance relating to the construction of the bridge must be more specific and must give no exclusive privileges. The size of the bridge, the exact width and all specifications, the aldermen believe should be stated.

The cutting out of the section fixing the rate to be charged other companies for use of the terminal facilities does not meet with approval. This provided for the payment by each road of an equal proportion of a 6 per cent interest charge on the cost of the facilities, this cost to be determined by arbitration if necessary. It was required of the Duluth & Northeastern road but Mr. Sargent claims it cannot be made to work as it is intended to. It is probable, however, that the aldermen will insist on having it inserted.

Another objection raised is to giving thirty-three feet of Railroad street and the whole of Railroad alley from Fifteenth avenue west to Twenty-sixth avenue west. The objection is especially to the latter as the aldermen believe it would prevent the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway from getting in. There are a number of other objections and the ordinance will probably have another radical revision by Monday evening.

A petition from the Duluth street railway asking the vacation of a portion of the alley in block 47, Second division, was granted before the executive session. The company is erecting its power house in the block in which this alley is and desires to use a portion of it.

AMUSEMENTS.

A Fine Concert.

It was unfortunate that the weather was so inclement last evening and prevented the Chorus Lady quartet and orchestra from having a good audience at the Lyceum for they deserved it, but under the conditions it would not be fair to say that Duluthians do not appreciate a good concert. The Chorus Lady quartet is the best organization of its kind that has been heard here for some time. Their music is of the simpler order and can be appreciated by everyone—the lovers of the classical as well as those whose musical education is not so complete. The choice of the program shows that the ladies try to cater to the popular taste for they are all capable of singing the highest class of music. This was shown plainly in Miss Pauline Stein's solo, Rossini's "Arie Semiramide." Miss Stein has a fine soprano, sweet and of high range and her singing aroused the enthusiasm of the audience. Miss Marie Louise Knott's solo "Down on the Sands" was one of the most enjoyable numbers on the program. She has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice. Miss Alice Merrill Raymond, the alto, has a wonderfully deep voice, full and resonant, and her work in the quartet as well as in the solo was thoroughly appreciated. Her duet with Miss Knott was a charming number. The quartet singing was very fine the voices of the ladies blending harmoniously and sweetly. Mary Belmont Cope is an accomplished elocutionist and her work gave great satisfaction. Her numbers were mostly humorous, but she gave one or two more on the serious order. Her dancing on the minuet and her curtsying in one of her selections were very graceful.

"Ole Olson" Monday. "Ole Olson" will be heard at the Temple next Monday evening and a strong presentation may be expected. The play has been considerably revised this year and some excellent features added. It is a fine comedy and has a good plot running through the play. Ben Hendricks takes the central character, Ole Olson, and is a clever actor. For the past three seasons he supported Minnie Palmer. Alice Evans is the soubrette and is a bright and vivacious young lady.

Will Carleton, Lyceum theater, June 4

NAMED THE DAY.

County Convention to Name Congressional Delegates Called for June 4. The Republican committee for St. Louis county met at the Spaulding last evening with five of the seven members present. Saturday, June 4, was selected as the date for holding the county convention to elect delegates to the congressional convention the date for which has not been selected. Causes to elect delegates to the county convention will be held on Thursday, June 2. Twenty-six delegates is the number of representatives which St. Louis county Republicans are allowed in the congressional convention. The convention will be held in Duluth, but the date has not been chosen. It has been left to Chairman C. S. Benson, of St. Cloud, to select it.

PETTY CRIMINALS.

Both Judges Are Busy in the Municipal Court. Both judges in the municipal court are busy on set cases, principally minor civil actions. This morning's grist of criminal cases was very small. John McCarthy stole a pair of shoes from the front of a store, pleaded guilty to petit larceny and went up to Hotel Sharvey for 30 days in default of $30 fine. Oliver Clayton was drunk and pleaded guilty. It was his first offense and a reprimand from the judge would probably have done much more good, but the judge wasn't merciful this morning and Mr. Clayton will have to work for the city ten days. It is a hardship for him as he will lose his situation anyway as things now are. John Brown was charged with being drunk but pleaded not guilty. He is out on bail and will be tried tomorrow afternoon.

A SLATE QUARRY.

Levi Deetz is Operating One a Few Miles From Cloquet. Levi Deetz, of Cloquet, brought some excellent samples of slate into the city this morning and is exhibiting them at different places. They are taken from a quarry which he is operating on the St. Louis river, three miles from Cloquet. Ten men are employed there now where six months ago there were only two and quite a respectable amount of slate is being quarried every day. It is 95 per cent pure and makes an excellent roofing slate. Mr. Deetz will push operations and endeavor to open a good market for this quarry.

A Thousand Barrels.

The Duluth Roller mill started up again last night after being shut down about two weeks. The mill is now fitted with the Hagenmacher Planifier, which increases its capacity from 500 to about 700 barrels. This machine is a new one and it is claimed that one of them will do the work of nearly twenty reels. With the capacity of the Duluth mill at 700 barrels and the Superior mill turning out 300 barrels daily the Duluth Roller mill company has a capacity of 1000 barrels.

Will be a Great Event.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Bishop McGolrick's ordination to the priesthood on June 9 will be the greatest event of the Roman Catholic church which has taken place in Duluth. Invitations have been sent out to all parts of the United States and Europe and nearly 200 acceptance have been received. Some of the prominent church dignitaries of the country will be present.

A Novel Paper Weight.

The Superior Store company is sending out as an advertisement for itself and its city a paper weight of a novel design. A miniature whaleback representing the Wetmore rests on a nickel design. It makes an attractive desk weight.

WEST DULUTH.

West Duluth office of The Herald, room 4, 814 W. Superior, where announcements etc., may be left.

Plans for the new addition to the city hall have at last been decided upon and bids are now asked for a $16,000 building. This will be built on to the old part, and is so planned that when completed will make a very artistic building and will more than double the present size of the building.

The Choral union concert for next Thursday evening promises to be the best given by this organization. A miscellaneous program has been prepared and every effort will be made to make it a success.

Euclid lodge, A. F. & A. M., will give a social at Masonic hall next Wednesday evening.

The old M. E. church building in Oneota is being removed to make room for a new and more commodious building.

An infant child of Mr and Mrs. Grosse died last evening.

Dr. Strickler, of St. Paul, was a guest of R. C. Brophy yesterday.

Died—Mrs. Regan, at residence on Fourth avenue west, yesterday, of consumption.

Electric lights have been placed on Bay View Heights, and residents in that delightful suburb now have all the advantages that one enjoys in the city and at the same time the delights of a country residence.

The Assembly club gives a social this evening in Hoyt's hall.

O. Gadory left today for Aitkin, Minn., after a short visit with relatives at this place.

Richard & Gilmour wish to announce to the public that they have returned and retaken possession of their blacksmith shop on First avenue west. They have a larger force and are better equipped to run out work than ever. A trial order is respectfully solicited.

Dr. S. H. Boyer has removed his office from room 6, Norris-McDougal block, to rooms 211 and 212 Lyceum building.

Appetizing Food for Dyspeptics.

Medical Journal: Upon three teaspoonsful of lactated food, moistened with cold water, pour half a pint of hot milk or hot water. Stir thoroughly and it is ready for use. For the evening meal, this gives complete relief from the poor sleep that is frequently a distressing symptom of dyspepsia.

FOR THE METHODISTS.

The Report of the Committee on Itinerary was Presented to the Omaha Conference Today.

The Conference is Given Authority by This Report to Locate the Ministers With Their Consent.

The Duty of the Church Held to be to Wage Intense Warfare Against the Saloon.

OMAHA, May 20.—Bishop Foss presided over today's session of the conference. Business was taken up with a vote. The committee on itinerary presented a report giving the conference authority to locate ministers with their consent. It also gives the bishop authority to appoint preachers and laymen to do evangelistic work, and giving quarterly conferences authority to license proper persons to preach or serve as lay evangelists. No members shall be at liberty to preach without the commendation of his classes.

The committee on deaconess work present both a majority and a minority report. The former favors the establishment of a deaconess board to have charge of the work and offers a verbose set of rules governing the board and the deaconesses to be incorporated in the discipline. The minority recommends that the deaconesses remain as they now are, under the control of the church at large. The committee of the Epworth league reports an enabling act and general constitution for the league to organize and operate under, which is to be incorporated in the discipline. The committee on the Columbian exposition presented its revised and condensed report on Sunday closing. The committee on temperance and prohibition of the liquor traffic hold it to be the duty of the Methodist Episcopal church both to save the fallen and wage incessant warfare against the liquor traffic; that the word of God, the teachings of science and lessons of experience, all combine in declaring total abstinence to be the duty of every individual.

WALKING IS COMPULSORY.

All the Street Car Lines in New Orleans Are Tied Up.

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—Thirty days ago the car drivers of this city struck for twelve hours a day at $55 a month. Their demands were acceded to. Last night they struck again, demanding that all non-union men be discharged. The several presidents of the car lines refused the request and the consequence is that with the exception of two lines the city is tied up.

The striking car drivers are becoming riotous and nearly 100 of them are in jail on charges of inciting to riot. The railroad people state that they will not give in. The strikers are equally as firm in their demands and the situation at present is very serious.

THE CITIZENS EXCITED.

Denison, Tex., People Offer a Reward of $5000 for a Murderer.

DENISON, Tex., May 20.—The city hall building was thronged last evening with a mass meeting of prominent citizens, gathering for the purpose of taking some steps toward effecting the capture of the guilty party who murdered the four women here Wednesday night. Resolutions were adopted, pledging a reward of $5000 for the capture of the murderer.

News was received from McKinney, Tex., late last night, stating that a man had been arrested there on suspicion of being connected with the tragedy. On this truth was a tag which bore the name of Burton, which he claims was put there by a drunken man. The city is still in a state of intense excitement.

MRS. G. H. PULLMAN DEAD.

An Artist of Repute and Connected With the World's Fair. BALTIMORE, May 20.—Mrs. Margaret MacDonald Pullman died at the residence of her father-in-law, Rev. Royal H. Pullman, in this city yesterday. She was the wife of Mr. George H. Pullman of Chicago. Mrs. Pullman was a native of Logansport, Ind. She was an artist of national repute and up to one year ago was president of the Palette club of Chicago. She had been selected as a member of the special committee of art affairs connected with the Columbian exposition at Chicago.

ALL WERE INDICTED.

Every Ticket Broker in Chicago Placed Under Arrest.

CHICAGO, May 20.—At the instance of a number of railroad officials the grand jury this morning indicted every ticket broker in town. Warrants were issued and the brokers were brought in and furnished bonds for $500 each for their appearance. The indictments are drawn under the statute of 1875, which forbids persons other than those authorized by the railroads to sell tickets over their lines. There will be a legal fight to a finish over the matter.

Will Train Sullivan.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Phil Casey, the champion handball player, assisted by Jack Ashton, will train John Sullivan for his fight with Corbett. The training will be somewhere on Long Island sound.

Gibbs Not a Candidate. ALBERTA, Minn., May 20.—Hon. John L. Gibbs, formerly a member of the railroad and warehouse commission, has written a letter in which he declines to become a candidate for congress in the First district.

Cheapest and Best Place.

You will always find the finest roasts of beef, steaks, etc., at the lowest prices at the C. M. Meat Market, 213 West Superior street.

ANOTHER RAILWAY DEAL.

Gould and Huntington Said to Have Made an Agreement.

DENVER, Col., May 20.—A secret message received in this city yesterday contains a belief that Messrs. Gould and Huntington have made an agreement which will give them a monopoly of the entire business to and from the coast. The plan agreed upon is to take up the Atlantic & Pacific stock, then Gould will extend the Missouri Pacific road to Albuquerque and they will thus have entire control of the coast trade to Omaha, St. Louis and the East via the Union Pacific in the North, from the Southern Pacific connection and via the Atlantic & Pacific and the Missouri Pacific as a Southern route to St. Louis and New Orleans.

The Atlantic & Pacific is now being operated under lease by the Santa Fe, and extends from Albuquerque to Mojave. At the former place the Santa Fe makes connection with its own line from Kansas City and from Mojave the traffic is run over Huntington's line into San Francisco. This move will put the Santa Fe out and will compel it to extend either the main line or the Colorado Midland westward.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

Suspicious Death of Mrs. Ellen Holmes, Who Killed Her Husband.

HASTINGS, Minn., May 20.—News was received here that Mrs. Ellen Holmes, of Lakeville, living about three miles southwest of Farmington, was found dead, but whether she was murdered or committed suicide is yet to be determined. Tuesday she sold her farm of eighty acres to W. H. Brownell, of Farmington, for $500. A party, whose name is unknown at present, who has been stopped at the Holmes place, has been arrested on suspicion. Mrs. Holmes murdered her husband two or three years ago and served a sentence of one year in the state prison.

It now appears that Mrs. Ellen Holmes, who was found dead in her house about 7 miles and a half from Farmington, Wednesday, had been married to Edward Turrell in St. Paul, the previous day. He is now under arrest, awaiting the action of the coroner's jury, which is being held at Farmington today. Thus far it seems that her death was due to taking poison—possibly strychnine—administered by her own hand or by some one else. Murrell was with her in St. Paul when she received some $500 or $600 for the sale of her farm the day previous to her death. It is murder, which money has not been found as yet.

DIED FOR HER CHILDREN.

A Mother Saves Her Family From Burning by Then Perishes.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 20.—News has just reached here of a tragedy at Ironquins, a settlement twenty miles up the shore, Wednesday night. The residence of Benladen, a farmer, caught fire after his six children had been put to bed. Mr. Vanladen was absent. Mrs. Vanladen heroically devoted her efforts to save the lives of the little ones. In this she was rewarded with success but paid for it with her own life. She was fatally burned.

DEFICIENT VENTILATION.

That Was the Cause of a Recent Coal Mine Disaster.

ROSSLYN, Wash., May 20.—The coroner's jury, which has been investigating the cause of the explosion in a coal mine here last week, in which forty-five men were killed, last evening found the explosion was the result of deficient ventilation. The verdict will probably result in a large number of damage suits being brought against the company by relatives of the deceased.

To Increase Its Capital.

CHICAGO, May 20.—From $2,000,000, the National Elgin Watch company contemplates increasing its capital stock to $5,000,000 and perhaps $6,000,000, and to give the present stockholders a stock dividend of nearly or quite 200 per cent. A meeting of the stockholders has been called for June 8, at which this plan will be considered and undoubtedly adopted.

The Crew Saved.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The vessel which was wrecked at Swan Beach on the New Jersey coast yesterday was the American schooner Mary E. Simonds, bound from Norfolk for this city with a cargo of lumber. Capt. John Taylor and his crew of six men were taken from the wrecked vessel by the steamship Old Dominion and brought to this city.

Deeming's Fate Settled.

LONDON, May 20.—The privy council today rejected the appeal of Deeming, the Melbourne and Liverpool wife murderer, from the sentence of the Victorian court. This removes the last chance that the condemned man had of escape from the gallows. The execution is set for May 23.

Democratic Conventions.

The national convention will meet in Chicago, June 21. At this time it will be interesting to recall its predecessors and the nominees from 1860 down:

1860—Met April 23, at Charleston. Balloting began May 1. A portion of the delegates withdrew and on May 3 the convention adjourned to meet at Baltimore, June 18. June 23 a large number of delegates withdrew and nominated Breckenridge and Lane. The regular convention nominated Douglas and Fitzpatrick. Defeated.

1864—Sept. 1, at Chicago. McClellan and Blair. Defeated.

1876—June 28, at St. Louis. Tilden and Hendricks. Defeated.

1880—June 24, at Cincinnati. Hancock and English. Defeated.

1884—July 11, at Chicago. Cleveland and Hendricks. Elected.

1888—June 6, at St. Louis. Cleveland and Thurman. Defeated.

1892—June 21, at Chicago—the nominees you can bet on to suit yourself, only remembering that if you live anywhere North, West, or Southwest of Chicago, The Burlington lines can take you there best and quickest. For rates, tickets, etc., call on any Burlington ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THE SECRET SOCIETIES.

Dr. Hugh Doherty, of Boston, who is the Supreme Medical Examiner of the United Workmen.

A Brother in Buffalo Who Has Been For Forty-Three Years a Member of the I. O. O. F.

Great Preparations for the August Encampment of the Uniform Rank, K. of P., at Kansas City.

The Keystone Workman publishes a portrait of Hugh Doherty, M. D., supreme medical examiner, and says of him: "Besides the position of supreme medical examiner, Brother Doherty has occupied the position of both grand recorder and grand medical examiner of the grand lodge of Massachusetts since its organization. The enviable reputation which this jurisdiction has attained, both as to numbers and quality, largely is due to his care and efficiency in these two important positions. Rarely if ever, do we find combined in one man qualities so diversified with efficiency so complete as that exemplified in Bro. Doherty. The supreme lodge, as well as the grand lodge of Massachusetts, has recognized his ability and merit in his unanimous re-election to the important position of supreme medical examiner since 1888."

Dr. Hugh Doherty was born in Boston, on June 7, 1842. He was educated in the public schools of the city and in 1863 graduated at Williams college, Mass. Immediately commenced the study of medicine and pursued it continuously, with the exception of nine months spent in the United States army as medical cadet, until March, 1867, when he received the degree of M. D. from Harvard university. He also studied medicine abroad and has a diploma for special studies.

I. O. O. F.

A Brother in Buffalo Who Has Been Forty-three Years a Member.

One of the proudest Old Fellows in Buffalo is Bro. F. Persch, of Wabasha lodge. He recently celebrated his seventy-second birthday, and as he has been a member for forty-three years and always devoted, the event was duly recognized. The lodge presented him a set of appropriately engraved resolutions. From Enriched Rebekah Degree lodge he received a gold headed cane, while the canton serenaded and presented him with a gold veteran's badge.

The Old Fellows' home, of Massachusetts, is nearly ready for occupancy. It will soon be dedicated.

Illinois has aided the movement in aid of a sanitarium at Jacksonville, Fla., to the extent of nearly $400.

The old flagpole on the old temple in Baltimore was taken down and refitted and placed on the temple dedicated in that city on the 26th of April.

During 1891 the order distributed in relief $1,500,000, and since the foundation of the order $46,000,000.

The Old Fellows of Hartford have in view the erection of a temple. A stock company is to be formed with a capital of $100,000 for the purpose.

The membership of the Rebekah branch outnumbers the Patriarchal branch over 17,000.

Great dissatisfaction is expressed at the Old Fellows' building in Providence. It seems to be lacking in proper facility, and there is too much waste of room.

The grand master of Ohio is allowed $2,700 per annum for his services and expenses, and devotes his entire time to the order.

In 1891 Pennsylvania started with one lodge and five members. It now has over 100,000 members and more than 1,000 lodges.

In fourteen years Old Fellowship has nearly doubled its numbers.

In one week of March dispensations were granted for the institution of six lodges in the state of New York.

The total number of expulsions in Ohio for the past year was 75. Of that number 22 were for drunkenness, 1 for loitering about saloons and 1 for keeping a place where intoxicating liquors were sold.

Great Falls (N. H.) Old Fellows are discussing a project to build a block, 100 by 70 feet, with stores in the first story, a cozy opera house in the second, a hall in the third, with banquet rooms, etc., in the fourth.

Louisiana will show a larger gain for the past term than for many years past.

MASONIC.

Bro. Edward Mitchell, Late Grand Treasurer of Canada—Notes.

Bro. Edward Mitchell, grand treasurer of the grand lodge of Canada in the province of Ontario, is deceased. He had held many Masonic and capitol offices and also some in the Order of the Temple and in the Scottish Rite. He was the first Mason in Canada who received the degrees and grades of the Scottish Rite, the date being Sept. 22, 1838.

The grand lodge of Egypt is composed exclusively of lodges of Free and Accepted Masons, and has jurisdiction of only the three ancient craft degrees. It has 34 lodges under its jurisdiction, none of which sprang from the Grand Orient of France.

A Masonic temple is proposed in London on the site of Her Majesty's theater. If the plans are carried into effect it will be a building of large proportions, as $3,000,000 is to be expended.

A new Masonic temple has been dedicated at Jacksonville, Fla.

It is claimed that the oldest original Masonic minute book in America has been discovered at Media, Pa.

Lulu temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, of Pennsylvania, has over 2,000 members.

The grand lodges of England, Scotland and Ireland have officially recognized the grand lodge of Egypt, and appointed grand representatives for it.

The charters held by Masonic bodies are generally in possession of the executive officers. They are never framed and hung on the walls, as is the case in other fraternities.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The August Encampment of the Uniform Rank at Kansas City.

The encampment of the uniform rank at Kansas City in August will be a very grand affair. Judging from the success of other similar events, and also from the correspondence already received, very conservative estimate of the number of uniform rank men who will encamp in Kansas City the week of Aug. 29 will reach at least 50,000. There are many who are confident that the number will be 10,000 more than that, while some hope for as many as 40,000. It is also conservatively estimated that 100,000 visitors will be in Kansas City during the entire encampment, and on the parade day not less than 150,000. The entertainment of these people will cost them about $1,000,000. It is too far ahead to determine, except in a general way, what the week's programme may be. It is certain that there will be numerous competitive drills every day during the encampment, and perhaps for several days after the camp is broken, as the prizes are numerous and the contestants will also be many. The first prize will be $1,500, to go to the division giving the best drill, each member of which will get a silver knight's jewel. The second best division will secure a prize of $1,000 and the third $500, and from that figure the prizes will decrease $100 each step to the lowest general prize, which will be $100. The commander of the best division will get a jewel valued at $100. The division that reaches Kansas City from the most remote point by the shortest route will secure a prize of $500. The commander of the best battalion will win a handsome field officer's sword, the gift of Major General Camahan. The oldest knight in the drills on field day will win $50. One day will be given up entirely to the parade. It is believed that not fewer than 30,000 uniform knights will be in line. It will require at least six hours for the ranks to pass a given point. One evening will be set apart for the display of fireworks, for which $1,500 will be expended.

The uniform rank increased last year over 7,000 members.

Missouri has nearly 14,000 members, distributed in 185 lodges.

Bradford, Pa., has a new lodge.

Since the last session of the Ohio grand lodge petitions for 64 new lodges have been received.

Ohio will soon have a mounted uniform division.

Savannah Knights of Pythias are in a very prosperous condition.

Kansas has recently instituted 6 new Pythian lodges.

Since Jan. 1 15 dispensations have been granted for new lodges in the state of Ohio.

The lodge at Russellville, Ky., has purchased a corner lot and will erect a three story hall.

A history of the order, compiled by Bro. F. Dowd, will soon be published.

The committee of the grand lodge will redistrict the state of New Jersey.

The president of the city council of St. Louis, the Hon. C. P. Walbridge, has allied himself to the order.

A Pythian temple in Cincinnati is a probability. The question is being agitated, and practical steps toward a realization of the hopes of the membership are fairly under way.

The Knights of Pythias of Des Moines have organized a "Pythian bureau," of whose duty it will be to look after sick and distressed knights, either residents of their city or transient, and to render them such aid as their respective cases may need. To that end they have adopted a constitution and bylaws, elected officers, established a central office and propose to do their part of true, practical Pythian kindness.

AMERICAN LEGION OF HONOR.

How the Order's Finances Were Handled During 1891—Notes.

Disbursements during 1891: Losses and claims, $2,790,500; relief benefits, $113,500; surplus of emergency fund, $104,537.60; salaries of officers, $10,074.96; employees, $10,655.00; rent, $2,000; taxes, $111; advertising and printing, $6,081.94; session supreme council, $10,607.68; postage, $2,687.36; supplies, $5,500.00; loans returned, $5,000; general expenses, $919,005; total, $3,012,935.10.

In 1891 6,022 certificates were written up and 7,341 ceased to be in force.

There were 954 deaths last year.

Total number of certificates in force Dec. 31, 1891, 61,353.

The order is stronger today than it ever was and new councils and the increase in old councils will make a splendid showing at the close of the present term.

The total amount at risk the beginning of the year was $16,655,500.

Bro. G. H. Miller, well known as an active member of the A. L. of H., has been selected as supervisory deputy supreme president of the National Benevolent legion.

United council No. 1,035, of New York, the largest council in the order, has initiated from 10 to 15 candidates at every meeting since the 1st of January.

Foresters.

New courts by the dozen are forming westward. New Jersey seems to be doing better already opened by the third executive council of that state, and if the rest of the courts in New Jersey should get half the boom Court Hamilton, of Jersey City, has enjoyed for the past year there would be no courts instituted in the state—at least until the population increased by birth or removals. Court Hamilton numbers within a few of 1,000 members, and at its quarterly meetings takes in over $1,000.

Dr. J. Donohue is proud of the honor of being the oldest Forester in Hoboken.

There is only one sanctuary in Rhode Island.

Past grand chief rangers of New York have been granted the privilege of a seat in the grand court with right to speak and vote as regularly accredited delegates.

Woodmen of the World.

A very fine monument has been prepared, costing $100, that will be placed over the grave of William H. Leonard, a member of Alpha camp, of Omaha, who died and was buried at El Reno, O. T.

Governor Ira Chase, of Indiana, has joined the order, and it seemed to prove a crowning card, as the membership has increased more rapidly since his debut.

Eight hundred new members have been admitted during the month of March.

The Aecia club, Buffalo, composed of Master Masons, has 500 members and the apartments of the club in the new temple are said to be the handsomest in the state.

Sixty-one lodges in Kentucky are delinquent on returns of officers elected and installed for 1892.

HER AWFUL MISDEEDS.

A Mexican Widow Who Has Tortured Little Orphan Girls to Death Is Now on Trial.

Heartrending Treatment of Her Victims that Showed Evidence of the Most Fiendish Instincts.

The History of a Monster to Whom Summary Punishment May be Meted Out Before Long.

If the world has ever produced a female possessed of more fiendish instincts than the Mexican widow, Guadalupe Martinez de Bejarano, the criminal records have failed to make any mention of her. Lucrécia Borgia was regarded as a very demon, but she practiced her horrible poisonings upon men, and she at least gave her conscience the pitiable excuse that it was necessary for her purposes that those whom she "removed" should be put out of her way. But "La Bejarano" has not even that flimsy pretext to extenuate her awful atrocities. What she does seems to be the result of the most inexplicable perversion of the moral sense.

Her approaching trial in the City of Mexico for having caused the death of Crescencia Purda, a girl of twelve summers, has attracted attention to some of her past misdeeds, for one of which she was convicted of murder.

The crime which first attracted attention to the doings of this monster occurred in 1878. On the 17th of June of that year a young girl, Catarina Juarez, died in one of the hospitals in the City of Mexico as a result of the injuries received at the hands of "La Bejarano."

The history of the sufferings of the poor girl, covering a period of several months passed in the service of her torturer, is perhaps unequalled in the annals of crime. She was made to endure every cruelty and privation which the malignity of an ingenious fiend could suggest or inspire. Hunger, exposure, blows, burns, scalds, pin thrusts, cuts and every other atrocity that can be inflicted without causing death were the daily lot of this unfortunate girl. She dared not complain. Widow Bejarano passed before her neighbors as a good soul, who had taken upon herself the task of bringing up a refractory and vicious child, who repaid her efforts with idleness and disobedience. The time came, however, when the comedy played before the scenes would no longer cover the hideous tragedy enacted behind them.

The insidious diseases which confinement, ill treatment and loathsome food had bred in the body of the poor girl reached their climax, and the health authorities ordered her removal to the hospital, where she died. The marks of blows and the scars of wounds were still fresh upon her. When first taken to the hospital, the fear and influence of her tormentor being still fresh upon her, she made evasive answers to all questions. But kind treatment and the knowledge that death was near gave her courage to reveal the infamous causes of her condition and the author of all her sufferings. The unfortunate child died a few days after giving the startling information.

Widow Bejarano's arrest, trial, conviction for murder and sentence of thirteen years' imprisonment speedily followed. When she was locked up her fellow prisoners were with difficulty restrained from tearing her limbs from limb. By some inscrutable provision of the Mexican law this wretch obtained a pardon, and in 1886 walked forth, free to continue her torture of female orphans, who were her only victims. Her approaching trial is for having caused the death of a child of twelve, whose birth out of wedlock ought to have excited at least a spark of pity. It was a repetition of the former crime, with but the variations of time, place and subject, and perhaps some new devices of cruelty which Widow Bejarano had conceived and matured during her long confinement in jail. Among these may be cited the dragging of the child across the floor, the application of burning matches to the exposed parts of her body and her confinement for hours at a time under the floor of the room, there to fight for her life with mice and vermin and breathe the fetid air of her damp surroundings. The conviction of "La Bejarano" is regarded as certain, and it would surprise no one to read some day that the people of Mexico had summarily meted out to this monster the punishment she so richly deserves.

A Drunken Bulldog.
Only a few English people can have known Tom, a bulldog, who was, however, very well known in Bordeaux, but total abstainers, says a London paper, for whom his tale will point a moral, will not be alone in lamenting his fate. He was the constant companion of the Bordeaux landladies, and some months ago one of them offered the dog some of the absinthe she was sipping. Tom approached it dubiously, tasted it, found it to his liking and finished it. From that day he was a ruined dog. He took anything that was offered him—rum, brandy, cognac, kirsch—and every evening, by about 6 o'clock Tom was intoxicated. But the other day Tom became suddenly taciturn, notwithstanding all the advances made to him, and he turned from his liquor. Some hours afterward he was discovered trying to swallow his hind leg, and his master, much disturbed, took him to a veterinary surgeon, who put it back to hydrophobia.

The Kissing Is Satisfactory.
It seems that the male of perverted instincts is not to have a monopoly of shameful notoriety. From Carthage, Mo., comes the news that a buxom woman, known as "Jill the Kisser," lurks in lonely places around the town, pines upon unwary male pedestrians and kisses them. There is great excitement, but when a meeting was called by the citizens to devise ways and means to put a stop to the osculatory attacks, only one individual put in an appearance, and he had been recently voted a medal as being the homeliest man in the neighborhood.

"Sit lux et lux tui."—"Let there be light and there was light," surrounding the meridian sun is the inscription on the apron of the grand master of Pennsylvania.

Baby's Things Never Stolen.

Dozens of baby carriages stand parked along the pavements of Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets in front of the big retail stores on pleasant afternoons. Sometimes there is a baby in one or more, but they are usually empty of infantile life stock. The rest of the family paraphernalia is invariably left to take its chances in the street while the owner of the outfit assaults the bargain counter. There is that one thing, measurably safe in New York—"baby's things." If other people's children are not exactly sacred in a woman's eyes she entertains a sentiment as to her own offspring which scorns the belongings of another baby. She is more than apt to look askance upon every passing perambulator as the possible precursor of fever, whooping cough, measles or some other dire affliction common to infantile mankind, and give it as wide a berth as circumstances may allow.

It would be a poor investment for the industrious and nimble fingered shoplifter to take "baby's things," even if he got a good chance, for there would be no market for them. Even the most refined kleptomaniac, who steals without knowing why, just because she was hungry for the way and cannot help it, knows better than to do that, for she steals only for the home market. This "baby's things" can be left on the crowded sidewalk from luncheon till sundown without danger of loss. And thus they are left from hour to hour every pleasant afternoon, while the mother wrestles with the problem of getting twenty dollars' worth of goods for a ten dollar note; and the wheels of the perambulators grow clean and bright under the constant friction of spring trousers and tailor's gowns.—New York Herald.

Grub Street, London.

Up to the Seventeenth century Grub street was on the outskirts of London. It was a street tenanted by bowyers, fletchers, makers of bowstrings and everything else that appertained to archery. Later on John Fox lived in Grub street, though he did not write his famous "Book of Martyrs" there. Fox's residence in Grub street occurred about 1572. John Speed, the cartographer or archivist, was a resident of Grub street, where he was famous as the most responsible parent, having a family of twelve sons and six daughters. Grub street and Milton street today is noted for its great number of alleys and courts.

From Grub street issued such famous old literary skits as "Jack the Giant Killer," "Tom Hickathrift," "The Wise Men of Gotham" and scores of others now a part of every boy's library. Probably literary men first began to populate Grub street in any numbers during Cromwell's time. Then a great number of seditious and libelous pamphlets were circulated, and as the authors, for safety, had to seek obscure living places, they found a fitting retreat in the maze of alleys which welled the Grub street section. At any rate, by the commencement of the Eighteenth century Grub street had become quite notorious as the poor authors' quarter of London. All the authors, except a very favored few, were poor then. The life of a Grub street author was that of a modern tramp, only he did more work and obtained fewer square meals. But they were true Bohemians always.—Collector.

Boiling for Salt.

The process of salt extraction is not without interest. The boring operations are commenced from the surface where there are indications of salt bearing strata, a shaft being sunk after the manner of an ordinary well. In the section that I myself have seen the upper layers consisted of alluvial deposits of the peaty black soil, which rested on about a hundred feet of red marls, some bands of which became hard rock, varying in different layers from deep red to gray or even blue argillaceous marls. At the base of this stratified but unfossiliferous rock the steel rods struck a hard calcareous mass, rebounding as they came in contact with the matrix. This was an indication that the gypsum bands had been reached, intermixed with irregular agglomerations of rock salt. Beneath this obstruction the hollow reservoirs exist, the rock salt and gypsum forming a roof, as it were, to the caverns below. Immediately the hard mass has been pierced, a stream of the strongest brine wells forth with such a sudden rush that men have often a difficulty in effecting an escape to avoid disaster. The brine is of such a density that common table salt will not dissolve therein, and an egg will roll on the surface of the water.—Gentleman's Magazine.

A Successful Physician's Advice.
Dr. Minot illustrates the folly of incessant work by the case of the late brilliant Dr. Golding Bird, of London.

A few months before his death a professional friend, Dr. Routh, had occasion to call on him. The waiting room was full, and it was three hours before Dr. Routh gained admission. Naturally he made some remark about his friend's great popularity.

"Yes," said Dr. Bird, "you see me, at a little over forty, in full practice, making my several thousand pounds per annum. But I am today a wreck. I have a fatal disease of the heart, the result of anxiety and hard work. I cannot live many months, and my parting advice to you is this: 'Never mind at what loss, take your annual six weeks' holiday. It may delay your success, but it will insure its development. Otherwise you may find yourself at my age a prosperous practitioner, but a dying old man.'"

The Gender of the Eagle.
Miss Shaw denounced man's disposition to claim everything at a woman's convention in Kansas City. "Why," she said, "there's Old Abe, the bald eagle—the men named him Abe. They say 'he' stretches and 'he' stretches his wings; 'he' does this and 'he' does that. He was carried through the war and then taken to the Centennial. He was pointed out to the youth of the land as the emblem of liberty. The truth is, after Old Abe was taken to Madison, Wis., he got tired of doing nothing and went to laying eggs."—San Francisco Argonaut.

How to Give Medicine to a Cat.
It is next to impossible to give a dog or a cat any liquid medicine or powder, and the only proper way is to mix the medicine with butter, lard or some greasy substance and smear the mixture from time to time upon their noses. They at once begin licking off this unpalatable substance with their tongues, and in a few moments an effectual dose of the most nauseous compound can be administered.—Interview in Philadelphia Press.

A Singular Distinction.
George Eliot tells of a woman whose distinction consisted in the fact that she once had the cholera, and she never felt that she was assigned to her proper rank with a new acquaintance until she had imparted that information and enjoyed the sensation that it made.—Boston Commonwealth.

SAVED
THE ENGINEER.

Harry Miller, an engineer stopping at the Norris House, at 112 East Superior street, this city, has been afflicted for four or five years with loss of self-confidence, nervousness, sleeplessness, pain in the head and back, flabbiness of the muscles and cold clammy sweats and was, at the time he began treatment with Dr. Speer, four months ago, a total wreck, both in his physical and nervous system. He is now wholly recovered and stands ready to go before any justice of the peace and swear to the facts above set forth. Dr. Speer's office is in the New York block in West Superior.

KENDALL FOR CONGRESS.
Dr. Fred Barrett's Paper Comes Out in His Support.

The Vermilion Iron Journal of this week, which reached the city this afternoon, declares in favor of Hon. H. C. Kendall as the representative nominee for congress. The Journal says he was not its first choice, but matters have reached a point where it cannot insist upon personal preferences, and as Mr. Kendall is evidently the choice of the majority of the Republicans of St. Louis county, that settles it for the Journal. It concludes as follows:

"Mr. Kendall is the most available man under the circumstances. He is capable, honest, loyal to Duluth, his home, loyal to the Republican party and its principles, loyal to the Republican party and its principles, and a vote getter on account of his personal popularity. If there are any Republicans who oppose him let them come out and say so and give their reasons—or forever after hold their peace."

A HIGH PRICE.
The Jury gives William McKay For His Thumb.

The jury in the United States court brought in a verdict for $500 against the Northern Pacific railway for the loss of his thumb. The case of Malcolm against Gustave Herman et al. has been on trial today and yesterday afternoon and will not be finished this week. At the trial last fall when the verdict for $250 was set aside the case was on for four days.

The court has now received an additional appropriation for this term and will be in session until June 4, if necessary. It was feared last week that court would have to be adjourned after this week as there would be no money to meet the expenses.

NEGLIGENT ATTORNEYS.

Some of Them Will be Prodded by Judge Stearns for Failing to Return Borrowed Papers.

They Get the Papers in Cases on the Order of Judge and Forget to Bring Them Back.

United States Court Will Probably be in Session Until June 4, More Money Having Been Received.

Some of the attorneys in Duluth will be a little bit surprised in the course of a day or two, probably Monday, to receive an intimation from Judge Stearns that they will be liable to serious trouble if a number of files of district court cases, which they have been allowed to take away, are not returned at once. It has been a custom in certain cases to allow attorneys to take away such papers as they desire in connection with their cases, from the files of the clerk's office upon presentation of an order from either of the district judges, and a large number of attorneys have grossly abused this privilege. Some records of the earliest cases in the county's history are missing and in a number of instances, not only every one of the papers, but even the case envelopes and wrappers are entirely gone. Some of the case files which are thus made incomplete relate to matters worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, and some of the attorneys who have taken the records have left the city. The attorneys, too, have been very careless in returning papers to their proper envelopes, necessitating a great deal of search for them, and this recent discovery will probably result in a court order that no papers in future shall be allowed to leave the clerk's office under any circumstances. Some of the papers have been absent two or three years. The list of missing court files, with the attorneys' receipts for them, were placed in Judge Stearns' hands this morning and he will round up the delinquents at a very early day in no very gentle manner.

WORK OF THE STORM.

Several Residences Are Damaged by the Heavy Rain.

One of the worst landslides as a result of the recent storm occurred at the rear of Judge Stearns' residence on Superior street. The judge's house faces on London road and the rear portion of the lots touch Superior street. Immediately back of the property the south side of the dam near the boulevard in for about 100 feet and slid upon the judge's lots destroying the grass terrace, inundating the judge's pet chicken coop and threatening the carriage house and barn. The damage is considerable, but the judge only asks the board of public works to repair the slope and remove the sea of mud.

A 2-story frame dwelling house on East Third street near Eighth avenue, owned by George Tischler, was blown down by the wind. It was vacant and had been raised to put in a stone foundation. The rush of water caused by the breaking of the dam near the boulevard on Thirteenth avenue west, damaged Robert Benson's house to the extent of $150 yesterday and the residence of Mrs. Catherine Krejmer was damaged about $500.

OVER TWO CENTS ADVANCE.

Bullish News Today Sends Wheat On the Up Grade.

A strong, dull and advancing wheat market prevailed in the early hours today. The news received was mainly of a bullish nature. Cables were steady and reported an improved demand, while wheat reports from the wheat country continued discouraging. Two inches of snow were reported from Fargo and snows were also reported from Western Minnesota. The movement of grain here is now very light from outside sources.

Light as it has been during this crop year. The market after noon was very dull until just before the close, when it became quite active, especially in July. The close was 2 to 2 1/2c higher than yesterday for cash and 2 1/2 to 2 3/4c higher for futures. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard cash 87 1/2, July 87 1/2, June 88, July 89 1/2, No. 1 northern cash 85, May 85, July 85 1/2, July 86 1/2, No. 2 northern cash 78, No. 3, 74. Rejected 62. On track, No. 1 hard 87 1/2, No. 1 northern 86 1/2.

The Baby's Eyes.
I quote from L. W. Fox, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.: "In infancy, when the child is developing, the one great avenue to the unfolding, or more properly speaking, the development of the intellect is through the eye. The eye at this period holds in abeyance all the other senses. The child, when insensible to touch, taste, smell or hearing, will become aroused to action by a bright light or bright colors, or the movement of any illuminated object, proving to all that light is essential to the development of the first and most important sense."

con, indignantly answered: "That is not true."

Mr. Deacon went on with his statement as follows: "I told her in January to get a divorce from me as it would be better for herself and the children. She refused to take any steps toward a divorce. Mr. Deacon's statement as well as his manner evidently impressed the jury and court. Mr. Deacon added in further reply to the judge: "The detectives whom I employed described another man as having privately visited the restaurant Chevillard in Paris in company with my wife. It was afterwards said that the man was Abelle. I changed the detective who had made a bundle of the case." Judge Aubertine: "It is a pity that you did not follow up the statement of the detective. Abelle might in that case be alive, and I might not have been dealing with this unhappy affair."

Procureur Dumoir stated the story that Mr. Deacon had found compromising letters in his wife's desk at Newport in 1888. Mr. Deacon admitted that he had discovered such letters. They were without signature, but in a familiar handwriting and he believed that they were from Abelle.

Judge Aubertine: "Why did you leave your wife alone at Cannes?"
Mr. Deacon: "My funds were low and I was waiting for money at Paris. On going to Cannes afterwards I found Abelle's name on the register of the hotel at which my wife was stopping. I spoke to my wife about it and she denied that she was responsible for M. Abelle's presence there."

Mr. Deacon proceeded to describe the scene of the fatal night at the Hotel Splendide. The closest silence reigned when he began to tell the story and every eye was directed to him, while the deepest interest prevailed. He spoke calmly and without emotion, although there was a slight quiver in his voice as he dealt with the tragedy. "My wife and I," he said, "had separate rooms at the Hotel Splendide. I went to my wife's room at midnight. As I approached the door I heard within the voice of M. Abelle. I ran to my room and got a revolver. I then went to the secretary of the hotel and asked that he accompany me. Together with the secretary I went to the door of my wife's apartments and demanded entrance. I said that unless the door was opened I would break it open. Mrs. Deacon opened the door. She was attired in her night dress and held a candle in her hand. I entered the room, proceeded to examine and see if any one was there. I found M. Abelle crouched behind the door. I fired at him twice, then I told the secretary of the hotel to call the police. When I saw the poor miserable Abelle looking so pitiful in his wounded condition I regretted the deed."

General applause greeted this avowal of Mr. Deacon. Judge Aubertine steadily repressed the demonstration. He said that order must be preserved and he would expel from the courtroom any person who should again give utterance to any expression of applause or of disapproval.

A recess was taken at noon. At the afternoon session, a deposition by Mrs. Deacon was taken in which she denied having been intimate with M. Abelle. The clerk of the hotel Splendide testified that when Deacon entered the room he was shooting Abelle the bed showed that it had been occupied by two persons.

THE THEATRICAL WORLD

This Week a Quiet One at Duluth Theaters, With But Two Attractions Offered.

"Ole Olson," the Georgia Minstrels and Hallen & Hart Will be at the Temple Next Week.

Gossip About Prominent Stage People, Their Doings and Future Movements and Intentions.

This week has been a very light one at the theaters and the audiences have been small. Corinne was the only attraction at the Temple and drew a good audience the first night, but the miserable weather prevented a good attendance Wednesday. The appearance of the Chicago Lady Quartet was the only event at the Lyceum and this was not under the management of the house.

The audience was small, the weather again interfering, but the concert was a deserving one and ought to have had a good house.

Next week will not be very lively theatrically. The Temple will have "Ole Olson" Monday night, the Georgia Minstrels Wednesday and Hallen & Hart, the popular comedians, in "Later On" Saturday night. The Lyceum has nothing coming, but the house has been taken for three nights, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday for the Father Chiquity lectures.

"OLE OLSON" COMING.

The Noted Swedish Dialect Comedy at the Temple Monday.

"Ole Olson" will be at the Temple Opera house Monday, May 23. Ole Olson is not a man, but a play. Not a Swedish play, but a roaring comedy, with a Swedish character as the central figure. This is the first play of its kind ever produced, and really one of the genuine novelties of the season. Americans find a fund of humor in the Swedish character, and the play is said to draw heavily on this fund. "Ole Olson" is a comedy, pure and simple, in every sense of the word, and is much different from most so-called comedies in that it has a well-defined plot that carries the story through to a successful and reasonable ending. In every large city where "Ole Olson" has been presented, it has met with phenomenal success; and the novelty of the character has been one of the hits of the season. The cast is an unusually strong one, and includes such artists as Ben Hendricks, who for the past three seasons has shared the honors with Minnie Palmer in "My Sweetheart." Mr. Hendricks is a handsome and graceful young actor, and he is said to speak Ole's lines with a dialect which is almost perfect. Alice Evans plays a saucy, sparkling soubrette part in a very winsome way, and is a charming feature of the entertainment. The National Swedish lady quartet is also with the company.

ROYALLY WELCOMED.

Brilliant Reception of Jeannie Winston in Baltimore.

The Jeannie Winston Opera company opened their season in Baltimore Monday evening, May 2, where they will play an engagement of three weeks. They will then play a week of one night's stands between Baltimore and Chicago. They are booked to play at the Temple Opera house in this city for four nights and a Saturday matinee, beginning Wednesday, June 1. The Baltimore American, in recording the successful appearance of the company there, says of the two principals:

"Fresh from Europe, crowned with laurels abroad, more vivacious than ever, if possible, Jeannie Winston was royally welcomed by a house full of people at the Lyceum last night. She appeared in 'Fra Diavolo,' impersonating the brigand in her own characteristic manner. In the second act, after one of her solos, flowers in profusion were showered upon her. For every rose and lily of the beautiful bouquets she got there was a plaudit on the part of the audience, and many more besides. Miss Winston was supported by a strong company. Sharing the honors of the evening with her were Miss Alice Johnson in the role of Zerlina, a part for which her beautiful soprano voice, her comeliness and grace of figure are peculiarly adapted."

The company will open here in "Bocaccio," which is a big spectacular operatic production and gives Miss Winston a grand opportunity to display her great operatic and dramatic talent. "Prince Methusalem," "Queen's Lace Handkerchief" and "Fra Diavolo" will also be presented during the engagement here. Miss Winston will assume the role of the romantic robber, Fra Diavolo. She is the only lady in America that has ever sung this role in Auber's superb, romantic opera. Manager Condon is very enthusiastic over this engagement and feels sure that the Jeannie Winston Opera company will be the best thing in a musical line that he has ever offered to the Duluth public.

Georgia Minstrels.

The Georgia Minstrels will be at the Temple next Wednesday evening. They come from St. Paul and Minneapolis where they have been playing to big houses and have been given flattering notices by the press. The organization has some of the best known minstrel men in the country and gives an excellent entertainment. The singing is especially fine, the dancers are exceedingly clever and the specialties are of the newest and best.

"LATER ON."

Hallen and Hart in Farce Comedy at the Temple Saturday.

There are good times ahead for the sensitive theatrical observer in the performance announced for the Temple next Saturday, May 28. Hallen and Hart, two of the most successful of all those who have devoted their talents purely to farce comedy, will present their new version of the famous skit, "Later On." These capable humor-makers are now so well known and liked that no special flattery is necessary to attract general interest. Aside from their own individual merits, they have always surrounded themselves with the cleverest of performers and singers, with the result of an entertainment that has stood out among the rest of its class with singular virtues and success. This year they have added to the many bright musical numbers and humorous incidents of the variegated piece of last year, with a view of making an even greater success of the firm name in their cherished skit, "Later On." The company numbers twenty-two people, all of whom are active members, and who can sing, dance, and entertain. The costumes are new and attractive in design, and the girls who form the chorus have been chosen with a line regard to looks as well as voice, and nearly, if not quite all the music, songs, and dances are original.

Stage Gossip. Mme. Modjeska is said to be writing a book of her stage experiences. The Actors' Fund fair has added $186.50 to the treasury of that excellent charity.

The partnership between John L. Sullivan and Duncan R. Harris will terminate in two weeks. Sullivan will be the sole proprietor as well as the sole star of his dramatic company.

Manager Henderson has engaged Bessie Cleveland for the title role of "Ali Baba," at the Chicago Opera house. He has also retained Ida Mülle, Eddie Foy, Emma Mülle, Henry Norman, Dan Hurt, Arthur Dunn, Babette Rodney, Bessie Lynch, Frankie Raymond, Annie Dacre, Adda Deveses has also been engaged. Martha Imler will be the premiere danseuse.

Clarence Dow, the husband of Millie Price, has become a private soldier in Uncle Sam's army at $12 a month. He was assigned to the band of the First United States Infantry and will toot the cornet, which, it is said, is about the only thing the young man can do fairly well.

Langtry is once more on exhibition in London, where she is said to have made a hit in a play called "The Fringe of Society," presented by Charles Wyndham's company. In France the play is known as "Demi-Monde," but it has been mal-treated by the adapter who was ashamed to put his name on the play bill.

Maurice Barrymore will support Mrs. Bernard Beere next season when she makes her American tour under the management of Marcus Mayer, beginning Nov. 14, next.

Young Alexander Salvini is playing to magnificent audiences in Boston, and the newspapers say he never played to better advantage than in "The Three Guardsmen."

Jacob Litt has changed the name of his new play, in which Annie Lewis will star, from "A Nutmeg Girl" to "A Nutmeg Match."

Charles B. Hanford has left the Julia Marlowe company, and is busy with preparations for his tour next season as Marc Antony with the Booth-Barrett scenic production of "Julius Caesar." He has engaged E. R. Spence to play Cassius.

Henry E. Dixey has finished his tour in "The Solicitor," and is spending his vacation at Boston.

Milton Noble's new comedy for Roland Reed is entitled "For Revenue Only," and is a satire on politics and campaign journalism.

Charles Hoyt is writing a play satirizing the bold warriors of peace who enroll as militiamen in order to avoid jury duty.

It is said that Henry Irving wished to produce a play at the London Lyceum founded on the line of Emmet, the Irish patriot, but was prevented from carrying out his plan by the prohibition of the Dramatic Censor.

An Old Love Story.

The Night wears gems in her long dark hair— Her hair the breeze has just blown away— The silver steps of the dancer she goes— For she dances as one whose heart is close— To a winsome music, swift and bright— And she passes in golden death away— In the flying hair of the wanton night— "Night loved me once," the white Day cries— Night with the stars that strew her hair; But now at my coming she turns and sighs— I break my heart and she will not care— Yet just when the sunset lights the main— And he passes in golden death away— Shyly the night creeps back again— To kiss the eyes of the flying day.

Lazy or Careless.

The conduct of the policeman on the Michigan street beat near Garfield avenue last evening was considerably off color. A drunken man had for some way out on to the trestle of the Eastern Minnesota railway and was staggering along in imminent peril of either falling to the ground, twenty feet below, or being run over by a train if one happened along. Over a hundred people saw the man's condition and danger but the officer refused to go to his assistance even after the man had fallen helplessly across the track. Clerk Campani, of Master Mechanic Rossier's office, succeeded in climbing up on the trestle and leading the inebriate to a place of safety. The only reply the patrolman made to the people was "Oh, he's all right!"

Democratic Conventions.

The national convention will meet in Chicago, June 21. At this time it will be interesting to recall its predecessors and the nominees from 1860 down:

1860—Met April 23, at Charleston. Balloting began May 1. A portion of the delegates withdrew and on May 3 the convention adjourned to meet at Baltimore, June 18. June 23 a large number of delegates withdrew and nominated Breckinridge and Lane. The regular convention nominated Douglas and Fitzpatrick. Defeated.

1864—Sept. 1, at Chicago. McClellan and Pendleton. Defeated.

1868—July 9, at New York. Seymour and Blair. Defeated.

1872—May 4, at Cincinnati. Greeley and Brown. Defeated.

1876—June 28, at St. Louis. Tilden and Hendricks. Defeated.

1880—June 24, at Cincinnati. Hancock and English. Defeated.

1884—July 11, at Chicago. Cleveland and Hendricks. Elected.

1888—June 6, at St. Louis. Cleveland and Thurman. Defeated.

1892—June 21, at Chicago—the nominees you can bet on to suit yourself, only remembering that if you live anywhere North, West, or Southwest of Chicago, The Burlington lines can take you there best and quickest. For rates, tickets, etc., call on any Burlington ticket agent, or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

BEWITCHED BY THE MOTHER.

An Indian Trifler Now Suffering All Kinds of Tortures. SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 21.—The Indian village of Garden River, on the Canadian side, twelve miles from here, is the scene of transactions quite unusual for this day and date and within 400 miles of the greatest city in the world. Briefly, the trouble was caused by the inconstancy of a young buck, the beau of the reservation. He whispered his affections to two young squaws and then only married one of them. This offended the mother of the first maiden, who is a widow, old, wrinkled and uncanny, and who was formerly a medicine woman.

Suddenly the newly married man became violently ill and had terrible spasms. The Indians aver that shot, glass, pebbles and other tortures were actually came out of the offending young buck's eyes. Wabnosh, the chief medicine man of the tribe, was summoned. He pronounced it a clear case of witchery and said the old medicine woman had previously bewitched those at whom she was angry. Wabnosh says he can do nothing unless the old woman gives up her medicine bag, but this the wrinkled squaw refuses to do.

Wabnosh thereupon appealed to the Canadian reservation authorities to search the old squaw's wigwam for the medicine bag. The reservation officials refuse to interfere just now. Wabnosh and his supporters, however, threaten to make a search of the wigwam on their own. While the friends of the old squaw and those who fear her are as determined she shall not be molested. Meanwhile, the bewitched Indian is said to be suffering all manner of tortures and is slowly dying. Trouble is imminent.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

An Action to Compel a Railroad to Haul Leased Cars. ST. PAUL, May 21.—The Pillsbury flour mill syndicate of Minneapolis has begun proceedings by a petition for mandamus in the United States court against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road. The milling company leased a number of cars and loaded them with 200 barrels each of flour. They then presented their bills therefor, and tendered the freight in gold to the railway company, but it refused to accept the money or to transport the cars.

It is contended that this refusal is in violation of the duties and obligations of common carriers, and a mandamus is asked to be issued compelling the defendant to transport certain cars to New York without breaking bulk.

TO RECOGNIZE FREE SILVER.

A Free Coinage Man Will be Appointed WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Harrison has decided to recognize the free silver men by the appointment of one of their number to the proposed international monetary conference. This action will prove to the people of the country that the hue and cry of the silverites to the effect that the conference is against their interests, is untrue. The senator from Nevada will be named by the president as the representative of the silver states.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES

A Story on the Basis of Morals Which Many Are Seeking Outside of the Historic Creeds.

Archdeacon Farrar's Article in the North American Review For June on Westminster Abbey's Future.

Recent Changes Made in the Interest of Good Reading in the Public Schools of Boston

Messrs. Macmillan & Co. are about to issue under the title of "Calvary" an exposition, through the medium of a story, of that scientific explanation of the basis of morals for which many are seeking outside of the historic creeds. It is entirely distinct in theory and mode of treatment from the widely-read novels touching on the religious question, and will take a place among the books most thoughtfully discussed by that increasing class of readers, which finds in the insistent problems of religion and the proletariat the most absorbing interests of the day.

The Argonaut has a London correspondent who is sending that clever weekly a very readable series of letters on "American Ladies in English Society." Not long ago "Piccadilly" described Mrs. Mackay's London home in Carleton House terrace, and that was preceded by a letter on Lady Waterlow. Now, in the Argonaut of May 16 comes a third letter devoted to her grace the duchess of Marlborough. It tells of her early life and her present, and describes her homes with care and elaboration that show intimate knowledge of the American duchess's palaces.

The Quarterly Register of Current History (Detroit, Mich., $1 a year) is entitled to rank as the ne plus ultra of condensation. In this periodical, which begins its second volume with the May number, just issued (120 pages), the reader will find the cream of the world's news presented in a style not dry or statistical, but attractive and readable, giving him a clear idea and a wider grasp than he can get by any other means of the great movements and problems of the day in which he lives. The great care with which Current History is edited, eliminates as much as possible the chances of the creeping in of errors and causes the magazine to approach the ideal of an impartial and reliable record of facts. Many excellent portraits adorn its pages, among which we notice a full-page picture of Chancellor von Caprivi; also very fine artistic portraits of the Pope, Cardinal Manning, Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, ex-President Cleveland, Sir John Thompson, Sir Morell MacKenzie, Walt Whitman and others.

Admirers of "Mansfield Park," "Pride and Prejudice," and the other stories whose domestic charm has won for Miss Jane Austen such a lasting popularity, will be glad to know that Macmillan & Co. are about to publish a new edition of Miss Austen's novels from entirely new plates, with a few illustrations, the set to be complete in ten volumes, issued monthly.

Many acrimonious things have been said by the London correspondents of American newspapers in reference to Dean Bradley's decision that it would be impossible to find space for a memorial to James Russell Lowell within the precincts of Westminster Abbey. In an article which he has written for the June number of the North American Review, Archdeacon Farrar points out that there is really no room for any more monuments in the famous church except two, which are reserved for the two foremost Englishmen of the time—Gladstone and Tennyson. The title of Archdeacon Farrar's article is "The Future of Westminster Abbey."

A large variety of topics are interestingly treated, both descriptively and pictorially, in the June number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly. "St. Louis, the Carnival City of America," is the leading paper, and gives a bright presentation of the extent and splendor as well as the commercial resources and progressive spirit of the Southwest metropolis. In an article entitled "Barriers against Invisible Foes," Frank Linstow White gives a graphic description of the Quarantine Station of the New York harbor, and the vigilant measures in operation there to ward off contagion and epidemic. "Pleasant Life in the Romagna" is in the happiest style, and is accompanied by some of the most charming sketches of its lamented artist-author, Herbert Spencer. Will P. Pond writes of "The Divine Weed"—tobacco. The "Old Cumberland Ford" region, in Eastern Kentucky, is described by S. I. Logan, and "Glimpses of Guiana" are furnished by two recent travelers. The genesis and creation of the late Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" is given in the words of the "Good Gray Poet" himself. Probably the most vivid idea of an earthquake ever given in the compass of a magazine article is that presented by the account of "Earthquake Photographs in Japan," written and photographically illustrated by Professor W. K. Burton, head of the Seismographical Laboratory of the Imperial University at Tokio. There are a number of good short stories and poems.

The latest report of the board of supervisors for the city of Boston, for the year 1890-91, is of great interest. The following indicates what has been recently done in the direction of introducing good literature into the schools of Boston:

"Late, a much-needed change has been made in the interests of good and permanent reading for pupils in the primary and grammar schools, a change similar to the one made in the boys' Latin school fifteen years ago. Beside the regular reader for the first classes in the grammar schools has been placed as a text book 'Masterpieces of American Literature,' and for the first classes in the primary schools has been authorized for use as permanent supplementary reading 'The Book of Fables' (Scudder's).

This change heralds the day, it is hoped, when pupils shall read whole productions that possess high literary merit, instead of reading either 'pieces' or 'bits' from good authors, or productions that are poor both in thought and in style, and that leave the mind empty and listless."

Lights Were Out.

The street electric light wires west of Eighth avenue west were broken about 10 o'clock last night, probably by the heavy wind, and for over an hour the portion of the city circuit between Eighth avenue and Garfield avenue was in inky darkness. The linemen were at once sent out and the break was repaired as soon as possible.

No Encampment.

Owing to the insufficiency of available funds, it is now announced that the Minnesota national guard will not hold an encampment this year, the money on hand being devoted to improving the equipment of the various companies. The members of the Duluth and Lakeside Duluth companies will, therefore, not have to beg leave of absence from their employers.

"A Yard of Pansies."

Here is a chance for everybody to get, free of cost, an exquisite oil picture 36 inches long, a companion to "A Yard of Roses," which all have seen and admired. This exquisite picture, "A Yard of Pansies," was painted by the same noted artist who did the "Roses." It is the same size, and is pronounced by art critics to be far superior to the "Roses." The reproduction is equal in every respect to the original, which cost $300, and is being given free with every copy of the June number of Demorest's Family Magazine. This June number is a grand souvenir number in celebration of the birthday of the publisher, and is worth many times the cost, which is only 20 cents, every purchaser will get, practically free, an exquisite picture; and to those who already have "A Yard of Roses" "A Yard of Pansies" will be doubly valuable, especially as accompanying it are full directions for framing either the "Pansies" or "Roses" at home, at a cost of a few cents. You can get the June number of Demorest's Family Magazine, containing "A Yard of Pansies" of any of our local news dealers; or send 20 cents to the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East Fourteenth street, New York.

AN HONORABLE AMBITION.

Lieutenant Governor Haile Desires to Be Massachusetts' Chief Executive.

Lieutenant Governor William H. Haile, of Massachusetts, is a unique figure in the politics of his state. His tastes are all literary and artistic, rather than political, and yet when the head of the Republican ticket was defeated by Governor Russell Mr. Haile weathered the storm, so that he has served in his present position under one Republican and two Democratic administrations. The secret of Mr. Haile's great strength at the polls is difficult to discover, unless it be that he studiously refrains from interviews which might arouse asperities in either private or public life.

Thus he is, as nearly as mortal, can be a man without enemies. Besides this, his character is absolutely invulnerable, and in the heat of the political campaigns through which he has passed no one has yet attempted to asperse it in the smallest measure. Lieutenant Governor Haile has none of the traits of the average successful politician. His manner is diffident, he does not smoke, chew, drink or drive fast horses, and he is said to be one of the pillars of the church in Springfield, of which he is a member.

Mr. Haile is being discussed very freely just now in Massachusetts owing to the fact that he has announced his willingness to become a candidate for gubernatorial honors against the present governor of Massachusetts, Hon. William E. Russell, who is a Democrat. Mr. Haile was born in Chesterfield, N. H., in September, 1836. His father, William Haile, was the first governor of New Hampshire. The present lieutenant governor was reared in Hingham.

dale, N. H., where he attended the public schools, afterward undergoing a preparatory course at the Kimball Union academy, Meriden, N. H. Then he spent two years at Amherst college, which he left to go to Dartmouth, where he was graduated with signal honor in 1857.

Mr. Haile immediately began the study of law in Springfield, Mass. After a term in the office of Mr. Beach he took a trip to Europe, returning to Boston, where he was admitted to the bar. The practice of law was not to his liking, and he soon gave it up to engage in manufacturing, to which he has devoted himself ever since, with the result that he is today believed to be almost a millionaire. In 1881 Mr. Haile was elected mayor of Springfield. A year later he was chosen to represent his district in the state senate. His excellent record there was what caused the Republicans to select him as their candidate for lieutenant governor half a dozen years afterward. He is married and has a son. His home is one of the most beautiful in Springfield.

Three Bouncing Babies.

Every now and then the newspapers report the birth of a particularly large child, with the statement that "this is the largest infant of which there is any record." Of course all of these reports cannot be correct. The largest infant of which there is any authentic record was born in Ohio, Jan. 12, 1873. This remarkable prodigy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Bates, the father being the "Kentucky Giant" and the mother the "Nova Scotian Giantess." The newborn boy weighed exactly 23½ pounds, was 36 inches in height and had a foot 6 inches in length. The head of the child was 19 inches in circumference, larger than that of the average five-year-old. Prior to the birth of the Bates wonder the London Hospital museum boasted owing the largest child ever born. Their claimant was 24 inches in height and had a head that measured 18½ inches. On Oct. 2, 1881, the wife of a prominent Washington business man gave birth to a child of the following extraordinary proportions: Weight, 22½ pounds; length, 24½ inches; circumference of head, 13½ inches; circumference of hips, 20½ inches.

The Cotton Acreage.

The low prices which have prevailed for some time are having their effect in the appreciable diminution of the cotton acreage throughout the south. Carefully compiled reports based upon letters from the various sections of the cotton states show that the decrease from last year's acreage will be from 20 per cent. upward. In Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Tennessee the average is put at less than 25 per cent, and in the gulf states east of the Mississippi, in Georgia and the Carolinas, it is estimated to be at least as much. Taking the whole south together the decrease in this year's crop as compared with the two previous years is put at at least 25 per cent., and by some judges even higher. With this reduction in cotton acreage has come an increase in the acreage devoted to corn and other food products. In some states the crop of cereals is likely to be the largest ever grown, and more tobacco has been planted than in any previous year. Tobacco planting is growing in favor in some sections of the south.

The Jew's Advancement.

The American Israelite is enthusiastic over the advancement of the Jew, and in the course of a congratulatory article, says: "There has been no other time in history since 1492 when the Jew stood as high in the estimation of the intelligent world as he does now. He marches up to the general's rank in the army, to the legislative halls and governing cabinets of the greatest nations of this century. He occupies prominent chairs in the most renowned universities of the world, stands at the head of the public press even in Germany and Austria, is honorably represented in every temple of art and in every department thereof, and is known the world over as a peaceable, temperate, industrious, law abiding man."

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
May 21.—An area of high pressure, or clearing weather is now over and covering the entire Northwest while the storm which has covered
the central part of the country for the past week is moving off the New England coast.
Rain and snow fell yesterday in most all sections, and it is still raining along Lake Erie,
and over Kansas and Missouri.
The temperature has fallen, quite decidedly
over the south, registering as low as 36° over Missouri. Frost is reported from Chicago.
Over the Northwest the temperature remains low, ranging from 32° at Pierre, Dak., to 40° in the extreme north. The warmest place in the country, contrary to the usual condition, is Lake Superior, Duluth having the highest temperature reported 54°. Fort Arthur, 52°, and
St. Paul 50°; only two other places report 50°, Indianapolis and Louisville, Ky.

DULUTH, May 21.—Local forecast for Duluth
until 9 p. m. May 22: Generally fair; possibly a light shower, slightly colder today; warmer
Sunday; fresh east to north wind.
B. H. BAUGHMAN, Observer.
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The clearing condition has backed slightly from the gulf of St.
Lawrence to Maine, increasing its magnitude.
The second clearing condition has moved from Montana to Assiniboia. The temperature has fallen in the middle and lower Mississippi valleys, the southwest and the lower lake region;
it has risen in the Northwest, and has remained nearly stationary elsewhere. The rivers are above the danger line and rising. Forecast, until 8 p. m. Sunday: For Wisconsin—Fair, slightly warmer; northerly winds. For Minnesota and the Dakota—Fair till Monday; slowly rising temperature; northerly winds becoming east.

A TWELVE-PAGE PAPER.
The Herald is a twelve-page paper today. This is gratifying evidence of the esteem in which The Herald is held
as an advertising medium, because the increased size is due to the large demands for space made by the enterprising and wide awake merchants at the head of the lakes. It also indicates in an unmistakable manner the rapidly increasing popularity of the Saturday evening paper, which has in a comparatively short time placed it as far in advance of the Sunday papers as The Herald is ahead of the morning papers during the rest of the week.
The Herald also points with pride to
its news and literary columns today.
They will be found complete and interesting. The special features include several of a local character that cannot fail to attract attention, because they show the rapid progress
that Duluth is making in the line of substantial growth and improvement and
the bright future that awaits this section of the country. The weekly letter of Bill Nye, the most popular humorous writer of the present day, is a feature that The Herald feels assured will be much appreciated by its readers. The telegraphic and local columns contain
all the latest news, presented in bright,
breezy and attractive style, while the questions which are uppermost in the public mind are treated in a fearless,
fairminded and independent manner.
Today's edition of The Herald is the largest regular edition which has been published by any Duluth paper for several years. The Herald is the largest paper issued in Duluth every day in the week. The Herald has the largest circulation. The Herald daily publishes more local and telegraphic news than any other paper at the head of Lake Superior. The Herald enjoys the greatest patronage from the merchants who are enterprising and advertise their business.

THE PIEDMONT AVENUE LINE.
It is stated that the Duluth Street Railway company objects to the order
by the council to extend its tracks along Piedmont avenue west from Superior street to Thirteenth street, on the ground
that there are two points of one block
each on the avenue where there is an 11 per cent grade. It must therefore be inferred that the company desires to be relieved from the necessity of building the Piedmont avenue line on account of this so-called heavy grade. The fact is,
however, that it is not a heavy grade, when compared with other sections of the line
now being operated in this city and as compared with lines in other cities.
It is a fact that much higher grades
exist on lines elsewhere, some as high as 17 per cent. On Second street between Third and Fifth avenues west, in this city, there is a 14 per cent grade, yet the cars move along without difficulty.
There is a heavier grade on the Grand avenue line in St. Paul, and Mr. Lowry, who is also interested in the Duluth company, did not raise any objection to the grade there. There is also an equally high grade, if not higher, at several points on the Lafayette avenue line in St. Paul.
There is an urgent necessity for an electric line on Piedmont avenue west.
It would be a convenience to a section of the city where the population is increasing very rapidly, and it would also be the means of adding largely to the number of residents there. If the company cannot produce any better reasons
for declining to obey the order of the council, an opportunity might be given to some other company to build and operate the line.

A correspondent of The Herald thinks that the Duluth street cars should be provided with vestibules as a protection

to passengers from the driving sleet,
such as was experienced in the storm of Thursday. "Doubtless," he naively adds, "this is in the design of the manager."

DULUTH FARED WELL.
Duluth has no reason to complain of the river and harbor bill as it passed the senate yesterday afternoon. This city has fared well, considering the effort
that was made by the senate committee
on commerce to cut down the appropriations. The appropriation for Duluth harbor has been increased from $80,000,
the amount named in the bill by the house committee, to $125,000, and it will probably stand at that figure. The amount for Agate Bay has also been increased from $30,000 to $50,000.
Both these increases are due to the exertions of Senator Davis and Washburn,
who were ably aided by the energetic
work of the Duluth representatives at Washington, Secretary Thompson and Harbormaster Miller, and they deserve
and will receive the thanks of the people of this district.

BORN TO GOOD LUCK.
Editor Smalley, of the Northwest Magazine, says in the May number of that periodical that Duluth appears to be born to good luck and that something always happens to lift her out of every depression into which she falls. The latest stimulus to Duluth's progress, the discovery of high grade ore in almost limitless quantities on the Mesaba range,
has given force to this thought, and the conclusions reached by Mr. Smalley, who is a loyal St. Paul citizen and a man of wide experience and observation, are published in another column of this issue.

It is a good thing to be born to luck of the right kind, and Duluth certainly has been greatly favored by fortune in recent years, so that its progress has received an impetus which cannot be checked. It is, however, a fact that but comparatively few people realize fully
the great and important results which must assuredly follow the development of the giant range. Mr. Smalley appears to have grasped a good idea of the great development of the iron and steel industry which the proximity of this ore
and the small cost of coal brought here by the lake route have made certain for Duluth. There is no reason why, as he says, Duluth will not in the near future
make the iron and steel for the whole Northwestern country.

AN EXPLANATION NEEDED.
The St. Paul Dispatch of yesterday contained the following rather peculiar statement: "The city of Duluth is as nearly owned at the present moment by a syndicate as any western community
can be said to be which has over a thousand population. If it is to be in the future purely a private enterprise the narrow gauge position taken on the subject of that canal will be adhered to."
It is rather difficult to decide at first glance just what this statement is intended to mean. It will be news to the people of this city to hear that Duluth is
"owned at the present moment by a syndicate," and it might be well for the Dispatch to explain what this syndicate is
and of whom it is composed. Possibly our St. Paul contemporary has been thinking of the land syndicate which runs the town across the bay and has accidentally credited it to Duluth. If not,
will it please explain?

DULUTH MISREPRESENTED.
Robert P. Porter, the director of the mass of statistical blunders called the census, has issued another bulletin in which he repeats the inaccuracies regarding Duluth's administrative expenditure per capita. He once more asserts that Duluth's average expenditure
per capita is $26.31, although statements
were sent to him several months ago
showing that these figures were incorrect, being twice as great as the actual expenditure per capita. But Census Bob was evidently too pig-headed to acknowledge his error.
The result cannot be but injurious to Duluth to have such a grossly excessive
per capita expenditure charged up to it
in an official publication of the government. The correct figures were sent to Washington by Comptroller Ten Brook,
and only the blundering stupidity which has characterized every move of the census bureau under Porter's mismanagement could have evolved such an egregious error.

The state supreme court yesterday decided that the law against the sale of unlabeled cottonseed and the like is constitutional. It declares that the provisions of chapter 12, laws of 1891, regulating the manufacture and sale of lard and of lard compounds and substitutes, and of foods prepared therefrom, are valid as a legitimate exercise of the police powers of the state. This decision will strengthen the hands of the food and dairy department in its warfare against the sale
of adulterated articles to the public under the representation that they are not adulterated.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: "Some of the older cities of the East are trying to correct early blunders by arranging for parks. The city of Cambridge asks authority of the legislature to expend $200,000 outside of the debt limit for such purposes. Parks are a necessity in every well ordered city." Duluth is a well ordered city, and hence it is working on an elaborate park system.

The Republicans of Minnesota would be ungrateful if they did not re-elect Hon. R. G. Evans to be national committeeman, on account of his splendid work in securing the national convention for Minneapolis. But frequently ingratitude is found in political parties.

Speaking of mirages on Lake Superior, Julian Ralph says in Harper's: "Men
have told me that they have seen Duluth
when they were 185 miles away from it—
upside down and in the sky, but distinctly Duluth." This was possible, because Duluth is not located in a swamp.

If the Pioneer Press publishes any more spring editorials, an indignant people
will arise and take the law in their own hands. Lynching is to be opposed on general principles, but there are exceptional cases where the law is unable to act with sufficient swiftness.

In a recent interview, Senator Davis expressed himself as opposed to the nomination of Knute Nelson as governor
of Minnesota. What will the Davis Republicans, who have been booming Nelson, say now?

The vested proprietor of the News is evidently feeling real wicked again.
Some one will be tempted to hit him
with a feather and crush in his brains.

THE CHALLENGE ACCEPTED.
A Vigorous Reply to Dr. Strickler's Claims For the Homeopaths.
To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 18th inst. appears
an article entitled, "Homeopathy Ably Discussed," etc., in which the author invites investigation of his statements and assertions. If this paper had not appeared in the public print, I should not have taken the trouble to investigate or to reply, as what takes place during a meeting of a few homeopaths, more or less, is of little account either to the science of medicine or to the world at large; but it seems to me that the challenge is so openly made and the statements and inferences contained therein
are so flagrantly false and misleading,
that it is my duty to accept the challenge
and correct the errors.

I have therefore taken the trouble to look up statistics so far as Duluth is concerned, and it is reasonable to suppose that if there are any flagrant misstate-ments regarding the Duluth statistics I would be no more reliable regarding the others. In the first place, he bases his argument upon false premises, and then
all his conclusions are wrong as a matter of course. I will take his own method of reasoning and examine his statements separately. He says: "The only unknown quantity is the actual number of cases treated by the two schools. The quantity may be approximated by two methods: First, by counting the physicians of the two schools and assuming that the ratio of the two schools is the same number of cases." But this is assuming too much. It is making homeopathy equally popular with regular medicine.
Now there are two ways of determining whether or not the ratio is true. First,
by asking each person practicing medicine just how many patients he treats in a given time, and then drawing a comparison. This is, of course, impracticable;
but the second method which I have adopted is as follows. There are now practicing medicine in Duluth thirty-two (32) physicians and eight (8) homeopaths, or forty in all, making the ratio as one to five.

Now our hospitals are open to all alike, and a record is kept of the number of cases admitted and of the name of the physician in charge, but our hospitals do not keep the record of the number of one-fifth of the patients being treated
by homeopaths, only one in sixty-one are so treated. Of course this hospital includes surgical cases, which are not treated by homeopathy. (Was ever heard of infinitesimal doses of surgery
or of applying the theory of "similia
similibus" to the treatment of a gun-shot wound?) which makes the disproportion
a little large; but deaths from surgical diseases are included in the mortality statistics, so it is fair to include the surgical cases in this list.

Now let us apply the same test to the limited number of contagious diseases reported to the board of health and we find during the first six months of 1891
that there were 514 cases reported, of which only 64 were in 9 2-10 were reported by homeopaths, instead of one in every five, as there should have been,
were Mr. Strickler's assumption correct.
Now the above statements are facts and not assumptions, and these facts mat-
terially alter the statistics and results
given in the above-named article.
I have myself examined the records of the board of health and find the following facts recorded, which I set forth in a tabular form, so that all "candid minds"
may draw their own conclusions. The cases treated by regular physicians I have marked "R," and those treated by homeopaths by the letters "H." I give each of the three diseases which are required to be reported separately and then combine them with a total, so that there can be no possibility of error.

Now, to put it in the language of the article quoted: The homeopaths lost 133 cases where the regular physicians lost 100, and while the regulars were losing 4754 cases, the homeopaths would have lost 6338.6. Shades of Hahnemann! 1886.6 actually saved from homeopathy and death by the "self-styled" regular physicians. In compiling these facts I have not had access either to the records of St. Paul or Minneapolis, but I have taken those within my reach and within the reach of all who read this article;

but I have no reason to doubt that the facts would hold true in those cities the same as in this.
I have no desire to call in question the honesty of the author nor the integrity of the "homeopaths of America," but if Mr.
Strickler reaches conclusions regarding the "reasonableness of homeopathy" by the same line of argument which he used to ascertain if results, I think I can understand why he is a homeopath. And,
by the way, perhaps he will at some future time, and for the good of the public, define homeopathy, as he blames Dr.
Wood for not doing so, and give us some of the "reasonableness" of it.

Women Designers.
From an article in the New York Recorder I find that the first woman carpet designer in the country was Mrs. Elizabeth Cory, of New York. She thought women could make prettier designs for household decorations than men could, so prepared herself by a course of patient study and practice in drawing for the work. Cooper union has given to the world numbers of accomplished women designers in floor
coverings, tableware, dress goods, furniture draperies, etc. American women
now even design patterns for printing
Japanese silks.

The Results of Miscellaneous.
Several years ago William Handolph, a colored laborer, married Eva Upton, then considered one of the handsomest white women in Newark. Their wedded life wasn't proved happy. The other night, in the latest of a long series of fights, Randolph (triflingly cut) Eva's head with a glass butter dish, and when it was finally shattered ripped her face and arms with a sawed fragment. He was trying to kick
her to death when a policeman arrested him.

WHO OWNS THE STOCKS?

Lon Merritt Says the Exchange Should Know Who Controls the Merritt Companies.

The Investigating Committee Examining the Listings May Present Majority and Minority Reports.

Some Ambiguous Sections in the By-Laws Have Been Discovered and May Cause Trouble.

The board of directors of the stock exchange, and in fact the whole exchange, is considerably puzzled over some ambiguous sections of the by-laws just at present. One is in relation to the question of fictitious bidding, and a most palpable error seems to have been made in this. It provides that no bids of less than five cents per share shall be made for stocks having a market value of less than $20 per share. This was undoubtedly intended to mean exactly the opposite.

Another ambiguity is found in section 7, article II, of the constitution, and under his interpretation of this Lon Merritt claims that the appeal made to the exchange against the action of the board of directors was made without any authority.

It says that a majority of all the members of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum, and any decision of the board of directors shall be appealed to the full board on the petition of twenty-five members of the exchange. Now, Lon Merritt maintains that "full board" can only be construed to mean full board of directors while the members opposing him say that this interpretation is preposterous although they admit that there has been an error in not stating specifically that the "exchange" is to be appealed to.

A Herald reporter saw Lon Merritt today and speaking of the exchange trouble he said: "I see that one of the communications in The Herald regarding what are called the Merritt companies: How are the members of the exchange to know that the Merritts hold a controlling interest in any of them? What evidence has the exchange that the control of all these stocks has not passed into the hands of those who are directly opposed to their withdrawal from the exchange? Now, that on the face of it is an admission that the exchange is not fulfilling the object for which it was created and which I have maintained that it has not. It was one of the prime objects of the organization that investors and persons dealing in stocks should know just who does control the stocks of the companies listed. Every sale was to be registered, the exact status of every company and its stock was to be known to the exchange for the information of members. If that has been carried out the exchange ought to know just who does control the Merritt stocks.

The statement is also made that not over 1200 shares of these Merritt stocks have been sold since the exchange was opened. Now that can easily be explained and the reason is that the public does not own, except in two or three companies, any of the Merritt stocks which it is proposed to withdraw, beyond a few shares. Take the Mountain Iron company. There has not been a trade in that stock and why? The public does not hold any of it. When that company was organized $80,000 in fee lands was purchased and $80,000 more was invested in leases. This made $160,000. Stock was issued to the men who put this in on a basis of 10 cents. Later on some money was needed and some more stock was issued, but not to the public. The original shareholders took it all and it was apportioned among them pro rata and today every one of them is holding his stock and you can't buy a dollar's worth of it. Then there is the Biwabik company. This was organized in almost the same way but when it was desired to purchase the McKinley lease $30,000 was needed and $300,000 in stock was sold at 10 cents. This is all the stock in the two companies which has ever come out of the hands of the original shareholders.

"I made the statement, as is pretty well known by this time, that hardly one of the companies listed on the exchange has complied with the rules. This is true, and why does not the exchange expel them? It is because the stocks are wanted on the board, the companies wanted not object to expulsion. But supposing the board should expel them. If this 'appeal rule' is good the members of the exchange who want to dicker in the stocks would simply overrule the action of the board."

The report of the committee appointed to investigate and determine whether the companies whose stocks are being traded in have complied with the rules of the exchange, will be made in a few days. W. B. Wells, H. B. Moore and Lon Merritt constitute this committee. It is quite probable that two reports will be presented, a majority and minority report.

THE COST DETERMINED

Two Hundred Thousand Dollars Will Bring the Missabe Road Through West Duluth.

Dr. Rockwell's Report of the Cost of a Fifty Foot Right of Way From New Duluth to West Duluth.

Some Citizens Express Their Ideas on the Purchase of a Right of Way Through the City.

Dr. Rockwell, of West Duluth, engaged for several weeks past has been engaged in determining the exact cost of getting a 50-foot right-of-way from New Duluth through to West Duluth for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway, made a partial report yesterday, and although his complete report will be a little more definite there will be very little variation from the approximate cost as estimated in this. The cost as determined by Dr. Rockwell will be within a thousand dollars or thereabouts of $200,000. This is for fifty feet from New Duluth to the easterly limits of West Duluth, and will furnish a right-of-way for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, the Duluth & Winnipeg and one other railway. For nearly all of the distance Dr. Rockwell has secured options from the owners running for a certain period, but there are a few from whom he has not yet been able to secure agreements. These are non-residents principally.

When this report is entirely completed the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway will be prepared to make a proposition to the city and county and it will be on the basis of the price as determined by Dr. Rockwell. It may be found necessary to condemn some lands, but on nearly all an amicable arrangement will be made.

The resolution of the council providing for a conference between all the municipal interests on the Minnesota side in St. Louis county and the county itself to consider the purchase by the city and county jointly, of a right-of-way 150 feet in width or more, may cause a change in the situation, however. If the plan is found to be feasible and can be carried through, the difficulty will be entirely solved. A Herald reporter obtained a few interviews and more will be given later.

E. C. Gridley—There is no question in my mind but that the large holdings of the older companies in the central part of the city which embraces dock and terminal facilities amounts to almost a complete bar to any new companies getting in and getting proper facilities without too great an expenditure. If we are to have the benefit of the many roads seeking admission I can see no other way than for the authorities of the city and county providing a right of way through the city. If we were to commence at New Duluth and lay out a street or road, condemning land for street and road purposes, 150 feet wide, keeping on the water side of the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific railways through to Rice's Point and from the right of way to the slips through the road lots which are laid north and south at the end of the slips from Rice's Point to Minnesota Point and from Minnesota Point to Lakeside keeping always on the water side of the present roads I believe that the title to the land can be acquired for less money than it has been proposed to vote to a single corporation. If laid out in this way for street or road purposes the railways coming to use it would have to pay the condemnation damages sustained by abutting property, by reason of the street being diverted from street purposes, but if laid out as I have designated the damage would be very slight. The street or road so acquired should be open to all roads and the rights granted in such a way as to make all trackage built thereon answer the purposes of a general terminal system as far as possible. This would give new companies nearly every advantage now possessed by the old companies, and in my judgment would soon prompt the latter to join in a general terminal scheme. With the acquiescence of the city council and county commissioners this can be accomplished, and they can safely be counted upon to guard the public interests.

A. M. Stearns—The proposed purchase of 100 feet right-of-way continuing from Duluth to Lester Park is an enterprise literally "broad gauge" and worthy of the present and future city. It is true, it will require some cutting into individual interests, but like a pruned tree the common city will realize new life from the treatment and bear abundant fruit in commerce and manufactures. I only hope that private interests will receive careful and fair consideration by both parties in interest, and that funds necessary to purchase the proposed right-of-way, will be cheerfully voted not only by the citizens of Duluth, but by the county which should take pride in the prosperity of its chief city. Certain it is that if individual interests stand in the way of public policy, they will in the end destroy themselves.

Lon Merritt—It is the correct plan, and should it be carried out the Duluth, Missabe & Northern will ask no aid. We should prefer it, as we do not want to ask the county anything if we can get along without it.

K. D. Chase—That is the way to solve the difficulty, and it should be done at once. It is like bucking against a stone wall for a road to get into Duluth after it reaches the St. Louis river. With such a right-of-way to offer, many roads which have been looking toward Duluth will come in. Few people really know the magnitude of the barrier which now besets a road which is trying to enter.

Judge Stearns: I have not given the subject enough consideration to give a very intelligent opinion, but I should say that it is just the thing to do. If it is practicable it should be done at once by all means.

THE RICH LEAD MINES

R. C. Munger Returns From a Trip to His Valuable Property on the North Shore.

It is His Intention to Have the Property Thoroughly Explored at an Early Date.

A Company Formed to Mine Iron and Nickel and Manufacture Nickel-Steel at Duluth.

R. C. Munger, C. F. Howe and others who went to Port Arthur last Sunday, and from there to Black Bay near where Mr. Munger's lead mine is, returned on the steamer Dixon yesterday. They thoroughly examined the property and find that the streak of very rich ore is about five or six feet in width. This is not quite as wide as was reported, but the ore runs from 50 to 90 per cent pure. The vein of poorer ore is about twenty to thirty feet wide and both run for a mile above the surface. In the richer vein the prospectors have gone down twenty-four feet into the ore. Mr. Munger is having his property thoroughly explored and will commence working it very soon.

Nickel Mining Company.
The Merritt Nickel Mining company has been organized with a capital of $2,000,000, and its principal office will be in Duluth. Among its stockholders are Hon. F. W. Johnston, Hon. M. Cotton, N. B. Merritt, F. W. Merritt, W. H. Trescott, F. F. Brett and Martin Wheeler, of Duluth. The company proposes to mine iron and nickel and manufacture the same into nickel-steel at Duluth.

Causes.
"Once," says an old Californian, "when Niles Searls was district judge up in Nevada and Sierra counties the late Judge Belden and I were on opposite sides of a case which was to be argued before him. When we reached Nevada City we found the judge about to depart for Downsville on mule back to hold court there. He made the novel proposition that we should ride over the mountains with him and argue our case on the way. We accepted the suggestion, secured horses and started off on either side of the judge's mule. I opened the case and concluded my argument as we reached North San Juan.

"Then Belden replied. He was very much in earnest, grew quite warm over the case, and didn't conclude until we passed Nigger Tent. Then Judge Searls ruminated a short time and delivered his decision that against Belden. Belden was so much worked up about the case that the decision made all three of us a little uncomfortable for a time and not a word was spoken as we jogged along. Then, just as we rode down to Good-year's bar, the judge broke the strained silence with the remark, 'My mule seems very tired.' 'I should think he would,' replied Belden, 'after getting up such a decision as that.'"—New York Tribune.

THE BUSINESS BLOCKS

Some of the Buildings Which Will be Erected On Superior Street During the Summer.

The Torrey, Pantan & Watson, and Houghton-Gray the More Prominent Ones to be Built.

A Number of Other Substantial and Solid Business Structures Which Are Contemplated.

The season which has but fairly opened will be the greatest city has ever known in the line of building but Duluth is approaching that period when the erection of large numbers of buildings does not receive the notice it deserves. A very few years ago the announcement of the erection of a building like the Torrey block next the Brighton which will be 50 feet in frontage and several stories high would have caused a general rejoicing, but today it is hardly noticed. This building activity extends over the entire city and new structures are going up everywhere. A number of terrace apartment houses will be built and any number of smaller dwellings. At the West End there will be an especially large amount of building.

There has not been a year, however, when such a number of buildings have been erected on Superior street as this year and by the end of the year the store and office room in Duluth will have been greatly increased. The buildings which are going up are all of an unusually solid character, and while there are no skyscrapers to reach heavenward, like Chicago's, it is only because Duluth has not reached the stage of growth which demands them. For the present, the buildings to be erected will be large enough to supply all demand and will be handsome structures architecturally.

The largest building, or rather the highest, which will go up on Superior street this year will be the Torrey block. This will adjoin the Brighton hotel, Capt. R. A. Torrey, of St. Louis, a gentleman who is considerably interested in Duluth property, is the builder. In site the building will be 50 feet in frontage and will run the full depth of the lot, 115 feet. In height it will be six stories on Superior street and about eight on Michigan street. It is designed for a bank and office building and will be a model building. The material used in construction will be brick, stone and iron and the building will be thoroughly fire proof and will compare with the Lyceum. Work on the foundation has already been commenced by Hennessy Bros. & Cox, of Minneapolis, who have the contract. The plans for the superstructure are still in the hands of the architects.

The Pantan & Watson building at the corner of Second avenue and East is one of the substantial blocks which are being erected. The foundation work is progressing rapidly. This block will be 100 by 115 feet in size and will be three stories in height on Michigan street. The architecture is of the Italian Renaissance and will be built of Tiffany brick which is red in color and Portage Entry sandstone. It will cost $30,000. Pantan & Watson's store will occupy the entire building.

The Gray-Houghton block, the excavation for which is now being made, is the building which is to be built on the lot adjoining the Henderson building at the corner of Fifth avenue west. It will be 100 feet in frontage and the full depth of the lots, but for the present will be but one story in height. Messrs. Gray and Houghton think that for the present there is no demand for office buildings in Duluth which cannot be supplied and prefer to wait a year or two before building a large building. A foundation sufficiently heavy to carry a building of six or seven stories will be put in.

Edward Howard will erect a three-story store and office building adjoining Brown Bros. store on East Superior street. This will be of 50 frontage with a depth of 115 feet and besides its frontage on Superior street of three stories, will be four stories on Michigan street. The Pantan & Watson company has definitely decided to build on its lot between the Waterworth & Fee and the Minnesota Loan and Trust company buildings. There is 25 feet in this space and the depth will be 115 feet. Three stories will be the height and brick and stone the materials used in construction.

Joseph Wolf, the contractor, is to erect a store building on the lot between his lot adjoining the Henderson building at the corner of Fifth avenue west. It will be three stories high and built of brick and stone. The excavation is already completed. Mr. Wolf's partner, George R. King, is also contemplating the erection of a brick and stone building 25 by 115 feet, between the Torrey block and the board of trade. This will probably be built this year.

Boyle Bros. will commence work soon on a three-story building adjoining their present location which they will occupy when completed. It will be a model structure and will be especially adapted to the requirements of their business, a restaurant and saloon.

The Merchants hotel is being thoroughly remodeled, and will be almost an entirely new building when again ready for occupancy. The repairs will cost $15,000. The Metropolitan block is also to be remodeled in the near future and will be considerably changed. It is beginning to show the ravages of time but it is not many years since it was the most imposing structure in Duluth. S. S. Sellick and J. Cash are just completing a two-story brick and stone building at the corner of Seventh avenue west which they have erected at a cost of $7,000.

On Superior street at the West End the Northwestern Land & Loan company will build a 50-foot addition to their office building at a cost of $15,000. E. H. Burger will build a three-story building at Fifteenth avenue, at a cost of $15,000. There will be a large number of other buildings, some of brick and others frame, erected, and the West End is not to be left behind.

These are some of the Superior street buildings which will go up this year, but not of them by any means. A number of the architects are figuring on buildings, which they do not want to make public at present. Altogether, this will be a very active season.

TERRIBLE DESTRUCTION.

Great Loss of Life and Property by the Mauritius Cyclone.

LONDON, May 21.—The news of the terrible destruction of life and property in Mauritius was contained in a telegram read in the house of commons by Baron de Worms, parliamentary secretary of the colonial office. According to the dispatch about 800 lives were lost in the capital city, Port Louis, alone, and one-third of the city was demolished, including the royal colleges and twenty-four churches, besides many sugar mills. Probably 300 more were killed in the neighborhood of the city and the total loss of life in the island must reach 1200. The hospitals in Port Louis are overcrowded and tents have been erected on the grounds. Nearly every house in the city has some one in it under treatment. Though a large part of the crops were destroyed no famine is apprehended. The greater part of the fatalities were among the laboring classes. Africans, Hindoos, Chinese and Malaysians, who do much of the work on the plantations, suffered. Great damage was done to shipping.

DIED FROM FLOGGING.

Brutal Treatment of Women by a President's Order.

SAN SALVADOR, May 21.—The Diario Oficial publishes a list of the crimes for which ex-President Zaldivar was about to be sentenced by the supreme court when the proceedings were stopped. Among others it charges that forty-four men and five women were executed by his order. There were 196 men and 22 women flogged. Of the women three died as a result of the flogging.

THEY KILLED THEIR KING.

Revolt Among the Natives of the Marshall Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—News has just been received of an uprising on the Marshall Islands, resulting in the death of the native ruler. The schooner Orion arrived yesterday with the news. The native citizens revolted and killed the king of Tarawa. When the vessel left the revolt was still in progress.

FIVE MEN INJURED.

The Roof of a Pittsburgh Church Fell in Today.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 21.—The roof of the First Methodist Protestant church on Fifth avenue near Smithfield street fell in at 8:30 o'clock this morning injuring five workmen, probably two of them fatally. The property had recently been leased by Kaufman Bros. and was being razed for the purpose of erecting an addition to their store.

Gold in Indiana.

COLUMBUS, Ind., May 21.—Gold has been discovered on the farm of Geo. R. White near Bean Blossom in sufficient quantities to cause excitement among the farmers who have for years believed that the soil of Brown county holds the metal in paying quantities.

An Old Musician Dead.

SALEM, Mass., May 21.—George W. Estes, the first man to play a snare drum by note and one of the oldest musicians in the country, died yesterday, aged 87 years. He officiated as drum-major at the funeral of President William Henry Harrison in 1841.

A Long Wing Dam.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 21.—The Chandliss-Dunbar Water Power company will build a wing dam into the rapids, 2,500 feet long, at once. It will require all summer to employ a large force of men. Gen. Smith, of New York, is the engineer.

More Trouble in Brazil.

RIO JANEIRO, May 21.—News from Rio Grande do Sul announces that another revolution has been instituted there by the old party Republicans, led by Carlos Barbosa and Col. Avancz.

GLEN AVON, HUNTERS PARK

And Woodland to be Lighted by Electricity. Glen Avon, Woodland and Hunter's Park are fast putting on metropolitan airs. E. W. Hartman, president of the Hartman Electric company, has just announced that their lines will be extended at once to cover the territory in that direction. By June 15 they will be prepared to furnish electric current for both arc and incandescent lights to all residences or stores in that district.

HIS NIGHT OF HORROR

A Man Who Thought That He Was Near Unto Death and What the Daylight Revealed.

The Unpleasant Experience of an Executor Who Had to Visit a Vermont Farmer on Business.

Hung to a Sapling All One Night Under the Belief That a Precipice Yawned Beneath.

"Did you ever fancy that you were at the point of death and go through the uttermost agonies of fear for a considerable time, only to find out afterward that you hadn't been in any danger whatever?" asked the quiet man I was riding with. We did not know each other, but a long ride on a railroad makes strangers sociable.

"I said I never had."

"I did, once," said the quiet man. "And somehow I never could laugh at the experience, although it was comical in one way. It doesn't seem very funny to me, though."

"I was the sole executor of an estate some years ago, and it became necessary to get the signatures of all the heirs to a certain paper. A signed readily enough, excepting one. He was a Vermont farmer. He would not or could not see that the proposed transaction was straightforward, and he returned the paper unsigned, so I had to go and see him. I took the train for Bellows Falls, and found there that I had to drive about nine miles to the farmer's house, over a particularly lonely, mountainous road."

"It took more than two hours to get there, and I noticed with great apprehension that the road looked dangerous in places. The horse I had was a good one, though, and I learned a long time ago to trust a good deal to a horse. It was dark when I reached the house, and I found the farmer crossgrained and out of temper, and I had several hours' struggle with him before I got his signature. In fact, it was longer than either of us thought, and when we had come to an agreement it was 1 o'clock in the morning."

"He wanted me to sleep there, but I refused, telling him I must catch the 6 o'clock express. He was amazed. 'Ye b'ain't got to drive back tonight, be ye?' he exclaimed, but I said I must, and he let me go, with his cautions about the bad road. 'There's one almighty nasty place about three miles away,' he said, and I felt pretty nervous as I remembered it. It was a jump, too. I must catch the edge of a cliff forty or fifty feet high."

"However, I borrowed a lantern, hitched up, tied the lantern on the axletrees and set out. It was one of the darkest nights I ever saw, and before I had gone a mile the light went out. I suppose the lantern had not been filled."

"Just as I thought I must be at the forward wheel struck something, and was twisted so violently that the axle snapped. I felt myself falling with the wagon, and involuntarily jumped to get down. I jumped too high, and instead of landing on the level of the road, as I expected, I went fully five feet below it, and losing my footing rolled down a steep bank for ten feet more. The reins were jerked from my hand and the horse reared. 'As I fell I realized that I had jumped on the side toward the precipice, and I scrambled like a cat in the effort to catch hold of something, but it was so dark I literally could not see my own hands, and before I could get hold of anything I felt myself going over the edge. As I went over, however, I caught something with my right hand, and when I realized things I was swinging in the air on that something."

"Of course I caught hold with both hands at once, and discovered that I was holding on to a sapling. It wasn't very work, for I had a heavy overcoat on, and I am not a strong man, but somehow or other I managed to pull myself up till I got one arm over the sapling and then began to think and get my breath."

"In the dense darkness I could tell nothing about what was under me, but I felt sure that I was dangling over forty feet of clear space with jagged rocks at the bottom. I could kick the face of the rock over which I was hanging, but could not, with my feet or knees, find any projection whatever. It was irregular, but smooth."

"After I had almost exhausted myself in trying, I decided that my only chance was to hang as I was till daylight, and then began some three hours of torture that I cannot describe. I had read of people hanging in that way till they were exhausted, and then dropping off without being hurt, but I dared not try it, though."

"I was sorely tempted after I had grown cold and numb. So I hung on."

"I got both arms over and put my hands into my pockets for a hold, and then began to calculate how long I could hold on. It seemed a thousand years before it grew light enough to see anything, and when it did I found there was no precipice within a hundred feet of me, but I was right over solid ground. I had no trouble at all in getting back into the road, and I walked to Bellows Falls just in time to miss my train."

C. A. DAVIS.

The Paris police force is considered much below the strength required for the adequate guard of the city. While the population has increased largely during the last twenty years, the numbers and salaries of the police have not been in proportion. Energetic M. Loze, the prefect of police, wants his men's wages advanced. He also asks for 1,300 additional police, so that 370 men may be on the beats both by day and night. As to the police themselves, the majority are so discontented that they threaten to strike unless their position is improved.

THE FARIBAUT SCHOOL QUESTION.

A Matter That Has Attracted Much Attention and Comment.

The Roman Catholic church in two western towns recently turned over its parish school buildings to the local board of public schools. The story runs thus: Last fall the Rev. J. J. Conry, of Faribault, Minn., who is an American by birth and education, offered to the board of education the parish school building, to be used as a public school. He gave as his reasons for so doing that in his opinion parish schools tend to nationalizing (that is, a German school keeps its pupils German, a French school French, etc.), and that the security of the country largely depends upon the maintenance of an American spirit. Also, that it is impossible under existing systems for parish schools to reach the same degree of excellence as public schools.

The school board accepted the offer as it was made, unconditionally. The building is a very good one and Faribault stands in need of more school room. It was of course necessary to provide teachers. There were at that time several sisters of the Dominical order teaching at the parish schools. The superintendent found them thoroughly qualified. They were retained, but required to omit any religious teaching and to conduct their departments under direction of the superintendent and of officers of the board.

At Stillwater, Minn., the offer was conditional. The school immediately before and after its daily sessions belonged to the Roman Catholic church, and consequently there was more or less friction. At Faribault the sisters have so far given satisfaction. They have attended regular teachers' meetings and have been perfectly willing to adopt modern methods of instruction. The courtesy and gentleness of the pupils are said to be particularly pleasing. Archbishop Ireland upheld Father Conry and was in turn supported by Cardinal Gibbons. He went to Rome and explained the situation to the pope. The result of his mission is best shown by the following extract from a letter written by him to a Minnesota priest:

"The good pope particularly is most loving toward me. I shall have reason to remember long my visit to Rome."

The so-called Faribault plan is now formally allowed, in spite of Germans and Jesuits. The decision is Tolerant Potest, which means, canonically, it is fully allowed.

A letter addressed to me in the name of the propaganda, brings out the full practical meaning of the words.

The plan is of course a departure from the ideal, and in case of a departure the canonical language is Tolerant Potest. This implies, for practice, a full approval.

Safety of Ocean Travel.

Never before have so many passengers crossed the Atlantic as are being carried now, and no testimony as to the efficiency of the service is so convincing or encouraging than the record of 1890. Two thousand trips were made from New York to various ports, 300,000 cabin passengers were carried and 572,000 emigrants were landed at Castle Garden. Bulkheads, water tight compartments, twin screws that secure great speed and double bottoms, together with extraordinary watchfulness and discipline on the part of officers and crews, have reduced the dangers of ocean travel to the minimum point.

The question of safety combined with speed has become one of the requirements of modern travel, and to attain these conditions has been the study of the ablest engineers. The result is that the modern steamers of the great Atlantic lines are never so carefully constructed and are of such great strength that the foundering of one of them through stress of weather is well nigh inconceivable. It is not the breaking of heavy seas over the bow or the sweeping of the deck by some monster wave that gives to the captain his anxious foreboding. The spray may be carried to the foretop, boats be torn from their davits and iron rods snapped like pipestems, but his confidence in his ship is unshaken. It is when he stands enshrouded in a treacherous fog, perhaps near land, yet with all the landmarks blotted out, or is sailing in the region of icebergs, that may loom up before him in an instant, or is in the pathway of vessels sailing, like his own, in the dark, that he feels the danger of ocean travel, which no skill or prudence can prevail.

Three "L" Road Autocrats.

The average man is simply an average man in the estimation of New York elevated railway guards, but there are three persons whom they treat with the greatest deference, and who are always recognized despite their persistent efforts to travel incognito. They are Jay Gould, George Gould and Colonel F. K. Hain. There is not a guard, conductor or ticket "chopper" on the entire system who doesn't know each and all of them by sight. Let one of them enter an elevated train and the guard at either end of the car in which the magnate happens to sit instantly drops his habit of mumbling inarticulate gibberish and announces the names of stations in faultless elocutionary style. When either of the Goulds or Colonel Hain leaves the train the guard on the platform always makes a pull at his cap, by way of salute. Both the arch millionaire and his son invariably acknowledge the salute by raising their hats. Sometimes Colonel Hain does so, too, and sometimes he doesn't.

The Holy Rose.

It is the custom of the pope to bestow annually upon some Roman Catholic princess what is known as the "Holy Rose." The gift is awarded for virtue, and the recipients value it very highly. This year the queen of Portugal was the fortunate woman selected. The estimated value of the jewel is 56,000 francs. The jeweler who made it is a member of an ancient family of goldsmiths which has worked in the neighborhood of St. Peter's for the past 200 years. His fee was 8,000 francs. The stem of the rose is of solid gold and measures one meter sixty centimeters. The cup of the flower is of most delicate workmanship and is set with magnificent precious stones. The leaves are similarly set with small gems to represent dewdrops. The whole work of art lies in a magnificent case of white satin mounted with silver snuff.

Some Port Wine.

The biggest port wine sale on record will shortly occur in England. No less than 12,000,000 bottles will be disposed of on that occasion. To get these bottles out of the auctioneer's hands will cost over $5,000,000, and yet this amount of port does not represent more than seven months' ordinary consumption in the United Kingdom.

THE DISTRICT COURT

A Short and Uninteresting Special Calendar Comes Up Before Judge Stearns This Morning.

List of the Jurors Who Are Called to Serve at the June Term of the Court.

Judge Stearns Decides the Roussain Land Case, Giving Title to the Defendant, Isabel Emery.

Before Judge Stearns this morning at a special term of the district court the case of Hart vs. Shannon was stricken from the calendar. H. W. Wheeler, G. J. Mallory and H. Rockwell were appointed commissioners to fix damages in Duluth Transfer Railway company vs. L. Mendenhall et al. An order confirming the sale in Hartley vs. Russell was entered. The assignee in the E. G. Wohlman insolvency matter was discharged. A dividend of 25 per cent was ordered in the insolvency case of Aldrich & Jones. A stay of twenty days was ordered in Norgren vs. Edson, et al. An order for supplementary proceedings in Heffelfinger vs. Kimball was entered. A dividend was ordered in the assignment matter of John S. Anderson & Co. The assignee in Henry P. Downs was discharged. The following cases were continued: Ogren vs. Campbell, Blomquist vs. Campbell, Dowley vs. Campbell, Anderson vs. Campbell, Burke vs. Campbell. Second papers were ordered issued to Stanislaw Maleska, Albert H. Young and Ole G. Hulberg.

ARE YOU?

A fastidious man in dress, hard to fit, hard to please, and "set" against ready to wear Tailor-Made Clothes because you've never been able to find tailor's patterns made up in the latest styles in the clothing shown you by most dealers? Then you are the man we're looking for.

FIT:

Measured by inches the difference between a garment that fits and one that slouches is not much. It's an impossible gulf to makers just the same. If you have been in the habit of buying here and there very likely you know it to your sorrow.

STYLE:

See our Dress Suits, Novelty Suits, Business Suits. Did you ever see any Nobbler, Nattier or Neater. Try one on; short, stout, long, regular, any shape. There, isn't it perfect style in every feature of it. All the little quirks of nobbiness that goes with artistic tailoring. We hear only words of praise for our garments.

Grand Army Suits!

In G. A. R. Middlesex and Slater's Flannels, warranted Fast Colors, and made up in the regulation style. Two sets of buttons furnished with every suit. All our Grand Army Suits are of our own manufacture, and will sell them to you 25 per cent less than you'll have to pay any other house in the city.

Stop Paying Rent and Own Your Own Home

There is no better, safer investment than real estate, if the location and price is right. There is no better location than Duluth Heights. The incline railway is completed and in operation and the rails are now being placed on the ground for an electric street railway running through the property, thus bringing it within a ten or twelve minutes' ride from Union depot and business center of the city. Everyone can't afford to buy property down town or in the business center. It's too expensive, but lots can be bought and a house built for much less than the cost of a bare lot situated the same distance either east or west from the Union depot. The ground is gently rolling, insuring good drainage and healthfulness. Where can you find property in Duluth accessible, well located, within so short a distance from the business center, an electric line furnishing cheap and quick transportation, at prices anywhere near as low as we can sell you, $150 to $200 a lot with only one-fourth cash required and balance one, two and three years. ## WHAT BILL NYE SAYS

About Painless Dentistry is Interesting Reading to Those Who Have Suffered in the Past.

Residents of Duluth and Superior Need no Longer Dread the Filling or Pulling of a Tooth.

Dr. C. E. Hale, St. Paul.

DEAR SIR: * * * Before going to your office I made suitable provision for my family, and wringing the hands of those I love, I paid my taxes and settled my earthly affairs. I expected to suffer the tortures of the inquisition, for my molars are the most sensitive component of my anatomy, and you will remember I inquired somewhat minutely as to where dentists bury their dead, and what ratio of the condemned really survive; but I found that your new methods make it about as pleasant to have a tooth filled as to have a photograph taken, and puts a new phase on the whole business.

Very truly yours, BILL NYE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.

The advantages of Dr. Hale's new method for filling sensitive teeth without pain may be briefly summarized as follows: It will invariably produce the desired result, and many thousands of sufferers who never visited the dental office through fear of torture, may now have operations performed with comfort and satisfaction. It does not affect the general condition of the patient unfavorably. Nothing like unconsciousness is ever produced, while the danger from "shock" and the painful effects of nervousness are greatly lessened.

It makes a thorough operation possible and herein lies its chief advantage. Many fillings are lost because the decayed and diseased tooth structure is not thoroughly removed. The most skillful dentist cannot insert a durable filling if the cavity is not properly formed, and very sensitive teeth are not often well prepared for filling because the patient cannot endure the necessary ordeal. With the aid of the new obtundant, however, all teeth are alike insensible to the cutting of the instruments, and the most thorough work can be done.

Dr. W. W. Schiffman, who has the exclusive right to use this wonderful method at the "Head of the Lakes" is located in the Woodbridge block, 106 and 108 West Superior street.

PROGRESS OF DULUTH.

Born to Good Luck, There is Always Some New Development that Gives Her an Impetus.

The Mesaba Range Must Add Greatly to the Business, Wealth and Population of This City.

Duluth Must Become the Chief Center of Iron and Steel Manufacture in the West.

Duluth, says E. V. Smalley, in the current number of the Northwest Magazine, appears to be born to good luck. Something always happens to lift her out of every depression into which she falls. When hard times check her forward career for a while there is sure to be some new development that gives her a fresh impetus. The building of the Northern Pacific railroad gave her the first start; then the cutting of the canal across Minnesota Point made her a first-class lake port; and later, after a period of discouragement, the big wheat farms of the Red River valley gave her a staple of commerce to handle. In after years the rapid growth of the two Dakotas, with their surplus of grain and their need of coal, built for her huge elevators and great coal docks. Then lumbering came in to swell her business and afterwards the discovery and opening of the Vermilion iron mines became a new factor in her growth. The cheapening of lake transportation by the building of huge steam barges and uncouth whalebacks increased the movement of commodities by the lake route and this was still another source of immediate gain to the city at the head of the chain of inland seas.

Now, after a quiet year, there comes a new and important stimulus. Northern Minnesota furnishes another iron field larger than that of the Vermilion range; larger, too, than that of the famous Gribben range, in Wisconsin. The ore deposits partially explored on the Mesaba range, north of Duluth, are of phenomenal extent and richness and are so situated that mining will be almost as inexpensive as scooping out gravel from a bank with a steam shovel. A railroad is now headed for the most important mines opened and ore will be hauled from them to Duluth by the first of September. Two other roads are making surveys with a view of entering the new iron field.

Whatever of business and wealth are created on the Mesaba range must add in a direct ratio to the business, wealth and population of Duluth. These important discoveries of rich Bessemer ore do not mean simply that great ore docks are to be erected at Duluth and a new element of commerce furnished the Zenith city. That would be advantageous alone, but of far greater advantage will be the development of iron manufacturing here. A successful start has already been made with the blast furnace at West Duluth and the steel works across the river at Superior. Another steel plant using open hearth process is assured for Duluth.

Now, with these unlimited stores of cheap iron at her doors, there can no longer be room for doubt that Duluth will in the near future be the center of steel for the whole Northwestern country. It is cheaper to bring the coal of Ohio to smelt the iron of Minnesota than to take the iron ore to the coal and bring back the manufactured product. In bars and steel ingots for consumption in the vast region west and southwest of Duluth. The lake craft make their profits on carrying wheat East and they take coal and lumber West at rates that barely return the actual cost of the voyage. It requires no argument to show that so far as the needs of the region now shipping its grain from Duluth are concerned the natural point of iron and steel manufacture is the point nearest the consumers, where the coal can be brought by water to meet the ores, and that point is the city at the head of Lake Superior.

The iron industry in Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio was originally based on the proximity of native ores to beds of coal. Later came the opening of the Lake Superior iron fields and with cheap water transportation the richer ores were taken to the centers of the iron making to mix with the lean native ores. In time the lake ores almost wholly supplanted those of Ohio and Pennsylvania, so that at present the enormous iron and steel industry of Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Youngstown and other neighboring towns may be said to rest wholly on the Lake Superior production. Now the new discoveries on the Mesaba range of vast beds of high grade Bessemer ore makes it as certain as any event in the future that Duluth will occupy the position in relation to the Northwest that Cleveland occupies for the lower lakes—that of the chief center of iron and steel manufacture.

Honest John Bagley is Authority.

His Manly Voice is Heard in Voluntary Parise.

The Wakefield Carriage Manufacturer

Adds a Word to Swell the Majority.

All So Plain That the Man Who Runs May Read.

Mr. J. T. Bagley, of Wakefield, Mass., is a carriage manufacturer whose customers number the wealthiest and most influential men in the Union.

Honest John Bagley, as he is called by business men, never did a better deed than when he wrote the following voluntary testimony.

While life is worth living it cannot be too often discussed.

Mr. Bagley had been very ill. He says: "I did not get my strength; head seemed to linger; legs were weak; got exhausted easily; had no courage."

"My wife," he says, in writing to the Wells & Richardson company, "who had used your Paine's celery compound with splendid results, induced me to give it a trial, and now I am as much an advocate of it as she is, for it did wonders for me. It brought me back to my usual robust health again!"

Every woman in Duluth should read the rest of Mr. Bagley's letter carefully. He continues:

"My wife's mother from Connecticut, a lady 73 years of age, who had been quite out of health for a long time and under the doctor's care, came in July to spend the summer with us, and brought her medicines, prescriptions, etc. After getting prescriptions filled two or three times, when she was about to have another put up, we mentioned to her that we believed the compound would help her."

"She did not seem to have any particular disease, only tired out all the time, completely run down, vitality nearly all gone. She decided to try your remedy, and I brought home a bottle that evening. She commenced to take it but with little faith; after a few days she acknowledged that she felt better. Before the contents of the bottle were half gone, there was a marked change, and she exclaimed: 'I do declare, I believe this medicine is helping me!'"

"She slept better; had a good appetite; languid feeling all gone; cheerfulness returned. 'It really seems as though life were worth living,' she said. Before, she was completely discouraged."

"She remained with us until fall, but did not have another prescription filled after a trial of Paine's celery compound. Her health improved a hundred percent and she claimed it was all due to the celery compound."

"Excuse me, gentlemen, but I am enthusiastic over your remedy. We recommend it to our friends, and they take it. I was much amused and interested last fall, when in a drug store where I had bought a bottle of Paine's celery compound for my wife."

"While waiting for the change, a lady came in and asked for a bottle of Paine's celery compound."

"I said: 'Excuse me, madam, but I see you are a believer in Paine's celery compound.'"

"Her reply was: 'Yes, and I have reason to be. After employing three doctors who failed to give me relief, I was advised to try the compound. My trouble was in the hands and feet, which puffed up. Doctors seemed puzzled to know what was the matter. They thought it was poor circulation and blood out of order, but failed to give me relief.'"

"After taking a few bottles of Paine's celery compound I was entirely well, and now I am here for a bottle for my daughter, who is a school teacher and completely run down, very nervous and cannot sleep well. I know it will help her."

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHY SO MANY PEOPLE WHO HONESTLY believe in the solidity and permanence of Duluth and its institutions, who believe in its advancement until the city and its various branches of trade are second to none in this great West, who write and talk to their friends of the present grand showing, made by business firms, who would indignantly refuse any statement that Duluth firms were one jot behind those of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City or Chicago in the Quantity, Quality, Style, or price of articles carried by them to be sold, and yet who, when ready to furnish a home of their own, or may have only one room sold to St. Paul or Minneapolis and buy the articles desired, pay freight on them to Duluth (in order to have something their neighbors have not) and only to find "if they cared to investigate that the very same thing could have been procured of a Duluth merchant at the same price paid and the article delivered and set up without further charge. Four Divines Who Have Become Prominent at the Methodist General Conference at Omaha.

Besides Being Pulpit Orators, Two Are Authors and the Other Two Served in the War.

Doctors Hamilton, of Boston, Neely, of Philadelphia, Palmer, of New York, and Cranston, of Cincinnati.

Several divines, either in committee or debate, have added to their already fine reputations as speakers and theologians at the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Omaha.

One of the most fascinating speakers in the distinguished gathering, and a man who always commands attention when he rises to speak, is Rev. J. W. Hamilton, D. D., of Boston. He is almost six feet tall, well proportioned and scholarly

REV. J. W. HAMILTON.
In appearance, and his voice is quite remarkable for its power and musical resonance. Dr. Hamilton possesses a very expressive and pleasing face, which he keeps smoothly shaven. He has not been a frequent speaker in debate, but he made his points clearly when he took the floor. He is the son of a minister, and received his education at Mount Union college and Boston university. He is widely known as the author of several religious books.

Rev. T. B. Neely, D. D., of Philadelphia, whose name is a familiar name to the conference. He is a gentle man of splendid personal appearance, and his elegant and forcible language commanded the attention of the vast audience even in the most exciting discussions. Dr. Neely is the author of a wide range of church literature, which has given him an extensive acquaintance.

Rev. Abraham J. Palmer, D. D., of New York city, entered the army when he was only fourteen years and six months old—one of the youngest soldiers that enlisted. He came out with an excellent record. During his service he was shut up six months at Libby prison. He is a forcible

REV. EARL CRANSTON.
Rev. Earl Cranston, D. D., a member of the publishing firm of Cranston & Stowe, of Cincinnati, was a prominent figure in the conference. He is considered to be a man of first class business ability and is a pulpit orator of considerable power. He is a native of Ohio, and received his education at the Ohio university. He began his ministerial work in his native state. He served through the war, coming out as captain. Again entering the ministry he met with decided success in the work at Jacksonville, Ill., Evansville, Ind., Cincinnati and Denver. In 1884 he was elected to the position of publisher in connection with Dr. Stowe, of the Cincinnati Book Concern.

WYOMING'S FEMALE POLITICIANS.

The Two Women Elected Alternates to the Republican Convention.

Although nearly everybody has read, at one time or another, of woman suffrage in Wyoming, the general impression of the public has been that it was a sort of local reality, the shadow without the substance; the framework without the covering. There could be no greater misapprehension of facts. The political convenses in Wyoming in which women are engaged are not pickwickian by any means.

On the contrary, they are fought with more zeal, though less coarseness, than those of other states, where men are opposed by men only. A particularly prominent trait of the Wyoming female politician is her "get-there-iveness." She does not count upon the gallantry of the sterner sex to elect her to office, but she makes her canvass just like the ordinary politician. Of course the ladies eliminate the "drinks and cigars" features, and to this extent certainly they have elevated the tone of campaigns.

The history of woman suffrage in Wyoming is exceedingly interesting. Its life was saved at least on one occasion literally "by the skin of its teeth." The man to whom the women of the baby state are indebted for the privilege of being permitted to vote is now a clerk in the mailing department in Washington. His name is John Bright, and he has had the pleasure of seeing his pet project stand the test of a trial of nearly a quarter of a century, with the probability that it will be lasting, inasmuch as it was included in the constitution when Wyoming was admitted to statehood. When the territory was organized Bright was keeping a saloon at the South Pass City mining camp. He was not very well educated, but he was one of those men who seem to be born to be politicians. He possessed great force of character, and found comparatively little difficulty in getting his neighbors to elect him to the upper branch of the legislature, of which he became the presiding officer.

Bright was an enthusiastic woman suffragist, and although his wife opposed the measure he succeeded in getting his bill through both branches without a dissenting vote. The members were dumfounded. Most of them had supported the measure to oblige Bright, arguing that the "damned thing couldn't go through anyhow." But it became a law, nevertheless, and Bright was happy. In the second legislature a bill repealing the act was passed and vetoed by Governor Campbell. Then there was an effort to override the veto, and when a careful member-to-member canvass was made by the leading woman suffragists of the territory it was found that their opponents were exactly strong enough to accomplish their purpose. The ladies required one vote, and they sensibly concentrated their efforts on one member, who of course succumbed, and the law of franchise remained as it had been. Since then it has not been interfered with, and the women of Wyoming have consequently held many offices of importance, and with great credit to themselves too. But their crowning honor came recently, when the Republican state convention elected as alternate delegates to the national nominating convention at Minneapolis Mrs. C. G. Carleton, of Uinta county, and Mrs. Theresa A. Jenkins, of Larimer county.

Mrs. Carleton is a highly educated woman of much force of character and brilliant intellect. Her father was the Mormon Bishop Snow, of Salt Lake City, who was the first chief justice of Utah. Miss Snow, as she was then, never could be induced to accept the tenets of polygamy, and she made no secret of her opposition, in which she was supported by her mother's family. One of the fundamental principles of the Mormon belief is that no unmarried woman can enter into Paradise. As Miss Snow had persistently refused to wed any of the Mormon youths, the elders of the church conceived that the young lady's spiritual future, in case of death, was extremely problematical, and they accordingly summoned her to appear before them. She remained obdurate, and when asked by one of the patriarchs if she wouldn't like "to be an angel in heaven," promptly replied, "I prefer to be a good woman on earth." At about this time, however, her heart spoke, unbidden, in favor of Mr. Carleton, a Gentleman, whom she had just met. The stern bishop refused to entertain a thought of their marriage, and the young man left Salt Lake City soon after. A correspondence was kept up for some time, but finally allowed to lapse. This occurred nearly a quarter of a century ago. Five years ago Miss Snow read in a newspaper that Mr. Carleton had been elected to the Wyoming legislature. The correspondence was renewed and the flame of love, which had remained dormant for so long, broke out afresh, and shortly afterward, in 1888, they were married. Mrs. Carleton is a lawyer, and was of great assistance to her father during his lifetime.

Mrs. Theresa A. Jenkins, the other alternate delegate, is the female orator of Wyoming. During the statehood celebration in Cheyenne, in 1890, her oration was generally conceded to have eclipsed the efforts of all the male speakers. Her address in Boston on woman's suffrage last fall before the national convention of the W. C. T. U. was highly complimented by the press of the country, irrespective of party. Mrs. Jenkins has never held office, but she has always taken an active part in the politics of Wyoming. She is the wife of J. F. Jenkins, a merchant of Cheyenne, whom she first met in 1877, when she became a resident of that city. Mrs. Jenkins is the daughter of Peter Parkinson, of Fayette county, Wis. Her preliminary education was obtained in the schools near her birthplace, and she was graduated with high honors from the Wisconsin university in Madison. Mrs. Jenkins is a handsome woman of modest demeanor.

Like Mrs. Carleton, she is entirely free from the "mannishness" which is so frequently and unjustly ascribed to women who have become prominent in connection with the enfranchisement of their sex.

TRAGEDY IN PARIS

An Infuriated Wife Caught Her Faithless Spouse and His Mistress in a Room.

After Pouring a Flood of Abuse Upon the Guilty Woman She Shot Her.

Seeing that Her Victim was not Dead, She then Stabbed Her Repeatedly.

PARIS, May 23.—The Figaro today relates a story of a murder which, in view of the Deacon case, is exciting great public interest. The names are not given, but if the details given in the Figaro are true they cannot long be concealed. The story is to the effect that the wife of a government official, holding an important position, had long suspected her husband of unfaithfulness and whose name has been frequently mentioned in connection with measures of national importance.

The wife had followed her husband about for some time past in the hope of detecting evidence of guilt. He succeeded, however, in evading her and she was not able until yesterday evening to get the proof desired. The wife is known to be a woman of high temper, and the tragedy that resulted is not a surprise to the people that have met her. She got information in some way that her husband and the woman who had captivated his affections might be found at No. 33 Rue Durecher. The wife went there alone last night, armed with a revolver. She succeeded in passing the porter without arousing suspicion and proceeded, at once to the room, which, as proved, was occupied by the faithless spouse and his mistress.

How she obtained admission does not appear, but she managed to get in without the suspicions of the porter, who, having been aroused. The husband was taken utterly by surprise, and neither he nor the woman had an opportunity to escape. The wife poured out a flood of abuse upon the guilty woman, charging her both with betraying her own husband and robbing her of the man she loved. The wretched woman covered in a corner of the bed, which she occupied and was too stricken with shame to utter a word of reply. The fury of the deprived wife increased and drawing a revolver she fired shot after shot directly into the body of the bed.

The husband, when she drew a revolver, thought it was intended for him and dashed from the room, leaving his companion in sin at the mercy of his infuriated wife. The latter did not cease firing until five bullets were lodged in the victim's body, when seeing that she was not dead she drew a dagger and stabbed her repeatedly. The blood from the wounds spurting over the murderer until she presented as gory an appearance as the expiring victim. When people who heard the struggles came into the room the dying woman could not speak but died in a few minutes.

The police were called in and the murderer taken to prison. It is said that she had reserved one bullet in the revolver for herself. The husband will undoubtedly be dismissed from the government service and the trial of the murderer promises to disclose a great deal about the rottenness of French society.

COVERED WITH WATER.

Hundreds of Families Homeless in Franklin County, Mo.
OZARK, Mo., May 23.—Reports from Mulberry, White Oak, and Altus, show that at least 20,000 acres of the best farm lands in Franklin County is covered with water. The cotton grown in this county will be reduced 33 per cent. Hundreds of families are homeless and but for the kindness of neighbors would now be starving. The lowest estimate of the loss is $100,000 and the highest $250,000.

Railroad Changes.
ST. PAUL, May 23.—Two important circulars were issued today from Great Northern headquarters. W. M. Finley is appointed general traffic manager, the appointment to go into effect today, and the jurisdiction of T. B. Wakeman, as superintendent of transportation, is extended to include the Montana Central system.

To See the Baby.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Secretary and Mrs. Blaine will leave Washington for New York at 4 o'clock this afternoon and will be gone two days. They go, it is said, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Damrosch, and to see their grand daughter, who was born last week.

Mrs. Harrison's Recovery.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Mrs. Harrison's condition is improving this morning. Her cough is not so harassing and she is otherwise much better. She passed a quiet day yesterday.

Baron Fava Presented.
WASHINGTON, May 23.—After presenting Baron Fava, the Italian minister, this morning, Secretary Blaine had quite an extended conference with the president. Its nature was not disclosed.

Thrown by a Horse.
A 17-year-old son of Capt. Anton Paul fell from the back of a gray horse he was riding this afternoon at 2 o'clock and fractured his skull. The accident occurred on Michigan street at the rear of the Merchants' hotel. The boy was taken to St. Mary's hospital and is now lying in a very precarious condition.

Using the Board Again.
The stock exchange is again using the board and posting quotations as usual. The members unanimously voted to do this at this morning's meeting.

SUICIDE AT WEST DULUTH.

C. J. Becket Shoots Himself Through the Head.

C. J. Becket, a cousin of Councilman Ide, of West Duluth, committed suicide today near the woolen mill. He was found about 2:30 p. m. with a bullet hole through his head. Becket has been identified for some time with the Salvation Army at West Duluth. He was about 22 years old. While with the Salvation Army in Minneapolis last fall he hurt his head by falling and has since been somewhat crazy. When last seen alive, he said he was going to New Duluth to look for work. In his pocket was found a note saying:

"I think everybody hates me and that it be best I be out of the way. I have tried to kill myself three times before, but God has prevented it."

AN AMICABLE AGREEMENT.

The Difficulty Between Canada and Newfoundland to Be Adjusted.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 23.—The governor general has received a dispatch from the governor of Newfoundland stating that the island government has accepted the offer of the Canadian authorities for a reversion to the statu quo of 1889, pending the holding of a conference between representatives of the two governments with a view to arriving, if possible, at an amicable understanding.

This announcement gives general satisfaction in official circles. No time will be lost on account of the Dominion government. As indicative of the narrow escape which Newfoundland has had, it may be stated that the cruiser La Canadienne, Commander Waksham, was under orders to call at Gaspe yesterday for instructions before proceeding to Labrador, as to the treatment to be accorded to Newfoundland fishermen in Canadian waters. The Canadienne will now bear a message of amity and good will.

Dropped Dead.

CHewed His Nose.

John Gonyer Attacks Tom Summers in a Peculiar Manner.

A warrant is out for the arrest of John Gonyer, a man who has been under the police ban for some time, for mayhem. His offense consists in an assault upon Tom Summers, the well known fruit and confectionery dealer. The parties were playing cards in C. M. Gundy's card charged Summers with taking a "chip" which didn't belong to him. Summers called him a liar and Gonyer chewed the end of Summers' nose so freely that it took five stitches to keep it together, and now Tom does not blow his nose in the old accustomed way. Gonyer will be arraigned this afternoon if he is arrested in time.

LADIES SHUT OUT

The Judiciary Committee of the Methodist Conference Interprets the Words "Lay Delegates."

It Decides that they Mean Male Delegates Only and Ladies are Barred.

Report on Revision of the Confession of Faith Presented to a Presbyterian Assembly.

OMAHA, May 23.—Bishop Warren presided today over the general Methodist conference. No time was lost, business being energetically taken up. The committee on episcopacy filed a report recommending that an episcopal residence in Europe be added to the present list. The committee on revisions recommends that the many petitions to abolish the six months' probationary term be denied. A minority report recommends that the time be reduced to three months.

The committee on temporal economy, to whom was referred the matter of chaplains in the army, recommends that the conference demand that an adequate number of chaplains be appointed in the army; that they be regularly commissioned officers and not mere contract men; that three bishops be selected to recommend suitable candidates for appointment in the army; and that the nearest Sunday to July 1 be known in the church as army and navy day, and that the services on that day pertain to the welfare of those bodies.

The committee on judiciary to whom was instructed the interpretation of the words "lay delegate," after a general comment on the matter, reported that they have decided that no other interpretation than that now had can be had, namely, that "lay delegates" means male delegates and not female. These reports were laid aside for the present in order to take up pending business.

The Presbyterian Assembly.
PORTLAND, Ore., May 23.—At today's session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church the report of the committee appointed to revise the confession of faith was presented by Dr. W. C. Roberts. It contains two new chapters, one relating to the work of the holy spirit and the other to the missionary spirit. Besides these new chapters, twenty-six sections in eighteen other chapters have been changed. Several of the members of the committee have signed the report, but have made exceptions to certain parts of it.

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Daniel McLaren Brings an Action Against Williston, Charnley & Co.

Daniel McLaren has commenced an action last Saturday in the United States circuit court against Williston, Charnley & Co. to recover $15,760 for personal injuries sustained by him while in the employ of the defendants. McLaren alleges that he was employed by the defendants on May 2, 1890, coupling cars on their logging railroad, and that Jacob Furtney had charge of the switching. McLaren was on the engine and was coupling a car. Furtney, without warning and negligently, the plaintiff alleges, gave the engineer an order to back up, and McLaren was caught between the cars and was so badly squeezed that he was severely and permanently injured.

This case was tried in the state district court and McLaren received a verdict for $5,000, but the case was taken to the supreme court and the verdict set aside.

Campbell Case Still On.

The Malcolm Campbell vs. G. Herman et al. case is still on trial in the United States court and the defense has just opened. A motion made by the defendants at the close of the plaintiff's case that the court direct a verdict in favor of the defendants was argued nearly all forenoon. Judge Nelson denied the motion but gave the defendants the privilege of renewing it when their evidence was all in.

District Court Notes.

Two actions were commenced in the district court today by S. H. Charlton to clear the title to some lots on Minnesota Point. George C. Higgins et al. are the plaintiffs on lot 28, Minnesota avenue, Upper Duluth, lots 74 and 375, Minnesota avenue, Lower Duluth, and lots 173, St. Louis avenue, Lower Duluth. Maria L. Keough et al. are the defendants in lots 41 and 43, St. Louis avenue, Lower Duluth.

Judge Severance has filed his findings in the land title case of Charles Martell vs. Israel Martell, John Everett and Daniel McLaren and gives his decision that the plaintiffs are not entitled to recovery.

The mandate of the supreme court reversing the decision of the lower court in Lucile Remillard et al. appellants, vs. Frank Blackmar et al., respondent, has been filed.

He Didn't Appear.

Municipal court matters were very dull this morning. Ole Swanson was charged with being drunk but pleaded not guilty. He will be tried at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. A well known Scotchman was arrested on the hill for being drunk last night, but put up $15 bail, under the name of William Adams. He didn't appear and his bail was forfeited.

An Ancient Law that Still Remains Unrepealed—The Foundation of the Present Volunteer System.

OW few remember the annual military drill for all the schools, reviving a plan suggested by President Madison to instruct officers and noncommissioned officers in camp. He estimated that the cost to the government would be $1,500,000 a year.

In 1821, by the "general regulations" compiled by Major General Winfield Scott, company officers were elected by the enrolled privates of their respective districts, regimental officers by the company officers and general officers by the general assembly of the commonwealth.

The Ancient Law that still remains unrepealed is the foundation of the present volunteer system. Long before this time, however, many independent uniformed organizations existed in various parts of the country whose names have become historic.

Beauty often depends on plumpness; so does comfort: so does health. If you get thin, there is something wrong, though you may feel no sign of it.

Thinness itself is a sign; sometimes the first sign; sometimes not.

The way to get back plumpness is by CAREFUL LIVING, which sometimes includes the use of Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

Long Lived Maine People. People in the Pine Tree State live to a good old age. Of the thirty odd persons

A Statue of Moses. A colossal statue of Moses is soon to be erected in Albany. The model is nearly completed, and is now on exhibition in Sculptor Rhin's studio in New York city. The statue will be ten feet high, and will stand on a rocky pinnacle near a cascade. The model shows Moses, with outstretched arms, summoning the wanderers in the wilderness to drink of the water which flowed from the rock of Horeb after he had struck it with his rod.

ON PARADE. Auring "arms and equipment for the whole body of the militia." Since that time there has been an increase of the annual appropriation to $300,000, although this is now of little importance to some of the states, inasmuch as their share of the amount is small in comparison to their own appropriations.

Modifications of the old law still being sought for, Secretary Graham, in 1810, by the direction of congress, prepared a new plan. It divided the militia into three classes, according to ages, of which the two younger were to assemble in annual camps of instruction. Congressman Wilson Henry Harrison, afterward president, proposed as a substitute military drill for all the schools, reviving a plan suggested by President Madison to instruct officers and noncommissioned officers in camp. He estimated that the cost to the government would be $1,500,000 a year.

In 1821, by the "general regulations" compiled by Major General Winfield Scott, company officers were elected by the enrolled privates of their respective districts, regimental officers by the company officers and general officers by the general assembly of the commonwealth. Each regimental district was allowed four volunteer companies—one of artillery, one of cavalry and two of riflemen or light infantry, armed by the state and uniformed according to fancy and at their individual expense. These companies paraded as often as was convenient and lent color and glory to the Fourth of July and other gala occasions.

Long before this time, however, many independent uniformed organizations existed in various parts of the country whose names have become historic. The Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Massachusetts, chartered in 1638, is probably the first and oldest of this class. The First Corps of Cadets of Massachusetts was chartered in 1741. The First Company of Governor's Foot Guards of Connecticut, dates from 1771, and the Second company of the same command was organized just before the battle of Lexington. Then we have the First Troop of Philadelphia City Cavalry, the First Light Infantry of Providence, the Albany Burgesses corps, the State Fencibles of Philadelphia, the Old Guard of New York, the Chatham Artillery of Savannah, the Lafayette Artillery, Marion Artillery, Santer Guards, Washington Light Infantry and Artillery, all of Charleston, and many other companies of equal note that are easily from fifty to seventy-five years old.

The Seventh regiment, of New York, organized in 1834, is a notable instance of effective militia service long before the organization of what is known as the national guard. In time of riot and of public peril it has always been found at the front, while during the war it trained for the army no less than 605 officers, among whom were 3 major generals, 19 brigadier generals, 29 colonels and 46 lieutenant colonels. It is said of the First Light Infantry of Rhode Island that it also furnished 5 generals, 9 colonels and 188 officers of lesser rank. Nearly every member of Ellsworth's Chicago Zouaves received a commission. This is illustrated the tremendous importance of the changes that have taken place in the volunteer service of the country, and the wisdom of the Father of his Country when he proclaimed that "the militia must be considered as the palladium of our security and our first effectual resort in case of hostility."

The wonder is that while Jefferson and Madison followed Washington in their endeavors to provide a military system that would give the country a real and efficient force fit for active service ready for any emergency, and they were followed in turn

by soldiers like Andrew Jackson and Zachary Taylor, the antiquated law is still upon the statute book, which it is impossible to execute, and yet which for more than the first half century of our independence turned the country upside down twice a year by calling out every able-bodied citizen to attend "general training" on the village greens, carrying any weapon from a stick to their grandfather's rifle, knowing as little about discipline as a herd of Texas steers and usually winding up the day in a royal drunk.

The writer has described scenes that were once familiar in New England and the cotton states, but Porte Crayon, in one of his delightful sketches, shows that they were not strange to the people of old Virginia. "A more heterogeneous and unsoldierly parade," he says, "can scarcely be imagined. There were the elect from the mountains who sometimes marched to the rendezvous barefoot, carrying their boots and soldier clothes in a bundle—the ambitious cobblers, tailors and plowboys from crossroad hamlets and remote rural districts; short, tall, fat, bowlegged, sheep shanked, hump shouldered, sway backed, uniformed in contempt of all uniformity and carrying arms of many different patterns, from the old dragon saber that had belonged to Harry Lee's legion to the steel basket hilted rapier that had graced the thigh of some of our French allies in the revolution.

"The officers of the companies were generally selected for their handsome appearance and martial bearing. There was also a sprinkling of the veterans of 1812, recognizable by a certain martinet precision in their deportment and a shadow of contempt for their crude comrades, but quick to resent any extraneous comment derogatory to the service. The city dandy who undertook to ridicule the old fashioned way in which they carried their swords, was silenced by the reply, 'Young man, I've seen the best troops of Great Britain beaten by men who carried their swords in that way.'"

Yes, in spite of their surroundings, so much like a burlesque, these oldtime militiamen were a sturdy lot of patriots, and when the drum and fife called them to volunteer for the Mexican war they not only achieved distinction as fighters in that struggle, but they laid the foundation of the present volunteer system. All honor to their memory. F. G. DE FONTAINE.

THE SECRET SOCIETIES

A Full Blooded Mohawk Indian who has Risen to High Positions in Good Templarship.

Rev. Dr. King, Bishop of London, has Become a Member of the Order of Odd Fellows.

The Triennial Conclave of the Knights Templar at Denver Promises to be Largely Attended.

A few weeks ago an event notable in the history of Good Templarship in Boston occurred, when Dr. Oronhyatekha, right worthy grand templar of the organization, visited that city and was tendered an immense reception.

Dr. Oronhyatekha has been connected with the Order of Good Templars for over thirty years. He has been G. C. T. of his own grand lodge four times, and held for four terms the second highest honor within the gift of the world's Good Templars, that of right worthy grand counselor.

At Edinburg, last May, he was elevated to the DR. ORONHYATEKHA, leadership of the order. The doctor is also connected with other societies that have bestowed honors upon him. He is a leader in the Loyal Orange association, a thirty-third degree Mason, and also supreme chief ranger of the Order of Foresters.

Dr. Oronhyatekha is a full blooded Indian, some fifty years of age. By birth he is a Mohawk, and his wife is of the same tribe, a great-granddaughter of the famous chief, Captain Joseph Brant, for whom the town of Brantford, Ont., is named. He is a thoroughly well educated man, having graduated from the best Canadian universities, and also receiving instruction at the hands of Dr. Acland from Oxford university, England.

Rev. Dr. King, Bishop of London, Admitted to the Order—Notes.

Right Rev. Dr. King, bishop of London, was admitted into the order recently with due ceremonial in Franklin lodge. The grand master of England, Bro. J. Bythe, presided. Mayor W. W. Richardson, of Lincoln, and Mr. W. Crossfield, Liberal candidate for parliament, were also admitted as honorary members at the same meeting. The Manchester unit has existed for eighty years and numbers at present 700,000 members, with a capital of nearly £7,000,000. Its annual revenue is £1,800,000. It adds $2,000 to its membership yearly.

The general relief committee of Columbus, O., expended for relief last year over $2,000.

Grand Master Jewell, of Missouri, will publish an Odd Fellows' paper to be known as The Triple Link.

Michigan gained 2,000 members last year. A new Odd Fellows' temple at Salt Lake City will soon be in full possession of the several lodges, and the click of the gavel will be heard therein nightly.

The grand lodge of Kansas pays the following salaries to its officers: Grand master, $1,000; grand secretary, $1,500; grand treasurer, $300; secretary of the Fraternal Benefit association, $500. The per capita tax is 60 cents.

It is expected that the Odd Fellows' home, of Massachusetts, will be ready for dedication in June or July.

The Odd Fellows of Boston are already preparing to attend in large numbers and in a body the World's fair at Chicago.

The cost of the sovereign grand lodge of 1886, held in Boston, was $34,278.84. How much it will cost to hold the session in Portland, Or., this year is a question.

Auburn, Cal., will soon have an Odd Fellows' building. An association has been formed and the capital stock has been fixed at $20,000.

A new Rebekah lodge is talked of in Albany. It is reported that over 300 names have already been secured for this object.

RED MEN.

Short Talks from the Wigwams of Many Tribes.

Great Sachem Conley, of Pennsylvania, is naturally very proud by having broken the record in the institution of new tribes.

A new tribe is to be instituted at Rahway, N. J., with over 40 petitioners.

A petition has been received for a council of the degree of Pocahontas, to be instituted at Harrisburg.

Nearly 1,200 names have been adopted into the order in Massachusetts during the present Great Sun term.

Indiana now numbers over 6,500 members, and is now entitled to the full limit of 8 representatives in the G. C. U. S.

A temple devoted to the purposes of the order is advocated for Philadelphia, and many predict it will be accomplished.

Buffalo Bill is an active member of the I. O. and R. M. A new tribe at Nebraska has been named after him in the Indian vocabulary.

Rhode Island has 9 tribes and a membership of 1,500.

Several tribes are being quietly formed in Pennsylvania.

Massachusetts will have not far from 1,500 adoptions this term.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

Massachusetts Lodges Must Help the Newspapers—Notes.

Reporters of Massachusetts subordinate lodges have been ordered, by vote of the grand lodge, to provide the grand reporter with a record of their lodge doings after each meeting for publication in the newspapers. The salary of the grand reporter has been made $1,500 per annum, and that of the grand treasurer $100. The per capita tax remains at 80 cents, as the proposed advance to $1 was not considered necessary, as the treasury is in first class condition.

Last year the total number of deaths was 2,123.

During the past year 120 members have died in Massachusetts, of which 123 were full rate, 5 half rate and 1 quarter rate.

This required a payment of $201,500 to the beneficiaries of Massachusetts members. These members had paid in an average of a little over $300.

If there were thirty-six assessments per year, a full rate member would have to be in membership fifty-six years to pay in as much as his beneficiary would take out.

During the term of Colonel J. C. Ege as supreme dictator 30,000 members were admitted into the order.

MASONIC.

Benevolent Work of the Chicago Board of Relief—Notes.

In the year ending Feb. 6, 1892, the Chicago Masonic board of relief paid out for Masonic charity $1,080.05 and received from refunding $507.72, which made the net outlay $572.33. It appears that only 14 of the 35 lodges in the city are represented in the board when all should be. All the great cities now have efficient boards of relief for transient cases and find them essential as the only safe means of protection against impostors.

Tancred Commandery, No. 48, K. T., stationed at Pittsburg, has completed its arrangements for the pilgrimage to the triennial convocation at Denver, Aug. 9 to 12, 1892. The knights will have a Pullman vestibule train, through without change. The Colorado Knights Templars are using their utmost endeavors to make the triennial a perfect success.

Twenty-eight thousand six knights and ladies have been provided for by the hotel committee, and the indications are that the attendance will be immense.

No visitor in Pennsylvania can demand to see the warrant of a lodge previous to his examination, nor has any one the right to show it to him. If he does ask for it he should be promptly refused.

During the past year Grand Master Levi C. Good, of Ohio, has decided more than 300 questions on Masonry which had been proposed to him.

The salary fixed by the grand lodge of England for grand secretary is $5,000.

Troy, N. Y., has now a Masonic Veterans association. P. G. M. W. J. B. Anthony is the president.

India has several Templar bodies, and a provincial grand priory met in Bengal recently. Sir and Hon. H. T. Prinsep, provincial prior "on the throne."

At Cambridge, Mass., there is a P. G. M. —Bro. L. R. Page—who was elected eminent commander of K. T. in 1836.

The new Masonic home at Springfield, O., will have 154 acres of land, valued at over $80,000. The citizens of the town have donated the land and $11,000 besides.

Biglow lodge, of Cleveland, has subscribed $1,000 toward the Masonic home, of Ohio.

Kansas pays its grand secretary $1,500 per annum and its grand treasurer $300.

Lodges in England are not strong in membership. The social feature is very strong there, and hence the desire of limited and often exclusive membership.

The Order of the Temple in Canada is in declining condition.

Three English warranted lodges are working in Japan.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

A Headquarters for All Members in New York—Notes.

The Associated Knights of Pythias, of New York city, are now establishing their new quarters in the Horton building, 110 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, where they have leased a suite of rooms, carpeted and furnished them in regulation club style for the convenience of their members or visitors; they have also complete sets of supreme and grand lodge journals, with the various fraternal papers on file. The objects of the association are to promote the interest of the order generally by frequent meetings of the active members of New York and vicinity, to present an opportunity for fraternal association to all members of the order, either residents or visitors, by maintaining a headquarters where they may meet at any time, and to that end accumulate a fund for the purchase or erection of a Pythian hall or temple for the use of the association, and also for the use of lodges or other purposes as a source of profit, the surplus to be devoted to the maintenance of a Pythian home or other charitable objects, as the association may direct. Any member of the order is eligible to membership.

The grand chancellor-elect of Ohio, Bro. P. H. Dorn, has recently advanced from bachelorhood to the rank of benedict.

The interest on the average daily balance in the endowment bank repository during last year amounted to the handsome sum of $9,149.96.

A new lodge was instituted in St. Louis a few weeks ago with a charter membership of 100.

The Palestine Pythian brass band, of Jersey City, has been the means of adding several names to the order's membership roll. Those belonging to the band who were not knights have been made so.

A. O. U. W.

The Plan by Which the Order Meets Extra Expense—Notes.

Last year the New York state lodges paid back $140,000, borrowed the year before to pay 70 death claims caused by the grip. Two hundred and forty thousand members in other states assisted New York lodges, and were repaid within a year. By this plan the assessments on members of the A. O. U. W. were not increased in any state on account of the grip epidemic.

Total beneficiary fund disbursed in 1891, to Jan. 1, 1892, as shown by the monthly reports, $5,355,967.22.

Members in good standing Feb. 1, 1892, 275,791.

On Jan. 1 the jurisdiction of Massachusetts had 26,406 members, only 4,000 less than New York.

Texas jurisdiction has awakened into new life. The grand recorder reports for February a net increase of 162. He says, "With one exception this is the largest increase ever known in one month."

The Ancient Order of United Workmen in Nebraska is carrying $30,000,000 of insurance and the entire order about $40,000,000.

February, the shortest month in the year, was yet one of the best in the A. O. U. W.

Jan. 1, there were 273,689 members in good standing. Jan. 1, 1893, will record 300,000.

Oregon has 81 lodges and over 4,000 members. In March 1892 applications were approved and 130 certificates issued.

Order of Pentec.

The Order of Pentec has amended its laws to provide against excessive sick benefits and prevent members taking advantage by dropping out after having drawn benefits greatly exceeding their assessments. Under the new law members are entitled to one-half of their certificates in sick benefits, two weeks for each year. The order has also changed its laws in regard to admitting persons to membership. Hereafter there will be no medical examination required. The supreme officers are convinced that the changes will be a benefit to its members and will greatly facilitate the growth of the order in general.

Leave Ashland on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Passengers and freight will be carried to all the above points.

A New Map.

When Napoleon the First was in the full tide of success, overrunning Europe at his will, William Pitt said to his secretary: "Take that map down from the wall, and roll it up; we shall not need it for fifty years." In this country, our situation is much the same; we have to put away our old map as of no use, but unlike Pitt we never expect to use it again.

His maker of new maps was Napoleon; ours the railroad. The geographies used in school forty years ago are curiosities for a museum, but did you ever think that but for the railroad, we might use those same geographies with very little changes? The country west of the Mississippi would still be the "Mandan Territory" and the "Great American Desert." The railroads have filled the west with cities and towns, and the Burlington reaches more of the principal ones than any other line. For tickets, maps, and information, write to W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. ## The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
May 23.—A number of areas of low pressure,
or storm centers are shown by the S. N. charts today. The principal one is central north of Minnesota between Winnipeg and Minneapolis.
Another is over South Dakota, and still another over Iowa or the eastern coast.Generally fair clear weather prevails, however, in spite of these disturbances, except north of Minnesota and over and around Lake Erie, where rain is falling. While there is a strong probability of showers in this section
this afternoon or tonight, no heavy rain or storm of any account will be likely to affect it.On Saturday morning Duluth was the warmest place in the country shown on our charts.
This morning it is the coldest, with a temperature of 40° while all surrounding stations are 52° and at Bloomer 60°, the highest reported. The wind should shift to the south and southwest today and probably will by tonight.DULUTH, May 23.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 p. m. May 23: Fair, probably with light showers this afternoon or evening. Slight change in temperature; warmer tomorrow.
B. H. BRONSON,
Observer.WASHINGTON, May 23.—The temperature will fall slightly in the Northwest and will rise elsewhere. Forecast till 9 p. m. Tuesday: For Wisconsin and Michigan—Generally fair, followed by light showers in Upper Michigan; slightly warmer winds, becoming south. For Minnesota—Generally fair, preceded by light showers in Northern Minnesota; slightly warmer; southerly winds.

THE EVENING PAPER.

The axiom, "nothing is so successful
as success," has no better illustration
than in the progress made by the great institution of the country, the evening
papers, says the St. Paul News. It is already the paper of the people, taking
the place of the morning journal, which
for some years was supreme in the newspaper field. The tide, however,
has changed and it is the evening paper,
which is the favorite and which goes in to the homes and is enjoyed in the family circle as well as appreciated by the man of business.In the great cities of the country, like Chicago, where one of the evening
papers has a circulation exceeding 200,000
copies, in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland
St. Paul and Minneapolis, the evening papers lead in circulation the morning papers, have more subscribers, more readers and are a much better medium for advertising. What is true of those cities is also true of Duluth.The news of the world is amply given and the local happenings of the day so faithfully recorded that there is little left for the morning issues but to reproduce and work over the matter which the readers of evening papers had perused a dozen or more hours before. There was a striking illustration of this fact in the case of the Duluth morning papers yesterday, which faithfully rehearsed all the news of the previous day, which had been published in the great Saturday edition of The Herald. The people like the news when it is fresh, and that is why the evening paper, which covers the news field thoroughly, is found leading in circulation and influence.

THE FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

In his financial review for the past week Henry Clews, the New York
banker, says that despite the successful
attacks of the "bears" upon the stock exchange, the confidence of holders of dividend properties remains virtually unshaken. The "bears" have a theory that prices are too high as compared with a year ago, but that is theory ten-table? Is the situation today at all compared with a year ago? Mr. Clews thinks it is not. Within the twelve months, he points out, there has been a vast recovery from the world wide effects of the Baring shock, and the improvement is about as manifest in the European markets as on this side of the Atlantic. This country is now thriving on the benefits of unprecedented crops,
which a year ago were but dimly anticipated and not realized. At this date of 1891, all the money markets of Europe
were in a state of high tension, and apprehension was felt on every hand; the Bank of England rate of discount was 5 per cent; gold shipments from New York
were of unprecedented volume, the May export amounting to $28,000,000; the reverses of the New York banks were showing a surplus of only 3½ millions
and call money was bringing 5 per cent;
there was little demand for investment
securities and speculation was absolutely dormant; everywhere confidence was at a low ebb and distrust arrested every branch of enterprise. In short, everywhere financial affairs were at the lowest point of depression in one of those periods of reaction that come upon the world within every ten years, and stag-nancy, contraction and liquidation pervaded the two commercial continents.Where is the sense, he asks, in comparing the conditions of today with those then existing? The recovery within the twelve months' interval has been remarkable. Formerly the recuperation
following these general great reactions was gradual and slow. Under the changed conditions of modern business
it has become surprisingly rapid. International commercial and financial relations have become adjusted to the lightning methods of communication; asituation therefore is more quickly ascertained and consequently more rapidly and easily dealt with. In short, the world has become one vast counting-
room, in which a general disorganization
can be straightened out in as many weeks or months as it formerly required months or years. The significance of this change to the present situation is that the world has already gained a point of recovery from the great breakdown initiated by the Barings suspension, which, under former conditions,
would not have been reached until years later. We fail to keep pace in our judgments with the modern quicker pace
of events, and therefore the degree of recovery already attained from the break-up of 1890-91 is very imperfectly appreciated. This tardiness of comprehension has not, however, prevented the facts from finding expression in market values; but because some do not understand the cause of the improvement,
they conclude that the rise in values is premature.

BLAINE STOCK BOOMING.

Indications are increasing that when
two weeks from tomorrow the Republican delegates assemble in national convention at Minneapolis, almost the only name mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination will be that of James G. Blaine. This is the present trend of popular Republican sentiment,
but whether it will increase in volume sufficiently during the coming fortnight
to sweep the convention as by a tidal wave remains to be seen. The prospects are certainly very favorable to such an outcome.It is significant that the Minneapolis Tribune, heretofore the staunchest Harrison organ in the country and which would never admit that Mr. Blaine's name would come before the convention,
has within the past few days made a sudden change of base and acknowledges that the opposition to President Harrison is of a formidable character and may find expression in the nomination of Mr.
Blaine. It is frequently asserted that Mr. Blaine has said that he would decline the nomination if it were tendered to him, but certainly nothing of that character appears in the letter which he wrote on February 6. He said then that he was not a candidate, and neither he is today, but he cannot prevent his legion
of friends from presenting his name and nominating him, and there is not the slightest doubt that under such circumstances he would feel compelled to accept.Frank Hatton, editor of the Washington Post, who for many years, in common with other Grant and Conkling henchmen, fought Mr. Blaine with virulence and bitterness, has published his opinion that the occasion demands the nomination of Mr. Blaine. He believes also that a career so memorable, so brilliant, so fraught with promise, should not "stop short of its proper crown and culmination." "Mr. Blaine has been careful of his record in the matter," says Mr.
Hatton. "He has with scrupulousness,
with almost theatrical solicitude, removed himself from the path of his chief's ambition. He has protested with unctious and volubility that he is not to be considered in this year of our Lord. But we know whereof we speak when we declare, if in the face of all that has been said and done he were to receive the nomination of his party, he would be the happiest and proudest man in all America." Following close upon this statement comes another from John R.
McLean, the editor of the Cincinnati
Enquirer, who makes the direct assertion that "the convention to be held in Minneapolis on the 7th of June will nominate James G. Blaine for the office of president of the United States." Blaine,
he declares, has yielded to the pressure and has spoken to this extent: "I will do nothing to prevent my nomination. I have made my last denial." Yielding every consideration to party welfare, he is in the hands of the delegates.The principal opposition to the nomination of President Harrison has come from the Republican leaders in New York state. It has been asserted that this opposition was due to the fact that the president would not grant them
what they wanted in regard to the offices. There is good reason to believe, however,
that this is incorrect, and that their opposition is based upon the living, indisputable fact that with Mr. Harrison at the head of the ticket the New York Republicans will find it very difficult to carry their state, while they believe that with Blaine as the candidate they would be assured of success. The force of this sentiment may nominate Mr. Blaine on the first ballot.The Belle Plaine Herald, speaking from a Republican standpoint, disposes
of the question of the availability of a certain candidate in the following vigorous vein: "If there be any man in the state who should not be our next governor, that man is Knute Nelson. Mr.
Nelson is at heart thoroughly opposed to the Republican doctrine of high tariff, is the most out and out Democrat, yet Mr.
Nelson in self-aggrandisement lacks the courage to openly avow his convictions.
Such a man is scarcely the most fitting to preside over the government of a great state." It certainly would look queer to see Mr. Nelson running for governor, on a strong protective platform,
but it would be no more incongruous
than the spectacle presented in the cam-paign two years ago of Mr. Comstock, a pronounced high protectionist, standing on a low tariff platform.The St. Peter Herald and several other Democratic papers are urging the nomination of Daniel W. Lawler, of St.
Paul, by the Democrats for governor.
They are correct in saying that Mr.
Lawler is a young and vigorous man and would enhance the Democracy of the state. Mr. Lawler is a man of great magnetism, an enthusiastic and untiring worker, and an eloquent speaker who would add lustre and brilliancy to the campaign. Certainly the Democrats of Minnesota could select no more worthy or able standard bearer.It no doubt appeared strange to many people to read in the papers printed at 5 a. m. today that Deeming, the mur-derer, was hanged in Australia at 10:01 o'clock this morning. This was made possible by the great difference in time between Duluth and Melbourne.The fight on the anti-option bill in congress is expected to begin on Wednesday, when Mr. Hatch will endeavor to call up the measure. With the aid of the large number of farmers, Mr. Hatch can make a lively fight.

THE PLUMBERS' SIDE.

The Differences Between the Bosses
and Journeymen Explained.
To the Editor of The Herald:An article appeared in The Herald a few days ago, in reference to the present
difficulty between the master and journeymen plumbers, in which the journeymen were placed in an unfair light. We ask a small space in which to explain to the readers of The Herald our true position.On May 10, at 5 o'clock p. m., a copy of an agreement between masters and journeymen was given me by one of our members with the statement that it must be signed by the local union before noon
the next day. As it was impossible to have a meeting of the union in so short a space of time no answer was given the bosses and at 5 o'clock, May 11, we were all told to quit work until a settlement was had. Next day we presented a set of rules for the bosses' signature, the only difference from their agreement
being our refusal to grant a reduction of 50 cents a day on steamfitters' wages
and their rejection of a rule of ours asking a reduction of the number of helpers. These rules they refused to sign, and so the matter stands. As regards their statement that they are not allowed to send out of Duluth for better workmen than we have here, our answer is that if they can find better workmen
than those who did the Lyceum, the Union depot and the High school we have no objection and would gladly receive them.

Improving Cascade Park.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Now that Piedmont avenue above Fifth street is assuming regularity and is in a promising condition to become a favorite avenue for pedestrians who are fond of clambering up the hill to get a better view of the grand harbor, to watch the rolling whitecaps as they break upon
the beach and to view the splendor of the bay and lake, is it not a joy for each?
"Certainly" one would answer."Were it not for the incessant climb, bedraggled and weary, the rest of the
it will be beautiful in the end.
With its natural cooling water,
its groves and its shades,
The mountain ash, oaks, pines and firs,
A beach which is a gem."And so on, Mr. Editor, one could imagine he was wandering up the beautiful cultivated hills of Edinburgh, Montreal or the fair Hamilton, for how dexterous is the hand of man in bringing into subjection the rough, rugged and rocky, and it seems necessary to have a suitable resting place for the laboring community, the visitors and sightseers who have to depend upon the "shank's mare." For in regard to the latter, I mean the sightseers and visitors,
is the unlooked for that surprises.
The cultivated squares naturally beautiful, cannot but make an Easterner feel more at home in Duluth. That barren, looking spot is truly a blemish upon our otherwise beautiful city, and if a small proportion of the money that has been expended upon the boulevard for the benefit of those who can drive, could be laid out in improving Cascade Park,
would not the "blessings be more evenly distributed? There are certainly thousands of the citizens who can enjoy but a small portion of the beautiful boulevard.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Ole Olson," the noted Swedish dialect drama, will be seen at the Temple
tonight and will undoubtedly have a full house. This was the first play of its kind to be put before the public and it fell into popular favor at once. It has been considerably rewritten since its first appearance and is remarkably improved. The company appeared in Superior Saturday evening before a large audience and the Leader says:
"The performance was first class in every respect and the audience testified
their approval by hearty and frequent applause. The support was excellent.
Especially good was Miss Ella Evans,
who became famous in the "Brass Monkey." The singing of the Swedish quartet, "Ole's Sisters," was so pleasing that they were obliged to respond to several encores. They only appear in the last act but the audience would have been delighted had they sang in the previous one. Several specialties were introduced during the play."Will Carleton, Lyceum theater, June 4

AN APPEAL TO THE MAYOR.

The Song Birds of Woodland Ask Protection From Pot Hunters.
To His Honor the Mayor of Duluth:We are only the song birds, living heretofore at Woodland Park, but now
being hunted down and shot to death.
We appeal to you for protection. Woodland Park is within the city limits and under your control; hence the fugitive birds driven back into the woods and
from their homes, have asked me to present to you their cause. For years past we have lived and sung in the groves at Woodland and there in the maples and
birches, in the green fields and by the running streams, we have made our homes and raised our young. After your long winters the people there have always welcomed our return each spring
and the children have hailed with delight our first coming.This year we have had to make our nests and sing our songs amidst the cold
and wet, but yesterday the sun burst forth and we birds, gathered from every land and sang for joy. It was your Sunday and a Sabbath peace rested upon the woods, while the people from the city
brought their children out and strolled
under the budding trees to pick the wild flowers. No sound broke the stillness and we sang in peace until boys and
men came stealing upon us and shooting
us down.All the rest of the day the woods rang with the noise of guns, and we helpless
birds, frightened and wounded, flew from our haunts into the forest. The setting sun saw many of our number
dead and dying, and the night wind fell chill upon our deserted nests.We do no harm; we ask only to live,
to sing and to raise our young, that they, too, may sing in the woods and fields. Grant us your protection and we will ever sing. ROBIN RED BREAST.

A dispatch from Port Colborne says:
"Capt. Hayes, of Buffalo, master of the barge Ogara, bound from Duluth to Kingston in tow of the steamer Sequin,
fell overboard off his boat abreast of Port Stanley yesterday afternoon and was drowned. The tow rounded to and a boat was lowered and got within 20
feet of the struggling man, when he sunk.
The body was not recovered. The barge arrived this morning and proceeded on to Kingston." The last business done by Capt. Hayes was in Duluth about a week ago, when he was seen around the board of trade in company with Lewis

Big Shipment of Sheep. Twenty cars of sheep for John B. Sutphen arrived Saturday from Montana and were taken at once to his yards. There were 180 sheep in each car and they came through at thirty miles an hour from the place of shipment, the longest delay being twenty minutes at any one station. Not an animal was lost on the trip.

Patent Bumpers. A number of new patent "bumping posts" have been placed in position in the Union depot, which will do away with almost any possibility of trains running through or against the gate railings. The work of leveling the outside tracks will be commenced this week, and when completed the shed will be planked to the extreme outer edge.

Coal and Merchandise Docks. General Manager Fisher, in an interview in one of the Superior papers, says that the Duluth & Winnipeg road will put in one and a half merchandise docks on Allouez bay next winter, and these with the ore dock will cover about ninety-five acres. The coal dock is to be a very large one and to have a capacity of nearly 300,000 tons. The ore dock work, on which has already been commenced, will be 52 feet high and 55 feet wide, with pockets on both sides. The capacity of the dock will be about 200,000 tons and it is to be finished by Aug. 1.

Read the Big Duluth's "ad" in tonight's Herald.

The first floor will be fitted up for reception rooms, parlors and a cafe. The second floor will be a large concert hall and band or orchestra concerts will be given during the summer months. It will also be arranged so that summer opera may be presented. The third floor will be a ballroom. The sides of the building will be of glass and will be removable. Thirty-five arc lights will illuminate the buildings.

THEY ALL COME.

Saginaw Lumbermen Still Coming to Minnesota. J. T. Killoran, who left for Minnesota last week, says the Chicago Lumberman, to take charge of the lumbering operations of Wright, Davis & Co., said that the contract for completing the road bed of the 26 miles of logging road will be finished at an early date, that two locomotives and 60 logging cars have been purchased, camps will be built and cutting of logs the past winter, and expects to cut all the road can handle next season. This company is composed of A. W. Wright, C. H. Davis, C. W. Wells and J. C. Stone, all well-known Saginaw lumbermen. They own about 60,000 feet of timber, with large tracts adjoining them. It is the intention to bank the logs on the Mississippi and raft them to Minneapolis.

These gentlemen are all interested in Duluth, especially Messrs. Wells and Stone, and they have been here frequently during the past two or three months. Their visits occasioned some talk, especially on the Superior side of the bay, of a monster lumber combination in the Northwest but the above probably explains the visits of Messrs. Wright, Davis and the others.

KILLED FROM AMBUSH

A Georgia Man Meets a Sudden Death at the Hands of His Enraged Son-in-Law.

E. A. Cochran Eloped With the 14-Year-Old Daughter of S. W. Conley, But They Were Separated.

After Making Several Futile Attempts to Recover His Wife, Cochran Shot Her Father From Ambush.

MADISON, Ga., May 23.—On Saturday night S. W. Conley was shot and killed from ambush by E. A. Cochran. Conley's daughter, 14 years old, had married Cochran, a man of 55, eloping from her father's house for this purpose about three months ago. Recently she was taken from her husband and restored to her father by order of the court. Cochran had made several attempts to regain possession of his wife, but each attempt had failed.

As Conley was returning to his home from Madison on Saturday when passing through a clump of trees near his house he was fired upon by Cochran, the bullet passing through his head. There is great excitement over the assassination.

An Inmate of a Lunatic Asylum Killed by Attendants.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 23.—Michael J. Carey, an inmate of Anchorage insane asylum, near this city, was killed Friday evening by Attendants Buchanan and Ellis. Carey was violent and attempted to kill the attendants. A struggle occurred between the lunatic and the two men. Buchanan and Ellis threw him upon the floor and fell heavily upon him with their knees, crushing out his life.

A patient who saw the struggle says that the attendants used unnecessary violence and kicked the unfortunate lunatic in the stomach after knocking him down. Buchanan and Ellis have been placed under arrest.

NOW "COCK OF THE WALK."

A Savage Fight Between a Coach Dog and a Game Cock.

SEA ISLE CITY, N. J., May 23.—A novel fight took place in Bridgeton, N. J., on Tuesday. George Kinkle is the owner of a coach dog and a game cock. The rooster and the dog are enemies and on Tuesday they decided to end the matter by a fight. The dog fought savagely for half an hour, and at every onslaught was bravely met by the game cock, which buried its spurs in the breast and back of its adversary until he was bleeding from many wounds.

The dog was finally whipped and driven into Kinkle's house, while the game cock strutted about the yard, crowing lustily over its victory. It lost many of its plumes and received several severe bites, but it is now literally "cock of the walk."

FIFTY MILLIONS SHORT.

Inspector Clausen's Figures on Northwestern Crops This Year.

ST. PAUL, May 23.—A. C. Clausen, chief grain inspector of Minnesota, returned yesterday from a trip over the northern part of the state. Referring to the prospects of a crop of wheat this year he said: "North of the line of the Northern Pacific, along the line of the Red River, both in North Dakota and Minnesota, seed sowing has progressed very slowly indeed. Figuring the acreage likely to be put into wheat in the states of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, with the average yield per acre for the last five years, there is likely to be a shortage of from 40,000,000 to 50,000,000 of bushels from last year's yield, which was about 150,000,000 bushels."

A UNIQUE EXPERIENCE.

The First Train From the West Into Sioux City.

BURLINGTON, Ia., May 23.—Burlington passenger No. 4 arrived here last evening, being the first train from the West since Saturday. It was due at 9:30 Saturday night. The passengers report a unique experience. Being the first train from the West since Saturday, they were compelled to stay there all night. The Burlington company fed them free of charge in a dining car and Sunday morning whiffing services were conducted on the train by a minister who happened to be aboard. A goodly collection was taken up for him.

THE DEAD AND DYING.

One of the Oldest Pioneers of Fort Wayne is Dead.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 23.—Hon. F. D. Prandall, one of the oldest pioneers of this city, died suddenly at his residence on East Berry street, this morning, of heart failure. He was born in Madison county, N. Y., June 2, 1812. He came to this place in 1838, practiced law and framed the first city charter which became a law in 1840. He was state senator in 1847, was brigadier general of state militia in 1855, a presidential elector in 1856 and voted for James Buchanan for president. He was mayor of this city from 1859 to 1865 and from 1869 to 1873.

A Vanderbilt Seriously Ill.

NEW YORK, May 23.—William H. Vanderbilt, the eldest son of Cornelius Vanderbilt and a student at Yale, has been sick with typhoid fever at his father's house in this city. Yesterday there was a change in his condition and late last night his father said that the change was for the worse.

Bishop O'Reilly Very Ill.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 23.—The serious illness of Right Rev. P. L. O'Reilly, bishop of Springfield, was announced yesterday from the pulpit. He has been bishop of Springfield for twenty-two years.

A Playwright Dying.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Charles Gaylor,

the veteran American playwright, is dying in St. John's hospital, Brooklyn. Mr. Gaylor is 73 years old and was born on Oliver street, this city, in April, 1820. He is suffering from a combination of diseases, the most fatal being heart disease and Bright's disease.

COWARDLY TO THE LAST.

Deeming the Australian Murderer, Hanged This Morning. MELBOURNE, May 23.—Frederick Bailey Deeming, the murderer, was hanged in the prison yard at 10 o'clock this morning. Deeming walked unsteadily between the guards to the gallows and several times tottered as if about to fall. His face was ashen and he shook like a man with the palsy. Several times when the chaplain spoke to him encouragingly in an undertone Deeming parted his lips to reply but he uttered no sound. He seemed to be stupefied by his approaching death.

When his arms were pinioned he wavered and would have fallen had he not been caught by the warden. At first he shook his head when his last opportunity to speak was given him, then he rallied from his stupor and with a strong effort called out: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." He tried to say more and stood with his mouth half open, but no words came. As the noose was adjusted his knees knocked together and he would have collapsed had he not been supported until he was swung into mid-air. He died without a struggle and almost instantly.

THE BOOM FOR BLAINE.

The Miller Men in New York Shouting for Blaine.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Herald says: Many Republican politicians of note were still in the city yesterday and conferences were the order of the day. National Chairman J. S. Clarkson, who is engineering the Blaine boom which was launched forth the other day, was a busy man. Consul General at London John C. New, President Harrison's able lieutenant, met Mr. Clarkson at the Plaza hotel and the gentlemen had quite an extended chat. Among others who saw Mr. Clarkson were Cornelius Bliss, Gen. W. H. Dodge, Gen. Butterfield, Gen. Horace H. Porter, ex-Congressman Burleigh and R. W. Patterson, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune.

The Miller men in the city have thrown all discussion overboard and are now openly declaring for Blaine and against Harrison.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

One Man Killed and Another Injured on a Railroad.

NEWARK, N. J., May 23.—Jacob Buzzard of Elizabeth, and Herman Philadelphi of Philadelphia, were struck by the fast Philadelphia train while walking on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad near Linden yesterday. Buzzard was thrown fifty feet and instantly killed. Kunze was thrown high in the air and landed against a fence. One of his arms was broken and he was internally injured.

A FIRE IN A TUNNEL.

The Timbers of the Coosa Mountain Tunnel Burned.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 23.—All trains on the Columbus & Western railroad were stopped yesterday on account of a disastrous fire which is raging in Coosa mountain tunnel, twenty miles from Birmingham. It is supposed that a spark from a passing engine set the timbers of the tunnel on fire.

Fire engines have been sent from this city. It will be several days before the flames can be checked. The construction of this tunnel cost $1,000,000. The damage will be very great.

THERE MAY BE BLOODSHED.

Trouble in Prospect on the Mexican Border.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 23.—Constable Oberlander on Friday tried to arrest a man from Sonora charged with kidnapping, but he ventured over the line and was imprisoned himself. Saturday night he induced the guard to remove the shackles from his arm so he could write a letter, when he knocked out the guard and started for American soil.

He ran two miles at a great pace, crossed the boundary, but was overhauled and locked up. Much feeling prevails and there may be bloodshed, as armed gangs of Americans and Mexicans are on the watch at the line.

New Trial Wanted.

BOSTON, May 23.—Efforts will be made to obtain a new trial for James A. Trevelthick, who was convicted for the murder of Lena Davis, on the ground of alleged new evidence showing that she drowned herself.

A Bunco-Steerer Caught.

LONDON, May 23.—It is reported that Thomas O'Brien, the notorious bunco-steerer, who was extradited from England to the state of New York and who escaped from the officers in that state after being convicted and sentenced to prison, has been arrested in Paris today.

Later—The arrest of O'Brien, the New York bunco steerer, has been confirmed. He was captured at Havre while leaving the steamer Marseilles which left New Orleans on May 1 for Havre and Antwerp. The fugitive tried to leave the steamer with the cargo when he was detected and captured.

Walking is Good.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 24.—All the street car lines of this city are tied up this morning, the men having struck for an increase of pay from $1.50 per day to $1.75. The strikers number fifty-two.

Read the Big Duluth's "ad" in tonight's Herald.

Letter Carrier's Meeting.

John Henneberry, president of the Duluth Letter Carriers' association, has called a meeting of that body for tomorrow evening to elect a delegate to the national convention of letter carriers to be held in Indianapolis. The object is to secure better pay and reorganization for letter carriers, who are probably the hardest worked and poorest paid of any class of men in the government employ.

LEGAL AUXILIARIES.

Gentlemen Who Laugh Because They Are Retained to Do So.

"Mr. McGlue, I suppose?" said a robust looking man with a big mouth, walking into the office of that well known merchant the other morning. "You'll have to excuse me just now," said the business man snapping his watch; "I've got an important case to attend to in court this morning."

"Exactly," said the stranger. "I noticed it on the calendar, so I called. Don't you want to engage me?"

"Are you a lawyer?"

"I—a lawyer? No—I'm not exactly what you'd call a lawyer. I am a legal cackinuator."

"A what?"

"Why, a professional laugher. I laugh at all the jokes of my client's lawyer; don't you see? Exasperates the other side. Grapple with the idea, don't you?"

"Can't say I do, exactly."

"Well, I'll explain. You see, there is nothing so effective in a trial by jury as ridicule, satire and so on. Now it is also a singular fact that ninety-nine out of a hundred jurymen never see the point of a joke, no matter how plain it is, but they are always ready to join any one who starts a laugh—just like a flock of sheep."

"Are they?"

"Yes, experience has proved that the large majority of mankind need to be told when to laugh. They have to be set in motion, so to speak, like a row of bricks."

"Yes, but—"

"But what has that to do with your case, eh? I'll tell you. You see, I sit in court where the jury can see me easily, and whenever your counsel cracks a joke and says something funny I laugh like an end man of a minstrel show and pound the floor with a big stick. Of course the jury joins in and the other side becomes perfectly furious."

"Makes 'em savage, eh?" said the merchant.

"It does. And the saviour the lawyer gets the more the jury and the spectators are impressed in your favor. Why, in Skeggs versus Skindlerly last week I actually laughed the plaintiff clear out of court."

"You did, eh?"

"Yes, sir. You see, when the opposition counsel tries to be funny in turn I scrape my foot on the floor, cough, drop my stick and look as solemn as an undertaker. I throw that in, though, without extra charge."

"That's kind of you."

"Don't mention it. Now just retain me in your case and I'll do more good than all the high priced lawyers in the country. I shan't cost you much; I'll also put on a couple of boys—apprentices of mine. They're not very reliable yet, but when we work together we're a team, I tell you. One of 'em is particularly promising; has a mouth almost as big as a doorway, and can break an ordinary window glass—not plate glass, you know—at six feet distance by laughing at it, five times out of six. Nearly shook down the gallery while doing the 'deafening applause' and 'uncontrollable merriment' at a political meeting the other night, and—"

"I'll absent! I'll think of it. Yes, I think perhaps you'd better drop in again this afternoon," said the merchant thoughtfully.

And as Purfy, the defendant in McGlue versus Purfy, is now carrying the case to the appeal court it is fair to suppose the specialist was engaged.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

By Any Other Name.

He was not such a dreadfully desperate looking citizen, and when he was ranged up in front of the judge of the police court that dignitary was disposed to be lenient.

"What is your name?" inquired the court rather kindly.

"John Smith, your honor," responded the prisoner politely.

"That ain't the name he goes by where he lives, your honor," put in the policeman who arrested him and had noticed that the judge was prejudiced in his favor.

"Ain't," said the judge, "he has two names, has he? What is the other one?"

"They call him 'Boardin House Beef,' your honor," said the policeman.

"Very odd name," remarked the judge, "very odd. What do they call him that for?"

"Because, your honor, he is a good deal tougher than he looks."—Detroit Free Press.

Understood.

"I say, Dubois, you do know how to lay it on thick, old man! I like your cheek telling Miss Brown she spoke French without the least accent!"

"Vy, certaintment, mon ami—without ze least French accent!"—London Punch.

Didn't Know It.

BIG FIRE IN SPOKANE.

The Washington City of Marvellous Growth
Visited by a Fire Which Caused
Very Great Damage.

Several Men Jumped From the Top Floor of a Building and Others Perished
in It.

A Peculiar Murder and Lynching in Louisiana
in Which Only Two Men Took Leading Parts.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 24.—Fire originated in a sawmill and quickly spread to the Spokane mills adjoining, last evening. Several men jumped from the top floor of the building and it is thought several others perished in the building. The flames then communicated to the Echo mills, a four-story flouring mill, the Spokane laundry, the oatmeal mill, Post street bridge, Howard street bridge, C and C mills and the Spokane Carpet Cleaning company. The loss will probably aggregate $300,000 to $350,000.

ONLY TWO MEN IN IT.

A Peculiar Murder and a Peculiar Lynching in Louisiana.
BASTROP, La., May 24.—A most peculiar murder and a most peculiar lynching occurred Sunday. One man committed the murder and one man did the lynching, with the assistance of the murderer. S. C. Brigham, manager of a plantation on Island de Siard, was shot from ambush by an old negro. The negro then walked to the plantation residence, summoned Col. Phillips, the owner, and told him he had killed Brigham and wanted to be hung for it. Col. Phillips put a rope around the negro's neck, pulled the rope over the limb of a tree and the negro was soon swinging in a death struggle. It is thought the negro was insane.

HELD TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL.
An Important Decision by the Mississippi Supreme Court.

JACKSON, Miss., May 24.—Ever since the adoption and putting into force of the Mississippi constitution of 1890, its validity has been questioned for the reason that it was not submitted to the public for ratification, which it was claimed was necessary under the old constitution. The supreme court yesterday settled the point, holding that the constitutional convention was the embodiment of the sovereignty of the people and that it was competent for it to put into effect the new constitution without submitting it to be voted upon. This view was taken by the judiciary committee of the convention during its session, and the report made by Judge Wiley P. Harris, chairman, to the convention is sought after by lawyers and courts from all parts of the Union.

THINKING OF RESIGNING.

The Faculty of Lawrence University are in Trouble.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 24.—A dispatch from Appleton to a morning paper states that the entire faculty of Lawrence university is on the point of resigning, as the result of a disagreement with the executive committee of the university trustees. Last week Fay F. Jones, a student of the university, was dismissed by the faculty. The father protested to the faculty in vain and then carried the matter before the executive committee, which yesterday reversed the faculty's decision.

The faculty held a meeting and resolved to resign if the committee would not withdraw its decision. The president's absence at Omaha, in attendance upon the conference, makes the state of affairs very critical. Today the committee will hold another meeting.

A BUNCO STEELER'S CHASE.

Followed a Steamer in a Tug to Get Out of the Country.
NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—O'Brien, the bunco stealer mentioned in dispatches last evening as being arrested at Havre, and who afterwards escaped, left here under the name of G. W. Garrett on the steamship Marcellus, of the French line. He bought a ticket at the very last minute to avoid having his name made known by appearing on the passenger list, missed the ship by half an hour, boarded a Norwegian freighter and chased the ship to the mouth of the river, but the Marcellus was sixteen miles at sea. He got on board a speedy pilot tug and, after an all day chase, overtook the ship.

STEALING BY WHOLESALE.

Small Stockmen in Johnson County Committing Depredations.
DOUGLAS, Wyo., May 24.—It is reported that the small stockmen of Johnson county are shooting down, on the ranches, cows and calves, following them and branding the calves, and that wholesale stealing of cattle is of daily occurrence. Following this comes an announcement that the United States officers en route to Fort McKinney have been held up and treated in a shameful manner. United States deputy marshals are serving injunctions against the small stockmen of Crazy Woman, who have almost completed their roundup. The country is still patrolled by armed men, and at present it would be impossible for an invading force to surprise the stockmen.

Dr. Penrose Released.
CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 24.—The first of the Johnson county invaders to get into court is practically freed. The application for a habeas corpus for Dr. Charles B. Penrose, the expedition surgeon, was granted. He has furnished bail to appear when required.

Elopers Caught.
DETROIT, Mich., May 24.—Edward A. Oakes, manager of a theatrical company, who eloped from Pittsburgh two weeks ago with Emma Miller, an 18-year-old soubrette, was arrested here yesterday. He is charged by the Pittsburgh police with taking some of the company's money. The girl was also arrested, but was turned over to her mother, who resides in Philadelphia and who had traced the couple here.

A Vanderbilt Dead.
NEW YORK, May 24.—William H. Vanderbilt, eldest son of Cornelius Vanderbilt, who has been suffering for some days past of typhoid fever, died last night at 10:15 o'clock. He was surrounded by his father, mother, brothers and sisters when he passed quietly away.

Murdered by Burglars.
JACKSON, Ga., May 24.—Capt. J. A. Sloane, 81 years old, one of McDonough's most respected citizens and father of ex-Congressman Andrew Sloane, of Savannah, was murdered Sunday night by burglars. The robbers secured about $1000. Officers are scouring the country for the assassins.

Venezuelan Insurgents Win.
PUERTO CABELLO, May 24.—Gen. Colina, at the head of a body of insurgents from Falcon, has captured the city of Coro. He then marched toward La Vela, which is an important port. Gen. Quintana, who raised the standard of Crespo at Maitana about the middle of May, has defeated the government Gen. Pacheco.

Amnesty to Prisoners.
RIO JANEIRO, May 24.—The senate has passed a law granting amnesty to political prisoners, of whom there are a large number confined in this city.

GARDNER MUSIC COMPANY.
Something About the Firm and Its Elegant Quarters.

The Gardner Music company is not, strictly speaking, an entirely new firm, but is an enlargement, an alteration of a business already well established. The new store is located at 228½ West First street in one of the convenient store-rooms of the new Howe block. The company carries a large line of the principal makes of pianos, organs and all other small musical instruments. Among the well-known makes of pianos for which they are agents are the Steck, Ahlstrom, Kimball and others. Their principal makes of organs are the Clough & Warren, the Palace and the Kimball. One advantage which the Gardner Music company has is that it buys direct from the makers of all these first-class lines of instruments, not having anything whatever to do with agents of any description. This enables them to place their instruments before their customers at lower rates and on easier terms than houses which deal through a line of middlemen or agents. Their store is elegantly fitted up and in a very pleasant neighborhood, convenient to the business center of the city. D. E. Gardner, who is the head of the newly-organized firm, is the only new-comer, and his reputation as an educator is so firmly grounded that even he seems like an old acquaintance. Nels Hall is the principal partner outside of Mr. Gardner. Mr. Hoare is the manager and he needs no introduction to Duluth people. Mr. J. Pilkey, also very well known here, is one of the salesmen. The Gardner Music company start here under the most favorable auspices, with the advantage of Mr. Gardner's great musical proficiency and an abundant capital, an elegant new store, an already established trade and well-known salesmen and above all a very fine line of the best makes of the various kinds of musical instruments which they carry. In educational ranks, particularly in his chosen branch of mathematics, Mr. Gardner is entitled by degree to the prefix "professor," having made a most brilliant record during seventeen years in that chair in the Wisconsin state normal school at Platteville, Wis. In musical circles, where his skill and proficiency are equally great, he is simply "Mr." Gardner. The company's pleasant salesrooms at No. 228½ West First street are accessible to all and make a very attractive place to visit.

THE CITIZEN SOLDIER.

The Flower of the National Guard Expected to be Present at the Coming Encampment at Omaha.

This is the Centennial Year of American Militia and the Drill Has Aroused Great Excitement.

Several Novel Features in Military Tactics and Many Magnificent Drills Have Been Promised.

The approaching encampment of the National Competitive Drill association, to be held in Omaha during the week beginning June 13, is but the ripe fruit of the idea embodied in the recommendation made by George Washington after the close of the Revolutionary war to the governors of the original thirteen states. The "Father of his Country" then suggested "the adoption of a proper peace establishment, in which care should be taken to place the militia throughout the Union on a proper and efficient footing."

The United States has since passed through the "general muster day" period into the present national guard system, until now, as will be evidenced at the encampment at Omaha, the militia of many of the states of the Union can furnish men who in case of war would not compare unfavorably with the regular army organization.

Last September the secretary of war approved a set of new drill regulations

recommended to him for use in the army, and these will govern all the contests at Omaha.

The contesting organizations at the encampment will find in the prizes promised enough of honor and pecuniary reward to act as powerful incentives for the putting forth of their best endeavors. There will be $16,000 in cash prizes. Half of this amount will be assigned to the national infantry drill. But the other branches of the service will not be neglected by any means. There will also be prizes for the artillery, Gatling gun and zouave drills, and a sort of "consolation prize," as horsemen would put it, will be given for the "maiden" infantry.

Two of the crack companies which will compete are the Belknap Rifles and the St. Louis Branch Guards. The former now hold the Galveston semi-centennial cup, representing the championship of the United States, and as there will be present the best drilled organizations from every section of the country, it may confidently be expected that the honor of capturing this much coveted trophy for the ensuing year will be stubbornly contested.

It is expected that there will be present at the encampment more than one hundred companies and drill squads, representing the flower of the national guard of the United States. Several novel features in military tactics and many magnificent drills are promised, and the large number of experts who will attend will make the coming out of every detail of the programme possible. There will be prize sword games, the sum of $1,000 has been expended in purchasing these trophies, which will be awarded to the captains of the various organizations for exceptional proficiency in their duties.

Colonel H. B. Mulford, inspector general of the Nebraska national guard, is the president of the Competitive Drill association. He was elected last year at the organization in Indianapolis. At the same time Colonel John E. Aitchison, of the Omaha guards, was chosen as the first secretary of the national association. Both are well known in militia circles, and both are earnest and active advocates of every measure tending to elevate this important branch of the service.

Washington foresaw the great possibilities of the militia and its importance to the country at large when he declared, with almost prophetic vision, that "the militia must be considered as the palladium of our security and our first effectual resort in case of hostility."

The old law regarding "general muster" is still on the statute books, but the march of improvement and the increased efficiency of volunteer military companies have caused the law to be ignored, as, while the principle at the time it was framed was in the right direction, its enforcement now would only serve to bring the service into contempt. The latest official returns give the number of enlisted and commissioned militiamen in the United States as about 111,000.

tions of the Union. Any person can see at a glance the great dangers to which a state would be exposed by a constitutional convention, if this decision held good. There would probably be few constitutional conventions authorized.

A CRUEL PRACTICE.

Another correspondent makes an appeal today in the columns of The Herald
for protection for the birds. It is really a shame that the practice of shooting the feathered songsters that make our groves
and woods ring with their bright melody
should be permitted to exist.

There is no excuse whatever for this wanton destruction of the birds, and even if there is no law against shooting
them, the city authorities can put a stop to a large part of the cruel practice by arresting those who indulge in shooting
within the city limits. There is an ordinance providing penalties for those guilty of discharging fire-arms in the city, and the enforcement of its provisions
would do much to protect the defenseless birds.

Will not the chief of police give this matter his attention? And, by the way,
will not Humane Agent Haskins pause
from the annihilation of broken-down,
spavined and winded trotters and pacers
and devote a few hours to preserving the lives of the birds?

A peculiar lynching in Louisiana is reported in the dispatches today. An old negro shot a man from ambush and then went to the owner of the plantation and asked that he be hanged. The plantation owner was willing, put a rope around
the negro's neck and soon the murderer was suspended from a tree. This is the strange story that the dispatch tells, but
the public is not required to believe all its details.

One of the young Vanderbilts has just died from typhoid fever. Even the great wealth of his family could not prevent him from falling a victim to the typhoid germ. The fact is again emphasized that disease and death are no
respecters of persons.

This is a great day throughout the British empire. It is the anniversary of the birth of Queen Victoria, and in all portions of the vast empire over which the British flag floats "the queen's birthday" is being observed as a holiday.

Spare the Birds.

The easy access to the woods adjoining the city, made possible by our splendid system of short line trains and electric cars, has developed a class of pleasure seekers whose practice is far from commendable. Johnny, with his little musket, could be heard all day Sunday
banging away at every living thing that showed itself.

There is a time and a place for everything, but the time for practice is not now,
and the place for practice is not in the immediate vicinity of the dwellings of suburban residents. These latter do not want to see the woods robbed of the little songsters, and they would gladly assist the proper authorities in putting a stop to the wanton and cruel practice.

No true sportsman would be guilty of such conduct, which is most reprehensible, both from a humane and economic standpoint.

If Johnny and his pa must have some sport during the summer, let them go fishing, or, if they don't like that, they will be well repaid by giving the birds a chance to mate in peace and waiting until the proper season comes, when there will be game birds enough to afford fair
sport and good recreation. FAUNA,

AMUSEMENTS.

"Ole Olson." "Ole Olson" was played to a packed house at the Temple last evening and seemed to give entire satisfaction. The play is about the same as it was two years ago but has had some revision.
Bob Hendricks as Ole was good and his dialect was pretty clever. Alice Evans,
the soubrette, was bright and attractive.
Miss St. George Hussey gives the part of Bridget O'Flanigan a vigorous interpretation, and Charles I. Sine, as the erratic Dr. Shingle, was quite funny.
The singing of the Swedish quartet was the best feature of the performance and they were recalled four or five times.

Original Georgians.
Tomorrow night the Temple presents
the Original Georgian Minstrels, who have just played a successful engagement at St. Paul and Minneapolis and it is on the recommendation of Col. Scott of the Metropolitan that Manager Condon took the company. Uncle Sam Robinson, the noted bone soloist and end
man, is with the company and also Jack Oliver, Professor A. L. Tutt, the banjo and guitar soloist, Charles H. Miller, the bass soloist and many other old-time minstrel performers.

Political Acrobats.
[St. Paul News.]
Duluth Herald: "In a recent interview, Senator Davis expressed himself as opposed to the
nomination of Knute Nelson as governor
of Minnesota. What will the Davis Republicans, who have been booming Nel-
son, say now?"

The Davis Republicans have never been booming Nelson. There is a distinct line drawn with the friends of Duluth on one side and those of Nelson on the other. Two or three of the practical politicians have tried to keep a foot on each side, but the result has not been sat-

avenue in place of the portions of said South street and St. Louis avenue hereby granted in the Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal Company shall forfeit the franchise hereof
granted that road.

Use the right to construct, use, maintain,
operate and own for railroad, street, street car,
railway, and passenger purposes a bridge with a suitable draw from the southerly extremity of Fifth avenue west in the city of Duluth according to the recorded plat thereof, to a point at Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof,
on such a plan and of such material as shall be approved or required by the municipal authorities of the city of Duluth, and the authorities of the United States government in the interests of navigation; also the right to use with railway tracks within the limits granted all such streets,
avenues, alleys and highways in said city of Duluth as may be necessary to the full, free and unobstructed use and enjoyment of the right-of-way herein granted for railway purposes and to lay one or more railway tracks within said limits
upon or across any and all of the streets,
alleys and highways hereinabove specified, and
to use the streets and bridges above mentioned, said rights are granted in consideration of the benefits that the construction and operation of said Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal Company will be to the city of Duluth, and they are so granted upon the express condition that said bridge from Fifth avenue west to Minnesota Point and the approaches thereto, shall be sufficiently strong to accommodate
of teams and foot passengers coming and going
and the roadways and footways thereof
shall be open to the free and unobstructed use of the public for teams and foot passengers whenever any charges or toll whatsoever. And those portions of said bridge used for foot passengers, teams and street cars, and steam railroads shall be separated each from the other by suitable divisions to be constructed and approved by the board of public works, said
bridge to be finished and completed by July 1st, 1893.

The right to the use of said roadways on said
bridge and its approaches only, for street railway purposes, however, is expressly reserved to
said railway and terminal company, its successors and assigns, and said railway and terminal
company shall have the sole and exclusive right
to control, exercise or dispose of its own benefit and advantage, any and all street railway
rights and privileges over or across said bridge
and its approaches.

The structure of said bridge and approaches
shall be maintained and kept in repair, and the draw of said bridge shall be operated by, and at the expense of said railway and terminal company; but the planking of the roadways and footways of said bridge and approaches shall be renewed whenever necessary by said city at its own expense.

Section 2. The said Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal Company shall operate its lines of railway within the corporate limits
of the city of Duluth as a terminal and transfer company so far as may be necessary to transfer complete and equitable terminal and transfer facilities for freight and passengers to all railroads entering Duluth and desiring to connect with the tracks of said company, and shall permit reasonable connections to be made and shall serve impartially and upon equal terms and conditions all railroads so connecting with its lines.

Section 3. The rates to be charged by said
Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal Company for the use of its facilities shall be reasonable charges without any discrimination against any party it may serve, and in case of dispute as to the reasonableness of such charges
these rates shall be determined by the railroad commissioners of the state of Minnesota, or by arbitration.

Section 4. The said Duluth & Northeastern
Railway and Terminal company, its successors
or assigns, shall at all times be required to use the said streets, avenues and highways, in such manner as not to unnecessarily interfere with
the use of the same for public travel thereon,
and the said Railway and Terminal company,
its successors or assigns shall construct and
maintain suitable roadways over its tracks,
which may be laid upon or across any of said
streets, avenues or highways, which are now or may hereafter be opened and used for public
travel, and shall take all reasonable precautions
to protect the public from accidents at all its crossings and along its tracks within the city limits.

Provided, said Railway and Terminal company shall hold the city of Duluth harmless
from all damages that may accrue to any person or corporation by reason of the construction of said railway through the streets or avenues
of said city.

Section 5. The right hereby granted to the use of said streets, avenues and highways, shall at all times be subject to the right of the city of Duluth to enter upon and use any part of said
streets, avenues or highways, for the purpose
of constructing there in such sewers or systems

of drainage or outlets, or gas or water mains, or conduits for electric wires, or other purposes, as
the common council of said city may from time to time adopt, and the said tracks and crossings laid thereon shall be under the supervision and direction of the board of public works where necessary to depart from grade,
and in such case the said board may establish
the grade on which such tracks shall be laid.

Section 6. The said Railway and Terminal Company shall, with reasonable dispatch and
as rapidly as the same can be utilized, construct and put in operation its tracks upon the rights of way hereby granted, and construct and pre-facilities in the ways of docks, wharves, warehouses, and other structures as shall be reasonably necessary to accommodate the business of other railroads connecting with it, and shall within forty-five (45) days after the acceptance of this ordinance, commence work upon the construction of the railway hereinafore mentioned, and prosecute the same continuously and diligently, and shall have at least one continuous line of railway connecting the main land, north of said ship canal, with the unplat-
ted portion of said Minnesota Point, and said
bridge from Fifth avenue west to Minnesota Point, finished and completed on or before the first day of July, 1893.

Section 7. Said Railway and Terminal Company shall not make more than one charge for any one switching or transfer of any car, and
for each service of various classes, shall from time to time, publish a tariff of its charges
therefor, and in case of freight coming from or destined to any point more than one mile distant from any point on the navigable waters adjacent to the city of Duluth, no charge for any except to the railroad company, or transportation
company, from whom freight is received or
to whom it is delivered, empty cars to be returned free. And no railway or transportation company shall make one switching or transfer service shall be made
except to the railroad company, or transportation
company, from whom freight is received or
to whom it is delivered, empty cars to be

"IT'S NO BLUFF, IT GOES."

W.C. Sargent Tells the Council It Must Pass the Ordinance as Submitted or He Would Withdraw.

The Council Passes It and Votes Down an Amendment Offered by Alderman Thomas.

Ald. Kennedy Gets in a Word or Two About the Red Lake Falls & Northern Road.

The Duluth & Northern Railway and Terminal company ordinance passed the council last night, but not without some opposition. All the aldermen were in their seats except Alderman Long. Previously to the reading and passage of the ordinance the old dyke line ordinance, as it is known, was repealed. The existence of this was but recently discovered. It granted the right to the Duluth Railway Transfer and Dockage company to build a bridge along the line of the old dyke from Spence avenue to Chambers street upon complying with certain conditions. These were not carried out, but the ordinance was never declared forfeited until last evening.

The Sargent ordinance was unchanged except the clause in relation to Railroad street, thirty feet of which is given. This provided that any other railroad must be permitted to use this by paying a proportionate share of a 6 per cent interest charge and the taxes and expense immediately after the reading. S. D. Allen arose and addressed the council asking that the same condition be made in reference to Jefferson street in East Duluth as was made with Railroad street. As the ordinance read it gives the exclusive right to the whole street and any other road would have to take still another street.

This brought Alderman Kennedy to his feet and his love for the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern again shone forth, although he was laboring under a misapprehension. "Do I understand," said he, "that the gentleman didn't get all he wanted when the Red Lake Falls ordinance was passed? What does he want now?"

Alderman Thomas thought all streets which affected the right-of-way between the East and West ends of the city ought to bear the same condition but Alderman Weiss said that the company was building a terminal road and provision was made for proper charges to other roads and that to grant other roads the right to run over its tracks would destroy its business as a terminal road. Alderman Thomas said that the city would probably have another franchise to give and ought to surround this with all possible safeguards. Here Alderman Kennedy bobbed up again, and with a grin at Attorney Allen, said: "The alderman is mistaken. He will soon have the Red Lake Falls franchise to give away again. I never had any faith in that road and it will never be built and in about four weeks we can give that franchise away again."

"If you pass this one you can," retorted Mr. Allen. At this point D. G. Cash, who had been watching matters from the rear, stepped up to the railing and addressed the council. He said that the ordinance as presented was one that the company was willing to accept and upon which it can get the money to build the road. "We have had us," said Mr. Cash, "one of the brightest railroad men in the country and the interests we represent, recognizing the fact that there was a knotty problem here, sent him to solve it. Now he says, will do it. As to the 6 per cent interest charge you cannot bind any road by such restrictions as that and if restricted in that way a road could not build or build our road. We've got to charge enough for the use of our tracks to pay for operating them just as any man would do in his private business, and the railroad commissioners can determine what is fair. This is to a terminal road and if you allow every road to use our tracks will we get any business? God knows this council has little enough to give. We've got to pay damages and perhaps heavy ones to the property along the streets which we get. We are spending $400,000 or more in building a bridge and we will commence work in less than thirty days. The city ought to see how much it can give to accomplish this, not how much it can squeeze out of it." Here Mr. Cash elaborated on the brilliant impression which would be made on the minds of the excursionists who come here at the time of the Minneapolis convention when they see men at work building what will form the connection between the great terminal facilities of Minnesota Point and the mainland.

Alderman Thomas moved an amendment to the motion to pass that Jefferson street be put on the same basis as Railroad street and Alderman Sorensen seconded this. W. C. Sargent came forward then and said: "We've got to get someone to take this ordinance and we have introduced one which we can find men to take and put up the money to build the road. We want you to pass it as it is or not at all. If you amend it we can't do anything else than withdraw. Now this is no bluff, it goes. I give you my word of honor as a gentleman that I mean it."

Alderman Thomas riled a little at this. "If it's not a bluff," said he, "it looks very much like one. The idea that when they can do the work of a terminal road in the city on half a street and when they get away out in East Duluth must have a whole street is all poppycock and I don't believe a word of it."

The amendment was then put to a vote and lost. Aldermen Dingwall, Sorensen, Thomas and Wilson voting for it. The ordinance was then put on its final passage and was adopted by 8 votes to 3 against. Aldermen Dingwall, Sorensen and Thomas voting against it.

Mayor d'Autremont informed the council that R. R. Macfarlane requested that his appointment as fire commissioner would be withdrawn and he appointed in his place James Hart, Jr.

A petition was presented by Camille Poirier and other property owners on East Superior street asking that the council was about to order the improvement of West Superior street, that the street be opened from Eighth to Fourteenth avenues west. Petitions were also presented asking for the lighting of the Woodland motor line and for a sewer in the alley between Third and Fourth streets between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues west. The Humane society asked for two drinking fountains for people on Superior street, one at Lake avenue and one at Fifth avenue west. All petitions went to committees. A communication to the war department was adopted by the council asking that the appropriation for Duluth harbor be set aside in such a way that contracts may be let at once without waiting to go through the red tape usual in letting government contracts. Collector Johnson sends with a statement of business of the port for the past three years from the opening of navigation to May 21.

Considerable routine business in the way of resolutions and reports was put through. President Hugo informed the aldermen that carriages would be provided for them to attend Memorial day exercises on next Monday and that they will be at the city hall at 1:30 o'clock.

MILLIONS OF TONS VISIBLE.

H. V. Winchell Talks of the Situation on the Mesaba.

Speaking of the iron mining on the Mesaba range, H. V. Winchell, state geologist, says that the recent rains have retarded the work of exploring very much. He speaks very favorably of some of the new mines which have been developed, mentioning among others the New England, in which ore has been found in paying quantities. On the general subject of the Mesaba range, Mr. Winchell says:

"It would hardly be safe to attempt to state how many tons of merchantable ore are now in sight on the range. Estimates of reliable experts would vary with their acquaintance with the manner of occurrence of the ores. There can be no doubt, however, that there are millions of tons practically in sight, and I believe that the production of the next three or four years will break all records of first shipments from any range in the world."

Appropriation for Lighting.
A telegram from Capt. J. W. Miller at Washington was received yesterday by President Hugo which said that he had secured the insertion in the sundry civil bill of an appropriation of $3000 for lighting the channels in Superior and St. Louis bays. This is for both sides of the bay and was arranged with Congressman Haugen, of Wisconsin. Heretofore the cities of Duluth and Superior have borne the expense of lighting the channels.

High School Program.
The High school scholars have arranged a program for Memorial day and will present it Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. It is as follows:
"Abraham Lincoln," Richard Henry Stoddard
"Kean's Charge," Parsons Lathrop
"At the End of the War," Hossiter Johnson
"Christmas Night of '92," Wm. Gordon McCabe
"The Army of the Dead," Will Carlton
"National Rites," Pauline Beebe.
Edward Prescott.

Several members of the G. A. R. will attend and G. H. Holden will deliver a short address.

Colored Men's Memorial Day.

A number of colored men met last evening at the residence of John M. Gardner for the purpose of observing the observance of May 31, the day appointed for fast and prayer for their persecuted brethren in the South. C. W. Dorsey was chairman and the following committees were appointed: Addresses, R. H. Blackstone; press, H. G. Shelton; music, C. A. Hughes; reception, F. Johnson, of Superior; arrangements, B. A. Lewis; hall, J. N. Ketchey. The exercises will take place at Republican headquarters and the West Superior colored people will participate.

Won't Have Union Men.
Capt. Vivian Prince, of Ironwood, Mich., is in the city. The captain has just returned from Idaho at the scene of the great labor troubles. He says there is $6,000,000 worth of mining property idle there. The mining companies are employing all the men they can get at high wages, but they won't employ union men.

How Duluth Babies Lived.
One of the oldest nurses in Duluth made a statement yesterday that every mother should remember. "When any of my babies are not doing well," she said, "I put them at once on lactated food. It is surprising to see how quickly they pick up. I never saw a family in which mothers feel that lactated food actually saved the lives of their children."

The Millionaires of Duluth.
The list of Duluth millionaires includes men of far-reaching business sagacity and general intelligence, who always kept posted on important questions of the day, and at every one of them reads The Herald in order to do so.

Notice.
A meeting of the Tilden Democratic club will be held at the club rooms, 35 Fargusson block, on Wednesday, May 26, at 8 p. m. All Democrats cordially invited.
C. J. MARSHALL, Secretary.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will give a strawberry festival on Wednesday evening of this week at the residence of Dr. Maxwell, 531 East Third street. Cordial invitation to all.

Nervous prostration, sleeplessness, opium habit, dullness, blues, cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Samples free at Max Wirth's.

Take the Twenty-first avenue ferry line for West Superior. Boat every half hour.

Adventists' Camp Meeting.
The Seventh Day Adventists' general state camp meeting will be held in Minneapolis beginning on May 31 and continuing to June 7, at Washburn park. All are invited and privileged to attend. Railroads will give a fare of one and one-third for the round trip. It will be the largest camp meeting ever held in Minnesota.

Many of the noted sanitarians and famous health resorts are using Garfield tea in their treatment of constipation and female weakness.

ODD FELLOWS COMING.

Three Hundred Representatives and Many Lodges and Cantons Will Attend the Grand Lodge Meeting.

Will Arrive by Special Train From Minneapolis and St. Paul on Monday Afternoon, June 6.

Exercises, Including Addresses of Welcome and Responses by Grand Officers, to be Held at Temple Opera.

The local lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows are manifesting great interest in the coming meeting in Duluth of the grand lodge of the state on June 7. This is the fortieth annual session and elaborate preparations are being made to provide a handsome entertainment for the many visitors who will come.

A special train from St. Paul and Minneapolis will arrive over the St. Paul & Duluth railway at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, June 6, and several hundred Odd Fellows will come in on this train. They will be met at the depot by an escort composed of several lodges and cantons of this, the Department of the Lakes division, which includes cities as far south as Hinkley and as far north as Two Harbors and Tower and Ely. From the depot there will be a short parade to the headquarters, which will be at the Spalding hotel. After supper another escort will proceed to the headquarters and escort the visitors to Temple Opera, arriving there at about 8 o'clock.

The exercises at the Temple will be opened by an address of welcome on behalf of the city by Mayor d'Autremont, and on behalf of the local lodges by Grand Patriarch T. W. Hugo. The officers of the grand lodge will respond to these. Brother Forties, D. D., will deliver an oration on "Odd Fellowship." The famous Masonic quartet of Minneapolis, which has been held together for years, have also been engaged to come. The decoration of chairs is to be conferred on some member of the Rebecca degree lodge yet to be chosen by Brigadier-General Woodward, of the Department of the Lakes. At the conclusion of the exercises the procession will again be formed, with torch lights if possible, and the visiting lodges will be escorted to the trains to return to their headquarters.

On Tuesday morning the sessions of the grand lodge will be held commencing at 9 o'clock at Odd Fellows hall. The Rebecca lodge will hold its session, commencing at the same hour, in the Hayes block. The sessions will continue until about 3 o'clock and after that a boat ride or drive will be given by the Daughters of Rebecca, whichever they may conclude will be the better.

In the evening a local degree team of the Odd Fellows will exemplify the work of the first and second degrees in Old Fellows hall. A local team of the Daughters of Rebecca will exemplify the work of the Rebecca degrees at the Hayes block hall. Wednesday will be devoted to the election and installation of officers of the Grand Lodge. Three hundred representatives of the grand lodge will come but besides there will be a number of lodges and cantons coming as bodies from St. Paul and Minneapolis and other cities. The Superior lodges and cantons will come over. Among the grand officers who will be here will be Grand Master W. R. Johnson and Grand Secretary A. L. Bolton, of St. Paul.

A New President.

D. E. Gardner of Plattville, Wis., is the head of the newly organized Gardner Music company which has opened a store in Duluth. Mr. Gardner will be a valuable acquisition to both business and social circles. He has a charming family which will soon join him here where coming will be welcomed in nearly as great a measure as the going is regretted where they have lived for so many years. Among the Duluthians whose school days were made pleasant as well as productive by the fostering care of Prof. Gardner may be mentioned Register of Deeds Amos Shepherd, ex-Mayor W. N. Shepherd, of Tower, M. M. Hoare and F. E. Hoare and others.

HARVARD COMMENCEMENT.

Assignment of Parts From the Class of '92.

BOSTON, May 24.—The Harvard faculty has just made the assignment of commencement parts from the class of '92. The choice has been made of Hutchins Haggood of Alton, Ill.; Robert Morse Lovett of Boston, Ralph Hamilton Shepard of New Haven, N. Y.; George Alex. Eaton of Natick, will deliver the Latin oration. Besides these seniors the following men will represent their respective schools: From the law school, Moses Day Kimball of Boston; from the divinity school, Oliver Jay Fairfield, of Yellow Springs, O.; from the graduate school, John Cummings, of Lynn.

WILL SUPPORT DEMOCRATS.

Lutherans in Illinois Opposed to Compulsory Education.

GALENA, Ill., May 24.—The Wisconsin district of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Ohio and other states closed its annual session, which lasted six days, here last evening. The final session was devoted to the consideration of the compulsory education law of Illinois, which led to the issuance of a manifesto which declares that the Republican members of the legislature did not fulfill their promises to aid in effecting the repeal of the law, and closes by saying: "We, therefore, advise all Lutherans in the state of Illinois to support the Democratic party at the next election, so far as the state ticket is concerned."

THE MINNESOTA RISING.

The Low Lands Around St. Peter Under Water.

ST. PETER, Minn., May 24.—The water in the Minnesota river has left its banks and is now flooding all of the low lands. The river has raised steadily, but for the past two hours has been at a standstill and no fears are now entertained that it will cause any great damage or that it will raise much, if any, further. It still lacks about eight feet of reaching the high water mark of 1884.

A HEAD MILLER DROWNED.

The Wheel Started While He was Down in the Pit.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 24.—A sad drowning occurred at the Occidental flour mill yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. Miller Paul McArthur of the mill was the victim. He was down in the wheel-pit clearing out the bark when some water leaking through from the adjoining wheel-pit started the wheel, which caught his foot, holding him while the water overwhelmed him. McArthur was unmarried and has relatives in Ontario.

GUS MORROW MAY DIE.

An Omaha Brakeman Injured in a Saloon Row.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., May 24.—Gus Morrow, a brakeman on the Omaha between here and Duluth, was stabbed with a pocket knife Sunday night in a saloon fight by Jeff Goart, a brother of the saloon proprietor. Morrow may die. He is well known throughout Northern Wisconsin.

BACKED INTO A CANAL.

A Rig With Three Men Upset and One Drowned.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 24.—At 1 o'clock this morning John Brocke, William Mahoney and David Maloney were driving from Manlius to Syracuse. Discovering that they were on the wrong road they attempted to turn around and the horse backed into the canal. Brocke and Mahoney escaped with a wetting, but no trace of Maloney could be found, save his hat which was found about four feet from where the buggy went into the canal.

HE WOULD NOT CONFESS.

Physical Torture Applied to a Supposed Murderer.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 24.—Seven men, all white, are under arrest in Orange county on suspicion of being connected with the murder of an express man named Saunders. There are rumors that one man had such strong suspicions aroused against him that his captors resorted to physical torture in order to extract a confession from him, but the expedient was unsuccessful.

CAUSED BY TRAMPS.

An Incendiary Fire Results in Four Deaths.

CHEHALIS, Wash., May 24.—Fire destroyed four blocks of wooden buildings in the center of the town. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin as it started in a vacant building where a number of tramps slept. Loss, $110,000.

Are For Harrison.

SOUTH MCALISTER, I. T., May 24.—The territorial convention of the Republican party was held here yesterday. The delegates elected to the Minneapolis convention are as follows: Ridge Pascal, a full-blooded Cherokee, who heads the delegates of Tahlequah; John S. Hammer, of Ardmore; alternates, J. W. Roberts, of Anderson and F. Genung, of Muskogee. One of the alternates is a negro. The delegates were uninstructed, but are for Harrison.

Hanged by a Mob.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 24.—Walter Smith (colored) assaulted a young white girl at Cabot, about one week ago. He escaped and was arrested here yesterday. Officers took him to Cabot in the afternoon and a telegram late last night states that Smith was taken from the jail by a mob and hanged.

Drowned While Fishing.

NORTH VERNON, Ind., May 24.—Thos. Dawson, Sherman Clarkson and George Trapp have been drowned here. They were fishing when Clarkson fell in and the other two were lost in an effort to save him.

A Bloody Fight.

WENTZVILLE, Mo., May 24.—Two men, named Williams and Davis, got into a bloody fight at O'Fallon, in this county, late last night. Both will die.

WRECKS ON THE OCEAN.

Rightful Disasters as in Former Years Are No Longer to be Feared Upon the Raging Seas.

The Manner in Which the Ships of Today Are Built Has Made It Well Nigh Impossible.

Steamers of the Atlantic Lines Now as Safe as the Streets of a Crowded City.

Before these lines reach the eye of the reader it is probable that the president will have signed the bill granting American registration to two of the largest and swiftest steamships that cross the Atlantic—the City of Paris and the City of New York, of the Inman line. This concession is granted with the understanding that the company shall build in the United States a number of similar vessels equal in speed, elegance, size and tonnage to these "fliers of the sea" and henceforth sail under the American flag. When it is remembered that England, France and Germany maintain under the guise of passenger and merchant steamers fleets of fast cruisers that in time of war will constitute an auxiliary navy, the importance of legislation that practically adds to the United States without cost such magnificent ships cannot be overestimated. It is difficult to imagine a more effective commerce destroyer, for instance, than the steamship City of Paris armed with a battery of rapid firing guns. Steaming as she does at the rate of twenty-one knots an hour, no man of war could overtake her, no merchantman could escape her. A few such cruisers would sweep an enemy's commerce from the ocean. These facts are well understood abroad.

In contemplating the changes that will follow the adoption of the new policy and the fresh impetus it will give to the business of American shipbuilding, one cannot but recall the marvelous strides that have characterized the progress of marine architecture during the last fifty years. What a contrast there is between the Great Western and Sirius of 1838, with their 750 horse power, that required eighteen days in which to cross the Atlantic, or the Cunard liners of 1850, with their wooden hulls and paddle wheels, and the ocean monarchs of today which displace 13,000 tons, develop 18,000 and 20,000 horse power, attain the speed of an ordinary railway train and have turned the Atlantic into a six day ferry.

What a difference, too, in point of safety, discipline and comfort between the old and such modern liners as the Eurymedea, Umbria, City of Rome, Alaska, Servia, Teutonic and Majestic. In 1850 and thereabouts we thought our Collins line of steamships paragons of excellence, "leviathans of the deep," but they were mere yachts in comparison with the new vessels. They have long since disappeared from memory save in connection with disaster. The Arctic that line sank in 1854 with an immense loss of life, and in 1856 her sister ship, the Pacific, left Liverpool never to be heard from afterward.

A few years ago the Cunarder Auraria was approaching the English coast in a dense fog. The passengers were smoking their cigars after dinner taking no heed of danger, when suddenly, looming above the topsails appeared cliffs that were supposed to be the last of the world. Instantly the headway of the ship was checked and she escaped the rocks. Between Fastnet and Liverpool more fine steamers have been lost through fog than from any other cause. It is only a few years ago that the City of Rome ran into Fastnet itself. A similar accident happened to the steamer Baltic. The Union line has also been singularly unfortunate in that neighborhood, no less than five of its steamers having been wrecked—the Colorado, Montana, Dakota, Idaho and another whose name is not recalled. The list of calamities from contact with icebergs is a long one. A few years ago the fine steamship Arizona, while going at full speed, crashed into one of these sleeping monsters and the ship, unable to stand the pounding about thirty feet off nothing remained but a mass of shapeless iron. Happily good seamanship, a comparatively smooth ocean and a strong forward bulkhead enabled her to safely reach port.

But no line in existence has been entirely free from disaster. The City of New York, the first Inman steamer of that name, came to grief off Cape Cod near the point. The City of Brussels, of the same line, was run down and sunk. Counting only the best known passenger steamers since 1838, when the Sirius crossed the Atlantic, until

CAPTAIN LUCE'S STRUGGLE.
1873, 147 vessels were lost. Of these more than half were wrecked, twenty-four never reached the ports for which they sailed, ten were burned at sea and three were sunk by ice. The first was the President, in 1841, which, sailing with a number of distinguished men on board, left not a living soul to tell her fate. In 1854 the City of Glasgow, with 480 passengers and crew, mysteriously disappeared. In the same year the Arctic, one of the finest vessels of the Collins line of steamers, was lost during a heavy fog in consequence of a collision with the French iron screw steamer Vesta. She was one of the strongest vessels of her day, completely equipped, and this was the only sort of casualty likely to be serious to her, yet it did not appear to have been anticipated even by the most sagacious seafaring man. She had on board hundreds of souls, millions of treasure and a heavy mail of incalculable value.

At the time of the collision the captain was below working out the position of his ship. Running on deck he saw the iron steamer passing astern, grazing and tearing the guards in her progress. The bows of the stricken vessel seemed to be literally crushed off for ten feet, and believing that she must sink at once, Captain Luce galantly ordered the boats to be cleared to go to her relief. Quickly, however, he found out that his own ship was leaking. The engineers were instructed to put on the steam pumps, and the deck pumps were worked by passengers and crew. (Fancy such an operation at the present time.) Attempts were made to stop the leak by getting sails over the bows, but fluting them of no avail boats were made ready for the preservation of the ladies and children. No sooner were they lowered than the firemen and portions of the crew rushed into them in spite of all opposition. The only resource left was to build a raft. This was but partially accomplished when the alarm was given that the ship was sinking. In an instant after, at about a quarter past 5 p. m., the ship went down, carrying every soul on board with her.

Captain Luce found himself struggling below the surface by the suction of the sinking craft. On coming up the most awful and heartrending scene presented itself in connection with this terrible event. A young gentleman, a student of the law, was in the act of trying to save him when a portion of the paddle box came rushing up alongside and fell with its whole weight upon the head of the helpless little one. With eleven others Captain Luce succeeded in climbing upon the paddle box, but they were soon reduced by death to himself and one other, who after an exposure of forty-six hours were rescued by a passing ship and conveyed to Quebec. An illustration of fidelity in connection with this terrible event has passed into history. A young gentleman named Holland, from Washington city, was on the Arctic for the purpose of gaining instruction in engineering. He had been deputed by the captain to fire the signal gun, and when all others had died, amid the melancholy wail he persevered in the strict performance of his duty. When the vessel was nearly level with the sea he was seen busy with the gun. His last shot boomed out as the vessel sank and he went down with her, obedient to his orders to the last.

The raft that had been hastily constructed afforded hold for awhile to about seventy persons, of whom four were women, but one after another of the living freight was washed away until only a single person remained, and it was not until after twenty-six hours exposure that he was rescued from a watery grave. Not a single female of whom there were some sixty on board, escaped the fearful doom, among them being Mrs. Collins, the wife of the owner of the line, and her children. Of the more than 400 souls who left Liverpool full of hope and gayety only about one-tenth were saved. The Vesta, though greatly injured, was enabled, under slow steam, to reach the nearest port.

Another terrible disaster occurred in 1857, when the steamer Central America, commanded by the noted W. L. Herndon, of the United States navy, foundered off Cape Hatteras, with the loss of more than 400 lives and nearly two millions of treasure. The gale which caused the calamity was one of the fiercest ever experienced, and the ship, unable to stand the pounding to which it had been subjected for many days, eventually sprang a leak. The fire were extinguished, the steam pumps became useless, and the only hope was in sailing. Until within an hour of the catastrophe the passengers continued to be helped. Life preservers were then given out to them. Captain Herndon stood upon the wheel and was heard to say, "I will never leave the ship." Suddenly she was struck a plunge of 45 degrees, and then disappeared forever. Captain Herndon was true to his word and bravely went down at his post. One or two vessels were in the neighborhood, but they were comparatively helpless. Out of a total of 579 persons on board only 152 were saved.

In 1858 the steamship Austria, on her way from Hamburg to New York, was burned. A boatswain's mate while fumigating the stowage let fall a blazing bucket of tar, and in an instant the fire spread to berths and mattresses and thence throughout the ship. Although there were ten boats, they were found to be immovable, the hose was out of order and the captain, instead of organizing his officers and crew for action, lost all command of himself. The consequence was that out of 338 persons on board the lives of only 17 were saved from the ravages of fire and flood.

Between 1857 and 1854 the Allan line lost no fewer than nine steamers. In 1870 the City of Boston left port with over 200 souls on board and never was heard from. In April 1875 the White Star steamer Atlantic ran ashore not far from Halifax, in heavy weather, the captain having lost his lives were lost, some by drowning and others by freezing in the rigging into which they had scrambled. By the wreck of the German steamer Scyllia on the Scilly rocks 200 lives were lost. By collision, the beautiful Ville du Havre, of the French line, was sent to the bottom of the English channel with 230 of her passengers and crew. From a similar cause the Pomerania lost fifty lives.

Notwithstanding all these sad instances of disaster at sea, the perils of fog and ice, the fury of cyclones and hurricanes, the steamers of the Atlantic lines are now so staunchly built that a man is less likely to meet with accident on board of them than he is in walking the streets of a crowded city.

A POLITICAL WARHORSE.

The Man Whom the Democrats of Indiana Will Present for the Presidential Nomination at Chicago.

Isaac Pusey Gray Has Had an Active Career and He is a Self-Made Man of Ability.

Defeated for Governor in the Disastrous Hancock Year, Although He Ran Ahead of His Ticket.

Among the possible nominees of the Democratic party for the presidency of the United States is ex-Governor Gray, of Indiana. He has had an active career, and is a self-made man.

ISAAC PUSEY GRAY.

Isaac Pusey Gray was born in Chester county, Pa., in 1833. His parents were Quakers. In 1841 they removed to Urbana, O., where Isaac attended the common schools, spending his spare time at home in acquiring a fund of general information and in reading law. He married at about the time that his majority was attained, and in 1855 went to Union City, Ind. He has since then been a resident of Indiana. Up to 1856 he was a Whig, but he then became a Republican. He enlisted in the Union army in 1862, and served as colonel in the Fourth Indiana cavalry. Ill health compelled him to return home, but later on he recruited the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Indiana infantry.

Mr. Gray took his first flyer into politics in 1856, when he was nominated for congress against Hon. George W. Julian. Gray had then coaxed to act with the Republicans. He made an active campaign and came within 300 votes of election. In 1858 he was elected to the state senate and served until 1872. Four years later he was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor on the ticket with "Blue Jeans" Williams. President Harrison, then an Indianapolis lawyer, was the opposing candidate and the campaign was probably the most exciting ever held in Indiana. Victory perched upon the banner of Williams and Gray, and the former dying just before the close of his term the latter succeeded him as governor.

In 1880 he was nominated for governor, but although he ran ahead of his ticket it was the disastrous Hancock year, and he was defeated. Four years later the Democrats again honored Governor Gray in a similar manner, and this time he was successful, running ahead of the Cleveland and Hendricks electoral ticket by more than 1,000 votes. He retired from the gubernatorial office in 1888 and has since lived in Indianapolis, where he enjoys a lucrative law practice. He has an interesting family.

High Price for Salt and Water. The Boston Saturday Evening Gazette tells a story showing that an ignorance of Latin is sometimes a disadvantage. A young business man of Boston had a slight sore throat early in the winter, and meeting his cousin, a physician, he asked something of a way, he asked him what to do for it. "Oh, I'll write a prescription for you," was the answer. He wrote it, and the gentleman glanced at it before taking it into the drugist. It read something like this: "Aqua pura, ounces; chloride sodium, - grs. Shake before using and gargle with every half hour." "How much is it?" queried the patient, as the drugist handed him the bottle. "Two dollars," was the reply. Recently another sore throat asserted itself, and remembering the efficacy of his first treatment he took in the bottle to be filled again. Another clerk waited on him, and when he inquired the price he was astonished by the cheerful answer, "Oh, we don't charge anything for salt and water!" He had paid two dollars before for a bottle of water with two tablespoonfuls of salt dissolved in it.

Go to All the Weddings. Mrs. Mary Brown, colored, is a matrimonial mascot, who never fails to be on hand at wedding events. She is aged about fifty, married, and has lived in Jeffersonville, Ind., since the war. It is said that she has attended every wedding solemnized in public places within that time—how many she cannot recall, but they number in the five figures. In some instances she has been tendered invitations, but in the majority of cases she goes whether wanted or not. No matter how fashionable the affair, nor how crowded the edifice, she takes her stand near the aisle and awaits the coming of the bride and groom elect. She is the first to leave the church, and she will descend for weeks on the loveliness of the bride and the manliness of the groom. Many times she is not wanted, but that is a small matter. She has an irresistible desire to be present, and she cares little who objects. She is a hard working woman, supporting a husband by the sweat of her brow.

All the mechanics in the world cannot make two town clocks that will keep time for one day, one hour, one minute exactly alike.

HOME AGAIN.

They've been shopping—calling—walking—home again—in the boudoir—one resting happily—dressed to rest, with all the style of easy grace—the other, she's half-dressed, the awful corset's on the chair, it's done as work, she's tired out, not from natural fatigue, but from unnatural wearing of unnatural things—the other, she wears the Equipped Waist—Made by George Prost Co., Boston.

LEGAL NOTICES.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of that certain mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Perry D. Jones and George Edward Foster, bearing date the 10th day of June, A. D. 1888, and duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, on the 21st day of June, A. D. 1889, at 3:57 o'clock p. m., in book 22 of mortgages, on page 402, which mortgage was duly given on the real estate hereinafter described, to secure the payment of the principal sum of two thousand dollars, according to the terms of one principal note for that sum and 9 per cent semi-annual interest, according to the terms of ten interest coupon notes attached thereto; and whereas it is provided and stipulated in said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants contained in said mortgage on the part of said mortgagors to be kept and performed, and such default shall continue for the space of ten days, then it should be lawful for the mortgagee to consider the whole sum secured by said mortgage as immediately due and payable; and whereas it was further stipulated in said mortgage that said mortgagors should pay all taxes and assessments at least ten days previous to the day when such taxes and assessments are due, and whereas it is provided and stipulated in said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants contained in said mortgage on the part of said mortgagors to be kept and performed, and such default shall continue for the space of ten days, then it should be lawful for the mortgagee to consider the whole sum secured by said mortgage as immediately due and payable; and whereas it was further stipulated in said mortgage that said mortgagors should pay all taxes and assessments at least ten days previous to the day when such taxes and assessments are due, and whereas it is provided and stipulated in said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants contained in said mortgage on the part of said mortgagors to be kept and performed, and such default shall continue for the space of ten days, then it should be lawful for the mortgagee to consider the whole sum secured by said mortgage as immediately due and payable; and whereas it was further stipulated in said mortgage that said mortgagors should pay all taxes and assessments at least ten days previous to the day when such taxes and assessments are due, and whereas it is provided and stipulated in said mortgage that if default should be made in any of the conditions or covenants contained in said mortgage on the part of said mortgagors to be kept and performed, and such default shall continue for the space of ten days, then it should be lawful for the mortgagee to consider the whole sum secured by said mortgage as immediately due and payable; ### TO SETTLE THE SUITS.

The Council is Negotiating With the Gas and Water Company to Settle the Guaranty Difficulties.

If a Reported Agreement is Carried Through all the Pending Litigation Will be Dropped Forever.

Several Concessions Are Made, One Being Cheaper Gas, and the City Will Pay the Company $16,000.

For a few days past there has been a matter under consideration and pending in the council which the aldermen deemed best to keep quiet for a time until something definite was obtained. The particulars are leaking out, however. At the executive session held Thursday Aldermen N. F. Hugo, Thomas and Cox were appointed to confer with the Duluth Gas and Water company and endeavor to arrange an amicable settlement of the "guaranty" question as it is termed. The object is to settle the pending legislation and to reach an agreement whereby the council may order extensions and thus have the outlying districts, so called, supplied. The committee has held several conferences with Manager Craig and yesterday afternoon the matter came up in committee of the whole.

Just what agreement has been reached, for it is said that there has been one, is hard to determine, but a Herald reporter managed to stumble onto a few things today. In the first place, the suits now pending and which come up before the supreme court about June 20, and which involve about $35,000 which the city must pay if it loses, are to be settled by paying $16,000. This is said to be the amount settled upon after long negotiation. Then no more guaranties are to be required of the city, although some conditions have been thrown around this part of the agreement. The city is to put in hydrants where needed, not less than fifty this year and twenty-five each year for the next two years. The water company is to make extensions as ordered by the city, the limitation being four miles each year for two years.

An agreement is also made which will give the outlying districts good water service. At present the territory above Fifth street receives no water and there is not good service above Third or Fourth streets. Another change which, it is said, has been made, is the reduction of 50 cents per thousand in the rate to be charged consumers of gas. The rate is now $2.50 for illuminating and $2 for fuel purposes.

This is in part the agreement which is said to have been made and should it be carried through will settle all the difficulties between the city and company. The outcome of the suits is uncertain. As is well known ex-City Attorney Allen always held that the city was not liable for the guaranties. City Attorney Smith, however, thinks that the company can collect and that the point that some of the guaranties have already been paid will operate against the city in trying to prove that there is no liability. As the guaranties were made by a majority vote of former councils, it seems pretty certain that, in any event, the city is morally pledged to their payment, while many people believe that it is legally obliged to pay them.

HYNES GOES OVER.

He Waives Examination in the Municipal Court.

Justice was a little peppery this morning in spite of the bright sunshine and John Mulcahy caught the first "crack out of the box." He was drunk and got ten days on the hill, and George Curran, a thin vagabond, a five day's dose. Jas. Rice or Price an alleged vagrant, with a very shabby reputation, who has been "pinched" before this by Detective Hayden for some crooked work, will be led up to the bar this afternoon. He wants to get out of town and Judge Powell will probably give him a chance.

John D. Hynes was brought up for examination on the charge of assault in the second degree. His attorney, J. H. Norton, withdrew the previous demand for examination and waived further proceedings, and his blood-stained client was bound over to the grand jury in $500 bail. This amount will probably be raised to $1000 and a new complaint raising the degree of the offense to the first may be substituted.

The case of the city against Wm. Kelvey for assault on Miss Minnie Healey was tried this afternoon. The testimony showed that Kelvey had been guilty of an assault and the judge gave him $5 or fifteen days. The fine was paid amounting to $19.24.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Delegates Elected to Little Falls to Work for Postponement.

The People's party county convention was held at the city hall this afternoon and the following delegates were elected to go to Little Falls convention: M. Wesenberg, John Green, A. T. Scarlett, Henry Haskins, Hans Engelson, A. C. Parsons, Fred Borge, John Jensen, John Johnson, E. E. Tyson, C. O. Nelson, Frank Osborn, Jos. Flynn and H. Parsons.

After considerable discussion it was voted that the delegates be instructed to do all in their power to have the convention postponed until after the national convention at Omaha and the state convention has been held and to have the postponed convention be held at Duluth.

"I wish you would take this eye and look it over, it hurts me. I am going across the street to get a shave, and will call for it in about half an hour," he said as he poked out his left eye and handed it to J. H. Ostrander, the expert optician. It was an artificial eye, of course, and upon examination Mr. O. discovered an old nick which was the cause of the discomfort. Sometimes the "old nick" will get into a regular "sure enough" meat eye; it will feel as though a large handful of sand were coursing about in it. This usually indicates the necessity of a change of lenses or the adjustment of a new pair of glasses. Mr. Ostrander will remain with F. D. Day until Wednesday of next week. ## Boys' And Children's Straw Hats!

Parents!

It is now only a few days at the furthest until the very hot weather will be here. Then the boys will all want Straw Hats. Why not buy them now? We have opened and are now receiving daily our usual large assortment of these goods, and this year they are prettier and better and what is of even more consequence, cheaper than ever. Remember, we handle carloads of Straw Hats, and our stock is larger this season than the combined stock of any six stores in the city.

CHILDREN'S Sailor Straw Hats, Child's Yachts, Infant Boy's and Children's Straw Hats in every conceivable style and color.

To be appreciated this great line must be seen.

NOTICE!

No. 1193 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Pope's Theatre Bldg., St. Louis, Mo. J. B. McLEAFTRICK & SONS, ARCHITECTS.

THEATRICAL WORK A SPECIALTY. New York, Feb. 16, 1891.

Gentlemen:—Some three years ago your fireproofing was presented to us for examination, and after a thorough test we were asked what we thought of it. We would not at that time give an opinion of its merits; but can now say after three years of actual test, that we believe your RICINATE to be permanent and reliable, and find it to be all you represent as a fire-proof material.

We recommend its thorough application to all wood, canvas and other inflammable materials in all buildings where stage work and scenery is to be used. Its application in all instances to wood, canvas, upholstery, and other inflammable materials, made under our observation, has given perfect satisfaction, and we have no hesitancy in recommending it as a safeguard against fire. Very respectfully yours,

Signed, J. B. McLEAFTRICK & SONS.

THE USE OF Ricinate

has made a new departure in building. You can remove all danger of fire at an absolutely small expense. The Philadelphia Central Theater DID NOT burn, and we know "a word to the wise is sufficient." If you intend building, LOOK IT UP.

BLAINE IS WILLING

He Has Decided Not to Interfere With the Presentation of His Name.

Now His Intention Not to Return to Washington Until After the Convention.

He Will Leave This Week for Maine and Go to Bar Harbor Later.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The Sun this morning says after the extended conversations which ex-Senator Platt, Whitelaw Reid, Gen. Horace Potter and other Republicans high in the councils of the party had with Mr. Blaine yesterday, the closest friend of Mr. Platt said they had it from his own lips that Mr. Blaine had decided not to interfere with the presentation of his name before the convention at Minneapolis; that it was Mr. Blaine's intention not to return to Washington until after the convention, and that by the close of this week he would leave for Maine and go to Bar Harbor later on.

THE HOUSE IN AN UPROAR

A Speech in Favor of the Force Bill Creates Excitement.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A speech of Johnson, of Indiana, eulogistic of President Harrison, denunciatory of the Democratic party in its treatment of the negro in the South and strongly in favor of the Force bill, has thrown the house into a state of excitement and confusion, which is highly entertaining to the gallery, but rather wearisome to the members of the appropriation committee, who in vain appeal to the house to attend to business.

TRIED TO MURDER HIM.

Tramps Attempt to Kill a Man for His Money.

HUDSON, Wis., May 25.—Seven tramps were arrested last night by the police on the charge of attempting to murder a fellow companion, John Williams. The injured man had some money on his person. The parties intended to kill and rob him but were prevented by officers. The gang has been sent to the workhouse to await the result of the wounded man's injuries. He is badly cut about the head and breast and is in a critical condition.

A CITY UNDER WATER.

Roofs of Houses Visible Only on the Back Streets.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., May 25.—The city is completely under water. All the stores are flooded out and the roofs of houses are visible only on the back streets. All the trains on the Iron Mountain are abandoned on account of the condition of the bridge over Boggy Bayou. All Iron Mountain cars have been removed from the yards. The Panther forest break can stand one foot more here. The river is rising.

A LOSS OF MILLIONS.

Governor Fifer Calls for Aid for the Flood Sufferers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 25.—Governor Fifer has returned from an inspection of the inundated districts of Illinois, and yesterday issued a proclamation calling upon the people of the state to contribute money for food and clothing for the relief of the flood sufferers. According to a conservative estimate the damage done in Madison, St. Charles and St. Clair counties by the floods will foot up $11,000,000.

Shot by a Negro.

DALLAS, Tex., May 25.—Yesterday afternoon policeman C. O. Brewer was shot and instantly killed by a negro named Henry Miller, whom he was trying to arrest. Last night a mob attacked the jail and in the riot two men were seriously shot. The mob finally dispersed, when they saw that to carry the jail meant heavy loss of life.

Colorado Democrats.

DENVER, May 25.—The Democratic state convention was called to order at Coliseum hall by Frank Arbuckle, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, a few minutes before 11 o'clock this morning. Col. B. F. Montgomery of Arapahoe county, was elected temporary chairman without opposition.

Fight in London.

DUBLIN, May 25.—A drunken quarrel which started at the barracks at London-derry, soon developed into a fierce and bloody fight in which a number of men took sides. A large number were badly injured.

NOT SO SURE.

Campbell Gets $1000, but the Verdict May Be Set Aside.

Before Judge Nelson, in the United States circuit court, the jury in Malcomb Campbell vs. Gustave Herman et al. brought in a verdict of $1000 for the plaintiff. The defense immediately made a motion to set aside the verdict and asked for a new trial. The judge has asked for a new trial. The case of Arthur Haigh vs. Quinby & Omeis, after the testimony had been received, the judge took the case from the jury and instructed them to find a verdict for the defendant. The case of Mrs. Home, administratrix, against the Northern Pacific railroad for $5000 damages for the loss of her husband, who was killed while car-pairing at Rice's Point some time ago, is now on trial. It will last all the afternoon.

A CRIMINAL CAUGHT.

The Man who Killed Four Women in Texas Under Arrest.

SEDALIA, Mo., May 25.—It is believed that the man who committed the brutal crime of killing four women in Denison, Tex., last week, was arrested here last night. The arrest was made in the telegraph office while the man was asking for a message. The Denison authorities had notified Chief Delong to be on the lookout for one T. J. Williams, claiming to be a railroad man.

A watch was kept on the railroad and the telegraph office with the result that last night when a young man, aged 23, stepped up to the counter and called for a message to the name he was at once taken into custody. Williams denies all knowledge of the crimes.

SOUTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATS.

Cleveland Is the Favorite With the State Convention.

YANKTON, S. D., May 25.—The Democratic state convention meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The Cleveland sentiment is strong but the delegation may be unstructured. At a meeting of the Democratic central committee, H. Fellows, of Aurora county, was agreed on as temporary chairman of the state convention. The selection of a place for holding the next state convention was postponed until this afternoon. This is a victory for Chamberlain whose men desired more time. Hot Springs tried to have the matter postponed but failed.

A leading Democrat predicts that either Judge Tripp or J. D. Lawler will be selected for national committeeman, with the chances in favor of Lawler.

SCRATCHING THEIR ARMS.

A Small Pox Scare at the Palmer House in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 25.—At the Palmer house yesterday a deputy health commissioner armed with several hundred vaccination points was scratching the arms of guests and employees. A meek traveling man, who showed signs of small pox shortly after his arrival at the hotel, was reported yesterday from the pest house as having a severe type of the disease. The malady, however, has not yet reached the offensive period and health officers hope to avoid an epidemic.

SANK TO THE BOTTOM.

Collision Between Passenger Steamers on Lake Michigan.

CHICAGO, May 25.—The passenger steamers Kalamazoo and Pilgrim, of the Williams' Transportation line collided in mid lake shortly after midnight. A great hole was stove in the bow of the Kalamazoo and a panic ensued among the fifty passengers, men, women and children rushing about the decks crying for succor, but in a short time the Pilgrim was brought about so as to take off the passengers and thus all were saved. The Pilgrim towed the disabled steamer for seven hours and then found it necessary to cut her adrift. In a few minutes the Kalamazoo sank to the bottom and the Pilgrim resumed her journey alone, bringing to this port the passengers and crew of the foundered vessel. The Pilgrim arrived here at 2:15 this afternoon not much the worse for the accident.

The Hearing Begun.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 25.—Interstate Commerce Commissioners Morris and McDill began today the hearing of the case of the city of Minneapolis against the Northwestern railroad for discriminating in wheat and flour rates from the Red River valley in favor of Duluth. There was a large array of counsel and witnesses present at the opening of the hearing.

Hill Failed to Vote.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The senate voted down Morrill's motion to refer to the finance committee Morgan's resolution instructing the committee to examine and report upon the effects of the silver law of 1890 upon the price of bullion. The vote was: yeas 17; nays 28; Senator Hill was in his seat but failed to vote.

Two Youths Drowned.

WEYONWEGA, Wis., May 25.—John Langdon, aged 16 years, and Alva Plant, aged 15 years, of Ostrander, were drowning in Little Wolf river by the capsizing of a boat. The body of Plant was not recovered.

A Bishop Dying.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 25.—Bishop Howe, of the Protestant Episcopal diocese, was stricken with paralysis yesterday and his life is despaired of.

The Methodist Conference.

OMAHA, May 25.—The Methodist general conference by a vote of 290 to 162 decided not to remove the five year limit on pastorate.

Women Admitted.

WESTMINSTER, Md., May 25.—By a vote of 75 to 40 the four women delegates to the Methodist Protestant conference were admitted.

Poorman Nominated.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, May 25.—Col. Poorman was nominated today for congress by the Republican convention of the sixteenth district.

A Burglar Nailed.

George Clark was held to the grand jury yesterday for burglary in the municipal court. Bail was fixed at $300 and he went to jail. He is charged with having stolen a suit of clothes and other articles from a house on West First street.

A Possible Nominee.

D. T. Calhoun, of St. Cloud, is in the city today and with him is J. H. Rhodes, of Little Falls. Mr. Calhoun was mayor of St. Cloud two or three years and two years ago ran for attorney general on the Democratic ticket. It is said that he wants to run again this year. It is also quite probable that Mr. Calhoun can get the nomination for congress in the Sixth district on the Democratic ticket if he wants it. Henry Keller is the most formidable candidate at present.

VOTE FOR GROVER

The Democratic State Convention of New Jersey—Its Delegates for Cleveland.

When Hill's Name Was Mentioned in the Convention There Was Vigorous Hissing.

Governor Abbott a Delegate, But His Veto of the Reading Bill Not Endorsed.

TRENTON, N. J., May 25.—

The Democratic convention was called to order at 12:30 by Chairman McDermott of the state committee, who named Chauncey Beasley as temporary chairman. In calling the convention to order Mr. McDermott spoke briefly, referring to his defeat for the mayoralty in Jersey City. He said it was a local matter and Hudson county would give its usual Democratic majority in the fall. Judge Beasley on taking the chair spoke in praise of Governor Abbott's record. This aroused some applause. Speaking of the presidency, the judge showed his preference for Cleveland. Cleveland's name was greeted with tremendous applause. Someone called out Hill's name and there was vigorous hissing. Mr. Kormer of Cumberland opposed a motion to refer all resolutions without debate. There was much confusion and the chairman, who had no gavel, had difficulty in restoring order. The matter was finally settled by resolving that all resolutions should be read before being referred. The convention took a recess until 2 p.m.

During recess the committee on resolutions considered the platform and voted to strike out the endorsement of Governor Abbott's veto of the Reading bill and to insert a plank condemning the Sherman silver law and another instructing the delegates to vote for Cleveland. The convention reassembled at 2:30. Edward E. McDonald was made permanent chairman. The report of the committee on resolutions was presented. The convention went wild over the plank instructing for Cleveland. The applause lasted several minutes. The platform was adopted with enthusiasm. There was much confusion over the report of the committee on credentials in favor of the Finchcliff faction in Passaic, but the report was finally carried. The following delegates at-large to Chicago were chosen by acclamation, though not unanimously. Senator J. R. McPherson, Governor Abbott, James Smith, Johannes Ross.

Voting for Senator.

BATON ROUGE, La., May 25.—On joint ballot today the voters of United States senator stood: Jonas 41, Adams 26, Gibson 23, Caffery 17, Blanchard 13, Bourgeois 5; total, 128; five absent; one excused from voting; necessary to election, a majority on joint ballot.

PIGEON RIVER SURVEYS.

Geo. T. Simpson Given a Contract to Survey the Reservation.

The surveying general of Minnesota has awarded to George T. Simpson, of Winona, the contract for extending the public surveys for the government over the Pigeon River Indian reservation.

This land is near the eastern boundary of Minnesota and between the north shore of Lake Superior and Pigeon river, the boundary line between Minnesota and Canada.

Mr. Simpson will have for his assistant Louis Shaw, lately connected with the engineering department of the Burlington & Northern road. His younger brother, Earle Simpson, will be one of the party. Both are sons of Hon. Thomas Simpson, secretary of the Winona & Southern railway, who in early days did considerable government surveying in Minnesota.

PERSONAL.

H. D. Pearson went to Chicago last evening.

H. V. Winchell, of Minneapolis, is in the city today.

Judge John B. Brisbin, of St. Paul, is in the city today.

Hon. J. C. Flynn, of Little Falls, is at the Spaulding today.

Mrs. A. P. Wood will leave today to visit friends in Cleveland, O.

DECORATE THE ROOMS

Graceful Hangings and Comfortable Appointments Give a General Air of Luxury to a Room.

The Shadow Silk for Wall Hangings Makes Pictures Unnecessary as Adornments for the Wall.

Lady Teazle Screens Have Become Among the Greatest Ornaments of the Home in Recent Years.

In the decoration of a room a general air of luxury is imparted by graceful hangings and comfortable appointments. Such an effect can be accomplished by a woman of taste without much extravagance. In the use of curtains every variety of decoration becomes possible, and so much taste and skill can be shown in the selection of materials, the adaptation of patterns and the choice of coloring that it is not surprising draperies of every kind receive increasing attention.

The shadow silk, with its changeable background and design of roses, hops and clematis blending in such harmony of natural color, is most desirable, not only for curtains and portieres, but for wall hangings as well. This makes pictures in a room unnecessary as wall adornments. The plantation cloth in olive, browns and grays also makes very desirable draperies. The green cloth, with cat tails, pond lilies, etc., worked in white upon it, make very pretty designs for curtains, portieres and tablecloths.

A room done in Malagasc grass cloth is old and cool. The cloth comes in strips, every one different, yet all harmonizing; the curtains and portieres hung lengthwise, cushions and tidies on the bias. The latest is an English novelty cloth, the prettiest being sea green in hue, with a waving line in cream color running through it, resembling the waves of the sea. It comes in squares, with designs of shell and fish in each corner. For curtains, portieres and bedspreads these are united with a fancy stitch. Mantels are to be guileless of draperies. Many of polished wood have a row of gilt hooks, upon which are hung souvenirs. Duck or linen, with pretty designs of flowers, is now being used as a frieze. Curtains should hang straight at the right side, and with the draped effect at the left.

For a door panel, or in fact any kind of a panel, cloth of copper or silver is very beautiful. One scene having a design across the top worked in gold was a draped fishnet; at the bottom rushes and shells. It was attached to a door above and at the sides in artistic folds fell a green plantation cloth curtain; the effect given was that of looking into a great distance.

That audacious beauty, Lady Teazle, has been handed down to fame associated with a screen, but it is with the use, not abuse, of this ornamental article that we wish to deal. From being merely unwieldy contrivances to shelter from the draft the screens have become among the greatest ornaments of the home, and no room seems to be furnished without one or more. The threefold parlor screen is the most fashionable; for summer the bamboo or white enamel frame is very desirable. The panels may be of figured silk or to match the draperies of the room.

One can be used to shut in a cozy nook in the sitting room. In a corner it is fashionable to swing a hammock, well filled with cushions, where the fair members of the family may enjoy the latest novel or slumber undisturbed by chance intruder. Abundance of cushions should next be supplied for couch, window seat and easy chairs; also headrests, to take the place of tidies. Those of linen, plantation cloth and denim, with designs of flowers, fish and love-knots upon them, are cool and inviting as well as artistic.

In the window should be a Japanese hanging vase filled with flowers or leaves; as the fresh green and natural plants are a relief to the eye. A hollow seated Indian stool with a cushion upon it; a few easy chairs; a table with an afternoon tea set, one for papers and books; a few old fashioned ornaments on the mantel; a little open cabinet in white enamel and gold, with bric-a-brac upon it; a catchall in linen of banner form; a pretty wall ornament in the shape of a large palm leaf fan covered with silk; a spider web with a spider worked upon it, with a bunch of roses and grasses caught in the center, will make a very pretty, artistic, inviting summer room. I. HOLLAND.

Wonderful Animal Mechanism. The foot of a horse is one of the most ingenious and unexplained pieces of mechanism in the whole range of animal structure. The outside hoof is made up of a series of thin, verticle laminae of horn, about 500 in number. Into this are fitted about 500 more thin laminae, which belong to the coffin bone, both sets being elastic and adherent.

Magnanimous Mose. Mose Varioloid was up before the police court for abusing his wife—beating her over the head, kicking her out of the house, accompanied by similar other little playful eccentricities, at the conclusion of which his wife fled to the house of her parents in another town. Mose was promptly fined ten dollars and costs, which he paid.

"An now, your honor," he said, "would you mind writin a letter to my wife?" "What shall I say for you in a letter to your wife?" inquired the judge. "You might say, sir, that if she will come back to me all will be forgiven."—Texas Siftings.

A LITTLE GIRL'S RAG BABY.

It Proves a Big Factor in Raising Funds for a Church.

Dolls are usually considered about the cheapest articles in the juvenile feminine equipment, and while it is true that many a little miss owns dolls, each of which cost as much as the entire wardrobe of some of the living children of those less favored with this world's goods, these are but the exceptions to the general rule. The most primitive form of doll perhaps is the rag baby, that indescribable something constructed from the tatters of the household. There is one thing, however, about the rag doll which cannot fail to excite admiration. Let her be put among ever so many handsome sisters, she is certain to hold the warmest place in the regard of the common mamma, be she the child of rich or poor parents. But the rag doll has until recently never done anything to make her name famous.

The nicely dressed French baby—beshod and bestocked and bejeweled sometimes—has on numerous occasions figured prominently in voting contests and on raffie lists at fairs, but it remained for little Lydia Edna Byrnes, of Brooklyn, a child not yet four years old, to rescue the much abused rag dolly from the oblivion to which she has been so long and so unjustly consigned and make her a prominent factor in financial circles. And it all came about in this way:

Lydia owned but one doll, and it was made of rags, a nondescript sort of baby with a particularly "open" expression of countenance, but evidently lacking in force of character and cohesiveness. Lydia's father, Rev. Horace W. Byrnes, is the new pastor of an old church in Brooklyn, formerly known as the Cedar Street Methodist, but now designated as the Epworth M. E. church. Mr. Byrnes was confronted with the serious task of raising the funds necessary for the erection of a new church, and one morning at breakfast discussed the matter with his good wife, when it was determined that the work should begin at once. Little three-year-old Lydia Edna sat at the table looking as wise as an owl and evidently cogitating deeply. Then she offered her baby—the rag dolly—as her contribution toward the new church. Every one laughed, said the child was cute and then thought no more of the matter.

Not so, however, with Lydia. When she went to church dolly was with her, and when her father spoke to his congregation of the necessity of raising funds at once and the hull succeeding the first few subscriptions had arrived, as it always does on such occasions, Lydia got out of her pew before any one could stay her, and walking demurely down the aisle handed to the minister her rag dolly—her all—as her free will offering. Immediately there were additional subscriptions, and before the services closed several thousand dollars had been raised, and the congregation has felt warranted in going ahead on the work for the new church. It is believed that at least $1,000 will be contributed directly in the name of the ex-mother of the hitherto despised, but now greatly respected rag baby. It is said that several of the parishioners of Mr. Byrnes intend to buy a glass case for Lydia's dolly and deposit it, with a suitable inscription, in the reading room of the new church as soon as that edifice shall have been completed.

How Leap Year Beans Grow. A curious belief about leap year, says a New York paper, is perhaps not so well known as the ladies' privilege. Rustic folk in many parts of England firmly believe that in leap year all kinds of beans are produced in the pods in the reverse position to that which is usual, or, as an old laborer in Surrey once phrased it, "in leap year the eye is to the point, in other years to the strig," that is, the stalk. There is ample evidence that in the last bi-sexcentile, 1888, in many widely separated parts of the country, the beans were observed to be produced in the pods in this manner, and the rustic belief that this was caused by the fact of its being leap year was naturally strengthened. But by some agriculturists the phenomenon was taken to be a sign of plenty, and there is no doubt that beans grow in this manner in other years than the bi-sexcentile; but whenever the occurrence happens to coincide with the latter, the superstition is sure to revive.

The Result of an Accident. A Boston correspondent says that the incident which shaped the professional career of the late Paul Dillingham, ex-governor of Vermont, was cutting his foot with an ax while chopping trees when he was about twenty-one years old. Although disabled only for a time, he had a slight limp all the rest of his life in consequence of this painful mishap. While recovering from the immediate effects of the blow he spent many hours in general reading in a lawyer's office, and this led to his looking into the law and finally adopting it as his profession.

THE HOUSEWIFE UNION

An Energetic Organization Has Been Formed for the Excellent Purpose of Improving the Domestic Service.

The Leading Women of Berlin Have Done Much to Solve a Question of a Vexatious Nature.

Their Interesting System of Giving Prizes Explained at Length—German Servants Who Are Veterans.

A meeting was held not long ago in the magnificent city hall by the Housewife Union of Berlin for the purpose of publicly rewarding servants of the members for years of faithful service. The rewards were a handsome silver pin, with the initials of the union and the words, "Reward for faithful service," an engraved certificate, a copy of the union's cookbook and a sum of money, determined by the time of service.

The Housewife union is one of the most energetic women's organizations in Germany. In Berlin its influence stretches out over every branch of household work, and every industry pertaining thereto. It was founded by Frau Lili Morgenstern. The idea of encouraging faithful domestic service by a public reward is also an emanation from her brain. In the first years of its existence the committee on prizes had hard work to make both ends meet. But public interest in the experiment grew each year, and now, thanks to gifts and legacies, this branch of the union is self-supporting and almost out of debt.

To be entitled to a prize, a woman must serve at least five years in the same household, after which time she receives the pin and the certificate. She receives after ten years in the same household the cookbook and ten marks in gold; after twenty years she gets twenty marks, and after thirty years in the same household thirty marks is the sum given. She may receive a certain prize every five years if she wishes, the only necessary condition being that her employer, if not a member of the union, must pay two years' membership fee and a small sum toward the prize.

The council hall used for the annual meeting was filled to overflowing with an interested crowd of women, a man here and there looking and probably feeling very much out of place. In the front row sat from twenty to thirty servants of all ages dressed in their best and fully appreciative of the importance of the occasion. The meeting was opened by the president of the union, Frau Morgenstern, a short, stout woman, with white hair and a bright, kindly face. After a brief resume of the minutes of the last meeting the president spoke of the purpose of prize giving, the hope of improving the class of domestic servants by encouraging long and faithful attention to duty and the attempt to restore something of the patriarchal relations of servant and employer in former days, when the servant was one of the family, taking a personal pride and interest in the welfare of the household.

She then spoke to the servants, emphasizing the good their example must do to many of their class, and contrasting the security of their position with the lot of the factory hand and the shopgirl. The employer came in for a little of the praise as well, Frau Morgenstern rightly giving the housewife her due share of importance in making and the keeping of good servants. Then the list of those to be rewarded was read, and the women came forward one by one to receive the prizes.

The first name announced was that of a working housekeeper, who had served fifty years in the same place, outliving two generations, and now in her old age cared for as one of the family. The announcement evoked a storm of applause, and the audience was much disappointed when told that this faithful creature was too old to make the journey from her distant country home, and that her prize had been forwarded to her.

Next on the list came another housekeeper, whose term of service had lasted 38 years; then a cook of 30 years' service in the same household, another of 28, and another of 26. All lived in country towns, not far distant, and from one who was unable to be present a letter of thanks was read aloud. Then came six women, all of whom had served 25 years in families in Berlin; then one who had served for 24 years, another for 23, another for 22, several for 20, four from 15 to 20 years, and seven whose term of service lasted from 5 to 15 years. Twenty-eight in all were rewarded, the majority having served for more than 20 years in the same family. Several had received prizes five years before, and several were from families where fellow servants had been rewarded within the last few years.

At the previous meeting forty-five women were rewarded, and the number of prizes given has seldom been below twenty. Touching stories of fidelity in misfortune, of honest attachment born of pride and interest in the employer's family were told, and it was hard to believe, in listening that we were in the latter half of the nineteenth century and in the heart of a great city. They recalled other quarters of the globe where two or three women cannot meet for a social chat without harrowing tales to narrate of incompetent "help," of the hardships of housekeeping and sighing for the time when modern ingenuity had invented a mechanical substitute for that necessary evil—the domestic servant.

The Housewife's union was organized about eighteen or twenty years ago by the housewives of Berlin for concerted effort against the unnecessarily high prices demanded by the purveyors of the various means of existence. The high prices of family supplies had attracted the attention of Frau Morgenstern, and her public lectures on the subject occasioned considerable excitement and aroused women to action. The union was formed, and a regularly organized boycott had the desired effect of lowering prices on the necessities of life. The union then turned its attention to charity. During the distress occasioned by the unprecedented growth of the city's population after the war, more than 5,000 poor received assistance each winter.

Then came a time when the adulteration of food was carried to such an excess that it was impossible for any except the rich to obtain proper nourishment. Here again the union stepped to the front and called the attention of the government to the frauds perpetrated on a helpless public, and obtained legal protection for its laboratories established for the purpose of detecting adulterated food.—Berlin Cor. New York Sun.

From an ancient account book found at Eastport, Me., it appears that in 1797 tobacco was sold by the yard in that town.

HE'S GRIEVOUSLY AFFLICTED.

A Poor Lad Who Has Been Blind, Deaf, Dumb and Deaf-Blind.

Blind, six days, deaf, five days, dumb, one day; violently delirious, two days. That is the record of unfortunate little Ernest Frevert, a nine-year-old boy who is an inmate of the Carson (Nev.) Orphans' home. The most terrible feature of the series of afflictions which the child has suffered is that they were continuous and in some cases simultaneous.

His extraordinary ailments have made sad ravages upon his flesh, for during the few days that he was ill he lost no less than twenty-five pounds. He is now comparatively well, although, he complains of severe pains in his head. The case has attracted a great deal of attention and has completely mystified the physicians, who can only account for it on the theory that the trouble is due to a clot of blood, which, passing over the nerves connecting with the various organs, might, they say, have produced phenomena similar to those experienced by young Frevert.

He first became deaf a short time ago; soon afterward he became totally blind, and for about twenty-four hours was dumb. The next stage of his mysterious malady was a state of temporary delirium. His dumbness was first manifested when he attempted to say "Good morning." His lips went through the motion of speaking, and his face was painfully twisted in his frantic attempts to talk, but no sound passed his lips. He first manifested the loss of his hearing, which followed the regaining of his speech, by crying when the home superintendent left the room. When called and spoken to he paid no attention, and a loud noise made close behind his ear did not startle him.

But there was a new surprise in store for the home people when the discovery was made that Ernest was blind. One morning when the bell rang for the inmates to get up he left his bed, but was observed groping about for his clothes and stumbling against the furniture. Several times were made which convinced everybody that he was indeed blind, although his eyes did not indicate it. Next day he began acting in a foolish manner and indulged in strange antics. This continued several hours, until, frothing and raging, he fell to the floor in convulsions and rolled about as if in pain. He writhed, twisted and beat the floor with his hands. Then his speech returned, and in the most unexpected way, it came in a stream of profanity, which flowed uninterruptedly for some time. The blood clot theory of the physicians may be the correct one, as treatment in accordance with this diagnosis has produced excellent results and afforded the little sufferer great relief.

Soldiers Dying of Consumption.

The United Service Gazette publishes a communication from Dr. Hamilton to Sir Evelyn Wood, in which he formulates the results of the inquiry which he had been permitted to make into the physique of the British soldier, his food, clothing, quarters, etc. He finds that the soldier's vital capacity is low, and that he is badly looked after. He adds that a large amount of waste in the army under the present system is produced by preventable disease. "One of the chief sources of this waste is consumption. During the six years, 1885-90, that disease caused a waste in the army of 4,422 men, and a financial loss to the state, on Lord Eustace Cecil's estimate of £135 per man, of £595,640, being an average annual loss of £88,400. To this must be added in great part other diseases of the lungs and of the circulatory system, and these diseases together form the chief source of the invaliding and death in the army. From the data lying before me I estimate that this preventable waste in the army causes a financial loss of at least half a million per annum, and very materially adds to the number of the recruits that otherwise would not be required. Now I place my hand on consumption, and say this source of waste can be cut off by practical purposes, but an end to the adoption of the proper measures."

Wants to Visit Russia. Mrs. Theophilus Kraemer is a lady who was anxious to accompany Mrs. M. Louise Thomas, an avoy of the Red Cross society, to Russia, but whose plans were thwarted by the Russian consular officials in New York and Washington. These gentlemen asserted that Mrs. Kraemer was a socialist who wished to get into their country for some dire purpose which they failed to explain, and only alleged the desire to visit the famine-stricken districts of Russia as a pretext to enable her to accomplish her mission. Mrs. Thomas thereupon refused to allow Mrs. Kraemer to accompany her, and a great hubbub among the Polish societies of New York, with whom Mrs. Kraemer, herself a native of Poland, stands very high was the result. Mrs. Clara Barton said that Mrs. Kraemer has no connection with the Red Cross society, "is not a member or representative of it and never has been." Mrs. Kraemer has a letter from ex-Governor Hoyt, of Wyoming, a copy of which is said to have been sent to Mrs. Thomas asking that lady to task for having refused to permit Mrs. Kraemer to accompany her on her trip to Russia. Altogether the case is as badly mixed up as the buttercup babies in "Pinocchio."

Mrs. Kraemer has recently been living in great style in Steinway, L. I., where she has a luxuriously furnished house. She has recently made a statement in which she denies that she has ever been identified with any socialist body. She says she went to Steinway to live in order to have a refuge from the persecutions of her husband. She says that ex-Governor Hoyt, of Wyoming, introduced her to Mrs. Thomas, and she denies that Mrs. Thomas ever asked her any questions concerning her "political record" in Russia. She denies that she has any evil designs on the person of the emperor, and insists that she has refused to visit St. Petersburg, but wanted to go only to the famine-stricken district. Mrs. Kraemer declares that she will go to Russia in spite of all the obstacles which have been thrown in her way, but she is likely to find the road, to quote Governor Tillman, of South Carolina, "a mighty stumby one to travel."

NOTICE

Of Application for an Order Confirming Final Assessment for Sprinkling Streets in District No. 1.

Office of the Board of Public Works, City of Duluth, Minnesota, May 22nd, 1892. Notice is hereby given that the board of public works of the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, state of Minnesota, has completed its assessment roll amounting to the sum of eight hundred ninety-six ($896) dollars and fifty (50) cents upon the real estate benefited by the sprinkling of First street, from Twelfth avenue east to Ohio avenue; Bench street (now Superior street) from Eighth avenue east to Mission street; and Superior street (now London road) in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, from Eighth avenue east to Twelfth avenue east, in proportion to the benefits, for the purpose of raising money to in full defray the expense thereof; and that the board of public works of said city of Duluth will, on the 4th day of June A. D. 1892, at a public hearing in the presence of said city, make application to the district court in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, at a special term of said court, to be held at the court house in said city of Duluth, at said time, for an order of said court confirming said assessment roll, at which time and place parties interested in said assessment may appear and make objections to the same; all objections should be made in writing. Said assessment affects all pieces or parcels of land situated in said city and mentioned or referred to in the following descriptions, viz:

All the lots and parcels of land abutting on said First street, between Twelfth avenue east and Ohio avenue; on Bench street (now Superior street), between Eighth avenue east and Mission street; on Superior street (now London road), between Eighth avenue east and Twelfth avenue east, except all lots and parcels of land lying on the south side of Superior street (now London road), in that part of Bench street & Ray's subdivision of Duluth, lying west of the easterly line of Eleventh avenue east extended, and in that part of Portland division lying east of the westerly line of Tenth avenue east extended.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., May 25.—Fair weather, prevailing over the entire country, although light showers have fallen
in scattered places.
Temperatures have changed little since yesterday, except over Lake Superior, where it is warmer and the Northwest where it is slightly colder.
A. Area of low pressure is central northeast of Lake Superior and the pressure is generally slightly below the normal in all sections but Colorado. It is probable that a storm will form in the Lower Mississippi valley sometime today
and move north.
The temperature reached 85° here yesterday,
and fell during the night to 65°.

DULUTH, May 25.—Local forecast for Duluth
until 5 p. m. May 25: Generally fair, slightly cooler.

R. H. BOSTON,
Observer.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A disturbed region of low temperature extends from Lake Superior to the Gulf of St. Lawrence which has caused very slight precipitation in the lower lake region.
Forecast till 5 p. m. Thursday: For Michigan and Wisconsin: Generally fair, clearing in western lower Michigan; westerly winds. For Minnesota and the Dakotas: Generally fair,
followed in Western Dakotas by light showers;
variable winds.

THE NORTHEASTERN ORDINANCE.

The passage of the ordinance granting certain rights to the Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal company has aroused some adverse criticism upon
the members of the common council who voted in favor of it. This criticism appears to be entirely unjustifiable and
to be based upon a misapprehension of the facts. It is to be regretted that it was found necessary to adopt the scheme
of building a bridge across the inner harbor, but it was a case of urgent necessity. It was the original intention and desire of the promoters of the Duluth & Northeastern to construct a tunnel beneath the canal, on condition of the city paying one-half the expense. This intention was based upon the idea that the cost would be largely under $1,000,000.
The company was prepared to pay that amount and take the city's bonds for the other half at par and float them. It was believed that in view of the great benefits that would be obtained by the utilization of Minnesota Point for terminal facilities the city might properly
assume this additional debt.

It was found, however, after a careful examination of the ground that the expense of constructing the tunnel would be very much greater than was anticipated—in fact almost double. One of the most experienced engineers in the country, after a complete survey of the locality, expressed the opinion that the proposed tunnel would cost at least $1,600,000, owing to the extreme length of the required approaches in order to secure a sufficiently low grade. The idea of expending $1,600,000 on the tunnel could not be entertained for a moment. The company did not feel able to assume the expense, and certainly the city is not in a position now to add $800,000 to its bonded indebtedness
for that or any other purpose. All parties concerned therefore were compelled to abandon the idea of a tunnel, although they would have much preferred it to the bridge. The next best scheme was to bridge the harbor, the privilege of bridging the canal being denied by the war department. All objections, therefore,
to this feature of the ordinance must fall
to the ground.

An interview is published today with
S. D. Allen, attorney of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern road, who raises
other objections which are equally untenable. Mr. Allen makes a number of statements which shows that he must be entirely ignorant of the contents of the ordinance. He says: "All these streets fifteen or twenty in number, and the only ones on which any railroad could enter
the central part of the city were given over to the Sargent company exclusively." This is absolutely incorrect.
There are but a few streets leading to the central part of the city over which the Northeastern company has been given rights, and these rights are not exclusive. In the first place the company's rights only cover one-half of each of the streets in question, and in the second place other companies are given the privilege of using the Northeastern company's tracks on those streets on terms, the reasonableness of which is subject to the determination of the state railroad commission. Mr.
Allen, therefore, is entirely incorrect
when he declares that "this ordinance closes the central part of Duluth to any railroad seeking to enter Duluth." If Mr. Allen will read the provisions of the ordinance and then look at a map of the portion of the city affected he will see at a glance that he is mistaken.

Again Mr. Allen says: "Instead of being a means of getting other roads into the city I charge that it is, and is intended to be, a means of keeping all roads out unless they pay large tribute to this company." The ordinance will bear no such interpretation. The Northeastern is to be a terminal company as well, and if Mr. Allen and other objectors will read sections 2 and 3 they will discover that the company is obligated to operate its lines "as a terminal and transfer company so far as may be necessary to afford complete and equitable terminal and transfer facilities for freight and passengers to all railroads entering Duluth and desiring to connect with the tracks of said company," and that ample provision is made for impartial and equal service at reasonable rates. If the interests of the city have not been fully guarded in this respect, then the English language has lost its generally accepted meaning. In addition to these safeguards, it must be remembered that the Northeastern will be anxious to have other roads use its terminal facilities, on account of the revenue to be derived,

and it is absurd to assert that it would
exact "large tribute" which would shut out other roads. Such action would reduce its own revenue.

Finally Mr. Allen is severe upon what he calls "rushing" the ordinance through
the council, and criticizes the mayor
for signing it immediately after its passage. This comes with rather poor grace from the paid attorney of the Red Lake Falls road, who, when the ordinance for that road was passed recently, did some rushing that would have done credit to a professional sprinter
and who had not a word of criticism on the mayor because he signed that ordinance immediately at Mr. Allen's urgent request, and at whose instance also that ordinance was given an official publication a few hours later to avoid injunction proceedings. Possibly Mr. Allen, who went to St. Paul that same night,
has not forgotten how he chuckled on
the train as he told how cleverly he had outwitted those who desired an injunction. But with Mr. Allen as with others it evidently makes a big difference
whose ox is gored.

ONE TERM ENOUGH.

"The Perils of Re-electing Presidents"
is the title of an interesting article by Hon. Dorman B. Eaton in the current number of the North American Review,
which voices a rapidly growing sentiment that the president of the United States should be ineligible for a second term and the single term should be extended to about six years. There are too many elections in this country at present. They follow each other so closely that no sooner is one ended than
the people are plunged into the turmoil of another campaign. The effect is not beneficial to the business interests of the country and experience has shown that it does not contribute to the purity of politics, but on the contrary it has created an army of ward-healers and pot-
house politicians who have no other business than that of politics and are always ready to work for the candidate that is willing to make the highest bid for their services.

The right of the occupant of the White House to become a candidate for a second term also has a bad effect. Presidents are but human. It is but natural that they should make appointments to office with a view of furthering their re-election and though the appointees may
in many instances be men of ability and integrity, yet it will frequently happen
that men will be appointed who are totally incompetent and receive the position solely as a reward for services rendered. The one-term principle would largely put an end to this evil. If, asks Mr. Eaton, we now had a presidential term of six years, who, except party managers, office seekers, the buyers and sellers of votes, and the storm
birds of partisan politics, would wish
to see the quadrennial term restored?
Indeed, we are not justified in believing that if the members of the convention of 1877—the leaders of a generation which had no removals for party ends and no interference by officials with elections—
could be their own revisers, in the light
of our experience, they would provide for a presidential term of six or seven years, a term which they twice approved,
and never abandoned until their confidence had been won by a device of presidential electors, the failure of which would be their great disappointment in contemplating their glorious creation?

NO SERIOUS LOSS.

E. S. Lacey, comptroller of the currency, has resigned to accept the presidency of a Chicago bank. The public service will not suffer by the retirement
of this official who has displayed marked incapacity in his supervision of the national banks. Charges even more serious than that of incapacity were made against him in connection with the suspension of the banks in Philadelphia,
and in a later case at Boston it was claimed that he failed to perform his duty when the inspector reported irregularities which finally led to the bank's suspension.

Mr. Lacey, of course, vigorously denied these charges and laid the blame
upon the existing law for the extensive frauds which were practised in the Philadelphia banks. He never was able to satisfactorily explain, however, why
after the frauds in connection with one bank came to his notice he permitted its president to retain control of the institution for two or three months and then allowed him to escape from the clutches of the law. Mr. Lacey may make a good bank president, but as comptroller
of the currency he was not a success.

A New York policeman has fallen heir
to $2,000,000 and of course will retire from the force. But it is questionable whether he can long remain happy without the opportunity of knocking a prisoner on the head with a club.

The Republican congressional situation in St. Louis county is now becoming interesting. The prospects are that there will be a lively contest at the primaries on June 2.

A slight earthquake is reported from Indiana, but it was probably the clash
of arms among the Hoosier politicians.

AMUSEMENTS.

Original Georgians Tonight.
The original Georgians will appear at the Temple tonight and it is without doubt one of the strongest colored attractions on the road. They have with them such people as Uncle Bas Robinson, the noted end man formerly with Calander's minstrels, Professor A. L.
Tutt, wing and trick dancer, C. W. Kelly,
banjo and guitar soloist, Marie Wright,
formerly with the Canada jubilee singers and Susie Jackson, who was with the New Orleans jubilee singers. They played several days in St. Paul and Minneapolis recently and were greeted with crowded houses every night.
Their singing and chorus work is said to be especially fine.

Hallen and Hart.

Hallen and Hart are making a wonderful success this season in their laughing skit entitled "Later On." The company is said to be one of the strongest on the road. They are doing a tremendous business. At the Haymarket theater, Chicago, the receipts reached $7300. At the Columbia theater the next week the take was $9104.

Will Carleton, Lyceum theater, June 4

Can Give John Points.

Fargo Republican: Owing to the fact that he cannot be re-elected, Kittle Halvorsen will not be a candidate for congress from the Sixth Minnesota district.
But Kittle will have drawn $10,000 at the end of his brief but brilliant career
as a statesman, and out of this he will probably have saved $9,000, which he can carry around in his trousers pocket to ease up any financial demands that may be made thereon in the misty future.
Mr. Halvorsen may not be as brilliant in debate as the Hon. John Sherman, but he can give the latter "straight pointers" on contracting the money market
by withdrawing currency from circulation to the extent of his salary.

Set the Example.
Little Falls Transcript: The Buffalo
(Wright county) Journal severely criticizes the apportionment made by the Republican convention in this congressional district. The state committee set the example we believe.

VERY RICH DEVELOPMENTS.

Recent Discoveries on the Property of the Chicago

Capt. C. R. Huffman, who has charge of the operations on the Chicago property, came into the city on business yesterday, and greatly gratified the stockholders by what he had to say concerning the developments of the past forty eight hours. Work is going on all over the eighteen forty-acre tract which constitute the tract. At the east end there are now three pits in fine ore, all of it more than equalling in quality the samples that had heretofore been taken. Of these No. 3
is in fine soft ore, the pit is 12 feet deep and six, or just one-half of it, is hematite. No. 4, which has a depth of 35 feet, is equally divided between hard iron ore, the hard being of the open texture that will be easily mined, and the soft. No. 5, which has a depth of 40 feet, is hard ore, and similar in structure and composition to its neighbor.
The hematite is thick. On the west end of the tract, the best development has been found in pit No. 7, which has shown a fine red hematite from the beginning and seems to grow more compact as the work progresses. This grade of the ore
is also very easily mined, and is so free
from impurities that it will be among the most productive of the whole number of pits. These developments have made a certain amount of money for the area of this tremendous tract being blanketed with a body
of high quality Bessemer ore.
"I am more than satisfied with the progress that we have made during the past month," said Capt. Huffman. "The continuous rains and the vast amount of surface water with which we have had to contend has put us at a tremendous disadvantage, and the condition of the ore
roads is such that there was no way to secure appliances to adequately protect ourselves against it. The developments
we have made have surpassed my expectations, and I am more than gratified with the progress that we are making. The showing is a splendid one and there has been a wonderful improvement
in the last few days."

Capt. Huffman has now a force of twenty-four men at work, and is pushing
the development as rapidly as need be
to have the mines ready for shipment
when the railroad reaches here in August and are prepared to transport the ore.
That it will have a ready market goes without saying, as the general average equals, if not exceeds, that of any property on the range. It is needless to remark that these developments make the holders of Chicago stock feel as happy
as did yesterday's first May sunshine
make all the Duluthians.

Considerable excitement was oc-

the furnace at the blast furnace. The brick work was broken out in two places
and the molten iron escaped and set the shed over the stores on fire, which added to the alarm. The fire department turned out promptly, but as nearly all the streets
in the city are torn up for repairs, it was slow work getting to the fire. The accident caused a short delay in work, but the damage will not amount to a great deal.

Paris Fashions.

Varnishing day at the salon is an occasion for the display of our prettiest costumes, and we must plead guilty of trying to outdo our neighbors in the matter of handsome costumes, and in my opinion the living figures that pass
serenely along looking at the paintings
are more interesting than the pictures.
The dresses are so pretty, the parasols so
light and airy, made as they are of filmy
chiffon lightly festooned over a frame of pale silk, and the lace and ribbon—so much of it is used now, more, I think,
than ever before.

The spring wraps simply revel in rich embroidery in metal threads, and almost every costume which will stand it has more or less gold
or silver embroidery. Figaro jackets of rich
white or black velvet are still embroidered in
gold thread, and
many costumes
have vest front,
cuffs and collars
in the same valuable embroidery.
Some of them are
made postiche so
as to change from
one costume to another. Handsome dresses
for visit, home
or reception are often made like
the illustration,
with a deep velvet foot piece, richly embroidered with gold or silver, or sometimes a mixture of both. The girdle is sometimes embroidered to match the skirt and sometimes
left plain.

Ribbons are holding high carnival
and flutter everywhere.

Deer Come High.

Every stag that falls in a Scottish forest, it has been calculated, costs the lessee from thirty-five to fifty pounds,
but, as with us is termed "butcher's meat," these animals, if placed on the market, would not yield to those who killed them more than sixpence per pound.

Actors were so much admired by the late Dr. Morell Mackenzie that he never charged them for medical advice.

A Trying Experience.

Perhaps the most trying experience in the career of a maiden who has passed the first blush of romantic girlhood is when she braces herself to meet the shock of a proposal of marriage from some man and the shock doesn't come.—London Tit-Bits.

THE CHINQUY LECTURE

A Large Audience Hears the Famous Preacher Explain Why He Left the Church of Rome.

He Tells of a Great Plot to Capture the Country Designed by the Roman Catholics.

He Says the Irish Catholics Are Securing Control of the Army and Navy and Many Large Cities.

The Lyceum theater was packed last night when Father Chinquy was introduced to his audience. On the stage were about fifteen of the Protestant ministers of the city. Dr. Ringland of the First Presbyterian church led in prayer and Dr. Forbes then introduced Father Chinquy saying that he would introduce any speaker representing any phase of opinion, Catholic or Protestant, just as cheerfully as he did Father Chinquy. This is a land of free speech and fair play and he would have any man heard who can throw the light of day on any subject which is a matter of doubt.

Father Chinquy then stepped to the front. He is a remarkably well preserved man and it is hard to believe that he has lived 83 years, but he is still vigorous although he has undoubtedly lost nearly all of the fiery eloquence with which he must have been gifted when he was given the title of "Temperance apostle of Canada." He speaks with a decidedly French accent and is a typical French Canadian. His sermon last evening was not the one announced. He told the story of his conversion from the church of Rome, but there was no thing new in his argument. It may have been that Father Chinquy's subject was not one which allows him to enter into a theological argument, but that he did not do it.

In opening he asked the prayers of the audience that he be given some of the spirit of God, so that what he said might be for their good. "For twenty-five years," said he, "I was a priest of the church of Rome and I fully believed that it was the church of Christ. My every ambition was to extend her power. I believed and preached as other honest but misguided Catholics do not that there was nothing outside the church. When I studied my Bible it was to find new arguments to confound the Protestants, and yet all that time a voice was telling me constantly that the church of Rome does not follow the word of God but the lying tradition of men; that there is no authority for auricular confession, the granting of indulgences and other practices I struggled against this voice, believing it was the devil tempting me, and not knowing that it was the voice of God trying to take me from the false. I was shutting my eyes and struggling against him. This continued twenty-five years, and during that time I was overloaded with honors by the church. Every kindness was showered upon me. It is not through pride that I say this. It is to show that I have no bad feelings. When I see a priest of Rome have no hard feelings against him. They are lowest, I know, but they are as miserable as I was. They know their church is a fraud yet they shut their ears to the word of God and listen to the noise of the devil speaking through the pope. I do not come here to abuse them. I respect and admire their zeal and devotion. It is greater than yours, Protestants, and when confronted at the throne of God with them you will cut a poor figure in comparison."

Father Chinquy then narrated the circumstances of the plot which, he says, was designed by the Catholics to conquer the United States, to work the nation and bring it to the feet of the pope. The bishop of Chicago came to him in Canada and unfolded the great "secret" and asked him to come to the United States and help in the accomplishment of the design. The Irish were to be massed in the East and as they multiply rapidly, being a prolific race, says Father Chinquy, having about ten members in their families, while the Yankees only have four, or so, it was calculated that in about twenty-five years they would control the East. In the west the French pope was to be massed and it was here he was wanted. A colony was to be founded in Illinois and the population scattered throughout the west.

"I found these plans grand," said Father Chinquy. "The Roman Catholic church always has grand plans, my fellow Protestants. They have a mighty zeal and while they sleep working only for dollars, they are laboring to their church. They will succeed, too, unless you shed rivers of blood to prevent it. I have seen your heroes in the civil war, you are a brave people but you are cowards in religion and you let the priests and the Irish trample upon you. You are always yielding your position to the Irish and the Roman Catholics, you don't think of the interests of Christianity. You shut your eyes and do not see the Irish Catholics taking possession of Washington, New York, Boston; yes, and they are even getting your army and navy."

"Well, I found the bishop's plan a grand one. I came to Illinois in 1851, established my colony, and in a short time I was surrounded by 75,000 Catholics. I was happy then that I had been the means of advancing the church's interests so greatly, but the ways of God are not man's ways. I was taken there by the pope, but God had sent me there to deliver the most deadly blow to the church of Rome that it has ever received since the Reformation. It was not my work, it was God's work. The church of Rome is not a Christian church. You are deceived when you believe that it is. It is a church of paganism."

Here Father Chinquy explained how every day the priest takes unleavened bread—and he here produced the instruments with which it is made—and must believe that he has a power infinitely above the power of God; that by pronouncing five magical words he changes the bread and wine into the body and blood, soul and divinity, of Jesus Christ. "This is the most diabolical form of idolatry the world has ever seen," said Father Chinquy, "more degrading than the idolatry of the savage in the woods. I believed it, but God brought me the light of day. It was one Saturday, the last of that I ever said the mass. He came to me then after my years of doubts as a conqueror. He said to me: 'Are you not ashamed to believe that you can make a god out of a wafer of bread?' When Christ broke the bread and wine it was only a figure; he said, 'This is my body,' as one would say of a picture of his absent wife when showing it to a friend. 'This is my wife.' This is all there is to a circumstance which the pope has changed into a mystery of idolatry. This was the way the voice came to me and I asked my God to speak to me and answer it but no answer came. I bowed in prayer for more than an hour and my soul was plunged in darkness when suddenly I seemed to see a great mountain before me. It was the mountain of my sins and it rolled toward me and I cried to my God to speak to me but no answer came until suddenly I saw a great light and in the midst the Savior looking at me so kindly and telling me to come out from the church of Rome. As he spoke these marvelous words my soul was filled with grace and the light of truth and then for the first time I accepted the gifts of joy and peace. I felt for the first time that Jesus was sent to me and that there was nothing for me to do but to accept and love him. I took my Bible and swore to never more obey the church of Rome which had blinded my eyes and kept me from knowing the truth."

Father Chinquy then told how he announced his conversion in his church next day and the consternation that his words created. He told his congregation he was going to leave them but they begged him to stay. He then spoke to them and told why he left the church of Rome. Eternal life is a gift, he said, given by God, but in the Roman Catholic church you must buy your salvation. They have conceded the fact that it is a gift. He then told how his congregation remained with him and how he converted in the years that followed 40,000 people. He closed his evening's lecture by a rather persistent plea for the sale of three books which he has written. "The first will show," he said, "how the church of Rome has slaughtered your ancestors and cut the throats of your grandfathers and grandmothers. In this book I prove to you that the pope has said that it is not a sin to kill a Protestant. I show also that the priests caused the civil war. The second book will show you Protestants why you must prevent the marriage of your son to a Roman Catholic girl because of the danger that she will become more the wife of the priest than of your son. It will show you how I made Bishop Foley, of Chicago, swear in the court at Kankakee that it is the mission of the Catholics to exterminate the Protestants. You are in great danger. The Roman Catholic church is a fraud and you must not follow the word of God but the lying tradition of men; that there is no authority for auricular confession, the granting of indulgences and other practices I struggled against this voice, believing it was the devil tempting me, and not knowing that it was the voice of God trying to take me from the false. I was shutting my eyes and struggling against him. This continued twenty-five years, and during that time I was overloaded with honors by the church. Every kindness was showered upon me. It is not through pride that I say this. It is to show that I have no bad feelings. When I see a priest of Rome have no hard feelings against him. They are lowest, I know, but they are as miserable as I was. They know their church is a fraud yet they shut their ears to the word of God and listen to the noise of the devil speaking through the pope. I do not come here to abuse them. I respect and admire their zeal and devotion. It is greater than yours, Protestants, and when confronted at the throne of God with them you will cut a poor figure in comparison."

Tonight Father Chinquy lectures on "Auricular Confession."

HE WON'T LABOR.

John O'Leary Objects to Working on the Streets.

Before Judge Powell in the municipal court this morning, John O'Leary was the first to respond. He said, "I guess I was drunk yesterday, but I don't like to-day." As he received his sentence he murmured: "I'll take the ten days, but I'll be damned if I do a tap av wurruk on the streets," and he was ordered to sit down. He will get bread and water until he changes his mind. Thomas White, a plain drunk, got ten days, and Jas. D. Keckie for fast driving was fined $5. Pat Daugherty, the famous Anglo-Irishman witness in the New Orleans Murphy murder case, was run in as a vag, but laughingly assured his honor that he was not guilty, that it was preposterous that he should be charged with such an offense. He will be there this afternoon, however, on the charge. Adolph Kimball, the belligerent German, who kicked and beat his wife May 1 so that she gave premature birth to a child, was sentenced to three months in the county jail on a plea of guilty. He has been up before for wife beating and was fined $15 so the records show.

Deaths and Deaths.

Two deaths were reported at the health office this morning. Mary Bruff, aged 30 years, died of heart disease at 2219 West Fifth street, and Flossie Britts, a 2-year-old child, died at 1001 West Superior street. On this last report there is no cause or date of death stated, which makes the compilation of statistics a rather difficult matter. The births of four males and two females were also reported.

MR. ALLEN AS A CRITIC

The Attorney of the Red Lake Falls Road Criticizes Several Features of the Northern Eastern Ordinance.

He Claims That It Closes the Central Part of Duluth to Any Road Seeking an Entrance.

Charges the Mayor With Haste, But Was Not so Particular About the Red Lake Falls Ordinance.

The assertion was made on the street yesterday that S. D. Allen would get out an injunction restraining the city from publishing the Duluth & Northeastern Railway and Terminal company's ordinance. This, however, has not been done and the statement is undoubtedly incorrect. Mr. Allen was asked by a New reporter today as to his opposition to the ordinance and said:

"I did not attend the council meeting last evening on account of the passage of the ordinance. I had been stated by members of the common council that no ordinance would be passed giving any rights in streets, without other railroad companies were given the right to use the same upon payment of a reasonable charge; the papers have repeatedly stated such to be the fact. When, however, I heard the ordinance read, and saw all these streets, fifteen or twenty in number, and the only ones upon which any railroad could enter the central part of the city, were given over to the Sargent company exclusively, I objected to the ordinance. I have no objection to the city's interests are not protected in this ordinance, and instead of being a means of getting other railroads into the city, I charge that it is, and it tends to be a means of keeping all railroads out, unless they pay large tribute to this company."

"The ordinance was changed, in executive session yesterday, so that it allowed other companies to run upon their tracks, and rushed through last night. After the passage of the ordinance I went to the mayor and called his attention to the great changes that had been made in the ordinance restricting, contrary to public expectation, the rights of other roads upon the tracks to be built, and asked him to hold it to consider it, and in which it is intended that the people shall have the right to see him in regard to it and express their views thereon."

"This ordinance closes the central part of Duluth to any road seeking to enter Duluth and is the most unfortunate measure passed by the city council since the passage of the gas and water ordinance. It has come to a pretty pass in this town if these great measures affecting the entire city cannot be considered by the people of the city. Mayor D'Auremont and the council have prevented any investigation into the merits of this ordinance and they must bear the responsibilities of their acts."

NEW DULUTH'S GAIN.

The Newly Elected Cashier of the National Bank.

George W. Keyes, the cashier of the New Duluth National bank, has arrived to assume the duties of his new position. Mr. Keyes comes from Olivet, Mich., on his departure the Olivet Optic said:

"This week Olivet loses one of her older and most respected citizens, and one of her best business men, Mr. George W. Keyes, who, on Monday morning, left for New Duluth, Minn., to begin the duties of cashier of the New Duluth National bank, to which position he was some weeks ago elected."

Mr. Keyes, who has had a long history of business, and has been identified with Olivet and her interests, with the college and her growth. Beginning his business career here, his work and energy have been in our midst, and from his work and toil he has founded a profitable and good business, which he leaves in charge of his son, Mr. W. W. Keyes, who has been a successful success, and as he retains his interests in our village we shall not feel that he has cut loose from us, but it is a resident of both Olivet and New Duluth. Mr. Keyes is a complete history of every regiment in every army of the service during the war, the date of its organization and date of entry into service, the battles participated in, with the losses in killed, wounded and prisoners, with lists of all who died in rebel prisons. The post members prize the gift very highly.

A Missing Winnipeg Man Traced to This City.

The Winnipeg Free Press of the 23d inst. had the following: "Mr. Robert R. Riley, whose brother disappeared so mysteriously several weeks ago, heard last week, through a letter received by a friend, that the missing man had been at Sault Ste. Marie and that he was all right and looking well. Telegraphing without delay for further particulars, Mr. Riley received the following answer, dated 20th May: 'Mat went to Duluth Thursday. Was here one week.' The welcome news was naturally a great relief to the sorrowing mother and other relatives, though, of course, the circumstances of the sudden disappearance still remain unexplained. Mr. Riley has written for fuller information."

A Freight Wrecked.

Fast freight No. 17 on the St. Paul & Duluth road while coming north last night, ran into a landslide near Short Line Park station, derailing several cars and the engine and making a very muddy sort of wreck, but doing no particular damage beyond delaying the night express about five hours. The track is now clear and trains are making schedule time.

Biliousness, constipation, torpid liver etc., cured by Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, fifty doses twenty-five cents. Samples free at Max Wirth's.

Up, up the incline to see the boats.

YESTERDAY'S CONVENTION.

People's Party Endorses the St. Louis Platform.

As announced in The Herald yesterday the People's party county convention elected fourteen delegates to the congressional convention at Little Falls and instructed them to work for post the national convention at Omaha and the state convention have been held, and to have the postponed convention held in Duluth if possible. Each delegate who is unable to attend is to select a proxy, subject to the approval of the county committee, and if he does not select one the committee can do it for him. This is to insure a full attendance.

The committee on resolutions reported the following and it was adopted:

We most emphatically endorse and adopt the platform of the People's party, the platform adopted by the great industrial organization of the country in national conference assembled at St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 14, 1892.

In view of the fact that the saloon is the enemy alike of our homes and of good government, therefore, Resolved, That we call upon our state convention to most emphatically demand of the legislature the suppression of the prohibition of liquor traffic to a vote of the people.

And believing as we do, that the question of the suppression of the saloon is a full state question, which may take years to decide in accordance with the constitution, we hold that until this question of prohibition of the liquor traffic is solved in the interest of our homes and our free ballots, each new state convention should again demand this submission to a vote of the people.

Henry Haskins, A. C. Parsons, A. T. Scarlett and M. Wessenberg were chosen delegates to the state convention at Minneapolis which will probably be held on July 13, and is to nominate a full state ticket. Judge Hinebaugh, of West Duluth, was a candidate for delegate against M. Wessenberg and it required three ballots to decide. The alternates are: A. F. Rudolph, Frank Osburn, J. H. Engelsen.

T. C. Hiembach offered the following resolution just before the adjournment:

Resolved, That the laws of the state be so modified as to place the sale of intoxicating liquors under the control of the different municipalities of the state, to the end that said liquors may be furnished to the consumers of the same at the actual cost without profit to any one.

Chairman Parsons ruled it out of order and an appeal was taken and the chair allowed an adjournment afterward taken.

BOUND THEM OVER.

Two of the Madams are Held to the Grand Jury.

Lottie Wolf who was arrested for selling liquor without a license in a house of fame of which she is the landlady, and another madam, were held to the grand jury yesterday afternoon in the municipal court. She waived examination and was held to the grand jury with bail fixed at $100. She furnished it. Mollie Gilbert was examined and was held to the grand jury in the same sum by law five days in which to consider it and in which it is intended that the people shall have the right to see him in regard to it and express their views thereon."

Mr. Holmes is Sick.

There has been considerable talk during the past few days as to what has become of J. B. Holmes and the Red Lake Falls road. Three weeks have passed and the acceptance of the ordinance has not been filed, but there is still ten days in which to do so. Mr. Holmes stated, however, before the passage of the ordinance that he would commence work in thirty days. Mr. Allen received a letter Saturday from Mr. Holmes saying that he was in Minneapolis in it begins to look, however, as though Alderman Kennedy's prophecy that the city will have another franchise to give away will be correct.

McCall-Hahilly Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Mary Rahilly, of Lake City, to Mr. James P. McCall, of Duluth, was celebrated at Lake City yesterday and was one of the most notable weddings that has taken place in that vicinity this year. Miss Rahilly is a daughter of Hon. Patrick Rahilly, well known throughout the state. Mr. McCall is well known in Duluth, and after a short trip the newly-married couple will take up their residence here. James Rahilly, a brother of Miss Rahilly, who is employed in the county auditor's office, attended the wedding.

A Valuable Gift.

The members of Willis A. Gorman post, G. A. R., last Wednesday evening received from Comrade Franklin Paine a very valuable and handsome book as a present. It contains a complete history of every regiment in every army of the service during the war, the date of its organization and date of entry into service, the battles participated in, with the losses in killed, wounded and prisoners, with lists of all who died in rebel prisons. The post members prize the gift very highly.

A Cripple for Life.

Referring to the case in the United States court here of Moses Elliott vs. the Northern Pacific, in which Judge Nelson set aside a verdict of $10,000 in Elliott's favor, the Fargo Republican says: Elliott will be remembered in Fargo by a host of friends who wished him better luck. The Republican knows nothing of the evidence, but does know that Elliott is a cripple for life as a result of the accident, and $10,000 would seem to be small recompense.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association of New York has insurance in force to the amount of $215,000,000. Its reserve or emergency fund is now $3,200,000, and during the month of April 1892, it received new business amounting to $4,079,000, being an increase of $65,400 over the corresponding month of 1891.

A Daily Paper.

Is a daily need to every man who would keep pace with current events. The Evening Herald prints everything worth reading. It is progressive, clean and wholesome. Sixty cents a month.

The Evening Herald is a paper you can afford to do without. It publishes more news than any other Duluth paper. Make a comparison and see for yourself. Sixty cents a month.

SCENE OF DESOLATION

Three-Fourths of One County in Tennessee Now Under Water and Assistance is Urgently Needed.

Twelve People, Three Hundred Horses and Mules and Two Thousand Head of Cattle Were Drowned.

The Waters Still Rising and One Million Acres of Cultivated Farms Will Soon be Submerged.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 25.—Pemisot county is a scene of desolation. Three-fourths of the county is now under water and assistance is urgently needed at several points in the county between Reel Footlake and Paragould, on the Arkansas side. The drowned are Wash Hall, wife and three children; Joseph Mallory, wife and two children; Samuel Moore, colored, wife and daughter.

It is estimated that 300 horses and mules and 2000 head of cattle were drowned and that 700,000 acres of cultivated farms are under water between Memphis and Cairo. The waters continue to rise and a few days more it is expected that 1,000,000 acres of cultivated ground will be flooded. The Arkansas bottoms are all under water and the number of live stock and property destroyed cannot be estimated because no boats have gone into the flooded district.

A VILLAINOUS POLICEMAN.

He Assaulted a Girl and Then Arrested Her Mother.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Roundsman Matthew F. Daly, of the New York police force, brought Mrs. Annie Hannan before a police justice yesterday and charged her with intoxication. Mrs. Hannan told a story which completely turned the tables on the roundsman. She said that the officer had induced her daughter Mamie, a girl of 16 years, to go into a saloon with him, and that while there he criminally assaulted the girl, despite the latter's vigorous resistance and cries for help.

She added that she went to Daly to demand that the wrong he had done her child be righted, whereupon he arrested her for intoxication and disorderly conduct. The girl, who was present in court, confirmed her mother's story, and Mrs. Hannan was immediately discharged. A formal charge of criminal assault has been drawn up against Daly and he will have a hearing today.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

The Trial of Isabella Russell at Eau Claire Ended.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., May 25.—Mrs. Isabella Russell was found guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury, which had been out since 8:30 Monday night, came in at 9:30 last night. Mrs. Russell had been on trial here for three weeks on the charge of causing the death of Mrs. Bertha Erickson.

Mrs. Russell was in love with Erickson, who had been her hired man, and when the wife died it was suspected that she had been poisoned. An autopsy showed this to be the case. Mrs. Russell was accused of administering the poison. Strong circumstantial evidence was given against her.

SUICIDE AT BAY CITY.

Frederick Tompkins Ended His Life With Carbolic Acid.

BAY CITY, Mich., May 25.—Frederick W. Tompkins committed suicide yesterday by taking carbolic acid. He left this note: "To the people: Don't persecute my children for my faults. I have done this myself. Orren, God help you. Your object was for money. My blood is pure and I am merciful to me, a sinner. F. W. Tompkins."

Orren is a brother-in-law of the deceased man and Tompkins said repeatedly that Orren inspired the suit for $15,000 damages. Tompkins brought against Warren Ellsworth for the alienation of his wife's affections, and had it not been for Reise the suit would not have been begun.

Shot in the Head.

PITTSBURGH, May 25.—Cora Nichols, the 16-year-old daughter of James Nichols, a wealthy Stowe township farmer, was found dead in a barn by her father Monday night with a bullet hole in her temple. It is not yet known whether she was accidentally killed, committed suicide or met with foul play. No cause is known by her relatives for suicide.

THE BUDDING BEAUTIES.

The Amiable Daughters of Distinguished Men Who Add to the Attractiveness of Washington Society.

The Graceful Girls in Senatorial Circles Whose Fresh Beauty Reminds one of the Glorious Maytime.

Miss Walthall, Miss Washburn, Miss Brier, Miss Vilas, the Misses Blackburn and Others Described.

During the season of 1892 Washington society has been blessed with an unusual number of bright girls, whose fresh beauty reminds one of this glorious Maytime.

Mrs. Carlisle had with her most of the season two lovely Kentucky girls, Miss Virginia Ball Helm and Miss Mattie Thompson. Miss Helm is a fair, graceful girl with engaging manners. Mattie Thompson, Colonel Phil Thompson's daughter, has been winning hearts all through her twenty years. She received part of her education at the convent in Georgetown, and even as a schoolgirl was a great favorite in Washington society. She is of good height, has a beautiful figure, lovely neck and arms, dark, curly brown hair, laughing brown eyes and complexion of red roses and rich cream. She is charming in conversation, and I don't believe was ever at a loss for a word.

MATTIE THOMPSON.

Ever so much prettier than her picture is Miss Maggie Darnelle, who belongs to one of the oldest families of the district, and one famous for its pretty women. Miss Darnelle is a sparkling brunette with abundant dark curly hair, beautiful eyes and fine complexion. She has very pleasing manners and is a great social favorite.

Among the girls in senatorial circles there are many comely and clever ones. There is Miss Washburn, of Minnesota, who is fair, slight and not very tall. She is a well read girl, who talks easily and well.

MAGGIE DARNELLE.

Pretty, brown haired, brown eyed little Courtney Walthall, of Mississippi, has been written about and flattered so much that it's a wonder her curly head hasn't been turned. The same might be said of Lucille and Corinne Blackburn, of Kentucky, who are tall, slim girls, with pretty features, soft brown hair and graceful, easy manners.

Newer ones who have not been photographed so often are Miss Brier, of Ohio, and Miss Mary Vilas, second daughter of Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin.

Miss Brier is rather plump, but of good figure, and has thick brown hair combed quite plainly back, exposing a well shaped forehead. I never noticed the color of her eyes, but know that they are intelligent and very expressive. She is bright and witty, and talks remarkably well.

ALICE BELKNAP.

Miss Vilas is fair and quite slender—a charming girl, who was not out much owing to her mother's rather delicate health.

A beautiful girl, who is not yet out, but is still pursuing her studies under the watchful eye of her mother, is Miss Alice Belknap, daughter of the late General Belknap. She was born in Washington, but spent most of her life abroad, and speaks fluently French, German and Italian. She has a fine figure, an exquisite rose leaf complexion and very dark eyes, lashes and brows, in striking contrast to a profusion of golden hair. Her only appearance in society last season was at the superb coming out ball of Colonel Jerome Bonaparte's lovely daughter, who is her intimate friend.

JULIETTE M. BABBITT.

SCENTS AND SACHETS.

The Woman Who Lives in the Country Should Gather Her Own Perfumes.

Those who prefer the fresh and simple perfumes of nature to the compounds of the chemist or druggist, may make the fragrance of their rooms a double pleasure by gathering sweet flowers, leaves and roots as they come in their way, thus adding association to the exquisite odors and giving them the key to happy thoughts.

The woman who lives in the country has many opportunities of this kind, and may "crown her kerchiefs fine with nicker lace perfume" at a very little cost.

In gathering your own perfumes you bring home something more than herbs—the joy of the time, the beauty of the day, the friends who were with you—part of your life goes into the little silken bag along with a few dried leaves.

Roses and lavender have been used from time immemorial to flavor the linen chest, and no discovery of modern times can furnish anything more pleasing. The old fashioned hundred dried rose is best for the purpose, as it is richer in essence and more permanent than the more delicate roses now cultivated. The petals should be gathered when fresh blown, and not too much dried. The fragrance of roses is so delicate there is no danger of having too much—unless, perhaps, in the case of the woman who kept a stone churn filled with rose leaves in her parlor, and stirred them up with the dasher—but most of our native growths are so strong in essential oil it takes but a pinch of them to give the faint aroma so pleasing in our drawers and boxes.

A spike of the sweet clover growing by the roadside, a branch of sweet briar from the thicket where the thrush is singing or a bunch of spicy wintergreen from the woods will embalm a summer's walk and the song of a bird for a winter day; and the sprig of peony life everlasting you broke off as you walked with your lover across the dry pasture field, inhaling the milky odor while he told you of his near relation to the edelweiss which Swiss maidens gather for their bridal flower, will, if laid in your drawer, prove true to its name, recalling the hour and the love of it—for what is life but love!

A handful of pine needles gives a good, wholesome air to a chest or closet, with a hint of outdoor life and health. The balsam fir of New England, so much in demand for pillows, is almost too vigorous for close quarters, but the spruces and firs of the home grounds have a more gentle breath and may be gathered at any time. Crab apples have a refreshing acidity that reminds us of the blossoms that bore them—one of the best perfumes of nature. The apples will shrivel and dry without losing their scent, and are then safe to put among clothes. There is the widespread family of the mints, too, peppery and suggestive of the kitchen, it may be, but the scarlet flowers and leaves of bergamot, so called from its resemblance to true bergamot, an essence from the orange, are worthy a corner, and bring back the soft autumn day when they stood flaming in the wind.

Once started in this line, we are surprised to find how sweet the earth is—sweet fern, sweet flag, worth digging for its oozy bed for its thick aromatic root stalk, scented grasses that Indian women weave into baskets—we can scarcely step but incense rises at our feet.

In the garden is the rosemary and the delightful lavender; but the lavender of our northern gardens is not so fragrant as that grown in the soft air of the Mediterranean coast, and which may be bought from the druggist. One of the best plants for pleasant and permanent perfume is the small shrub commonly called lemon verbena, and we may even find something to our taste among the medicinal plants—chamomile, thyme, marjoram, sweet basil and their kindred.

For the sachets themselves anything that is pretty will do if it is not too thick. Those souvenirs that most women have somewhere among their treasures may be made still more sacred made up in little bags of odd shapes, and still further ornamented with needles, brush or pen, as taste and skill may dictate. A piece of your grandmother's wedding dress, or your own; a bit of the baby's ribbon; the curious silk that was part of an Indian rajah's coat; the dotted mull you wore to your first party. Fill it with rose leaves and write, "No other days are like the days of June." The handkerchief your dear, dead friend last gave you—too precious to cur-stitch it together and fill it with memories. "There's the rosemary, that's for remembrance," for a generous pouch of pine leaves quote Emerson, "Who leaves the pine tree leaves his friend," or Thoreau, "The spruce, the hemlock and the pine will not countenance despair." Indeed, in this part of our pleasant task the field is inexhaustible, for scarcely a poet but gives us an appropriate line.

MARGARET E. HORTON.

Fads and Fashions.

A new fad is to have upon an easel a panel of white, upon which favorite guests are invited to write their autographs.

Cloth of copper and cloth of silver are now used for wall hangings. The effect is quite oriental in its splendor. The cloth of silver is also used for gowns under a lace drapery. A fair maid so adorned looks as if just arrived from the spirit world, the shimmering gleam of cloth giving quite an ethereal effect.

The cloth of copper when combined with plush gives an appearance of distance to the wall.

Braiding of every kind is much liked

on woolen and the thick cotton dresses. Passementerie for rich black gowns is made of cut jet and laid on in wide patterns, with little if any of the silk foundation showing.

Nearly all of the light silk and wool dresses have the skirts, or at least the ruffles, accented plaited. The painted muslins look very pretty so.

Before the cause of consumption was known (that was only a few years ago) we did not know how Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil did so much good in consumption and in the conditions that lead to consumption.

The explanation is interesting. We send it free in a book on CAREFUL LIVING.

Scott & Bowne, Chemists, 134 South 5th Avenue, New York.

Four druggists keep Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil—all druggists everywhere do.

Pastry Without Butter.

Light, flaky and digestible pie crust and all kinds of fine pastry can be made with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder without butter or with one half the usual portion, if preferred, or with a small quantity of lard or other shortening as desired. Pie crust made in this way is more wholesome and digestible besides being more economical and easier prepared in addition to saving all the butter if desired. One-third the flour is also dispensed with, and the crust is rolled that much thinner, the raising qualities of Dr. Price's Powder swelling it to the requisite thickness. Those who enjoy the appetizing qualities of the delicious home made pie will rejoice to know this secret.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the only powder that contains the white of eggs.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

GRAVES ASKED TO RUN

At a Meeting of Sixty Republicans he is Asked to Become a Candidate for Congress.

Petitions Are Being Circulated in the City Today Asking Him to Announce Himself.

He Will Make His Decision Public When the Petitions Are Submitted to Him.

About sixty Republicans of the city who are opposed to the nomination of H. C. Kendall for congress met last evening at the Real Estate exchange room to discuss the situation and take action. The matter has been brewing for a number of days and several conferences have been held on the quiet. C. A. Towne presided and among those present were C. H. Graves, John B. Sutphin, Judge Stearns, John McKinley, D. G. Cash, Frank Burke, Jr., A. M. Cox, Page Morris, George Spencer, J. H. LaVaque, Camille Poirier, Walter Ayers, S. D. Allen and others.

The question of who should be the candidate was discussed for over three hours but there were only two men whose names were considered, Judge Stearns and C. H. Graves. Each of these gentlemen stated that he was not a candidate for the office but if satisfied that the Republicans of the city wanted him to make the run he would do it and either one said that he would support the other if he was chosen to make the canvass. After the long discussion a ballot was taken and it was unanimously asked that Col. Graves announce himself a candidate.

Today petitions have been circulated in one of the board of trade and others in different places, asking Col. Graves to declare himself. Besides the names given above some of those who signed are: D. H. Morgan, R. C. Mitchell, G. F. Ash, W. B. Silvey, E. C. Holliday, Ward Ames, W. A. Cant, A. McDougall, G. G. Barnum, O. C. Hartmann and others.

A Herald reporter saw Col. Graves this noon and asked him whether he had announced himself as a candidate and he said he had not. Petitions, he understood, asking him to run were being circulated and when these were presented to him he will give his answer. This will probably be in the course of two or three days.

There is not a doubt, however, as to what Col. Graves' answer will be and the ball will probably roll pretty energetically between now and caucus day. The Kendall men have been thoroughly marshaled and organized and the fight will be a hot one.

WHEAT FELL A QUARTER.

Good Demand by Flouring Mills in Neighboring States.

July wheat sold  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ lower at the opening here today than at yesterday's close. Cables were weaker, but early news to the effect that the Hatch anti-option bill had been killed in the committee rooms strengthened the market materially. The market ruled slow and dull in the early hours. There was a good demand for cash wheat for milling purposes at prices unchanged from yesterday. The demand for wheat for flouring mills in neighboring states is large and constitutes at present the main outside demand of this market. Reports of fine weather in the wheat country had a weakening effect in the last half hour. The close was steady at  $\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ below yesterday. Following were the closing prices:

No. 1 hard—Cash  $85\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, May  $86\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, June  $86\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, July  $85\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 1 northern—Cash  $83\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, May  $83\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, June  $83\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, July  $82\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 2 northern—Cash  $76\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 3,  $72\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Rejected 63¢. On track—No. 1 hard  $85\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 1 northern  $84\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 2 northern  $76\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 3,  $72\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Receipts for today, 25,000 bushels. Wheat, 13,250 bus. Shipments—Wheat, 10,405 bus. Cars on track: Northern Pacific, 5; Great Northern, 40; Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, 1; St. Paul & Duluth, 3; total, 48. Corresponding date last year, 87.

Outside Markets.
CHICAGO, May 25.—A lively bulge in provisions helped to shake things up on change today. Pork made a jump of 10¢, lard 20¢ and even lard was stirred to the extent of 10¢. The close was: Wheat, May  $83\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, July  $82\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, Corn, May, 66¢, July  $45\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. Oats—May, 33¢, July, 31¢. Pork—July,  $10\frac{1}{2}$ ¢,  $27\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Lard, July,  $56\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. Short ribs, July,  $56\frac{1}{2}$ ¢. MINNEAPOLIS, May 25.—Wheat: May opened at 82¢, and closed at  $81\frac{1}{4}$ ¢; July opened at  $82\frac{1}{4}$ ¢ and closed at  $81\frac{1}{4}$ ¢. On track—No. 1 hard  $85\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 1 northern  $83\frac{1}{4}$ ¢, No. 2 northern,  $80\frac{1}{4}$ ¢.

Pattison Was Nominated.
Martin Pattison, ex-mayor of Superior, was nominated yesterday at Milwaukee for lieutenant governor by the People's party. It is said, however, that he will decline to accept as he belongs to the Republican party. Mr. Pattison is generally supposed to be looking for honors on the Republican ticket and will probably be nominated either for governor or lieutenant governor.

A Splendid Record.
At a trustees' meeting of the North-western Benevolent society of this city, held the 24th inst., the secretary presented the following report: Number of applications received since date of organization, Dec. 14, 1891, 3110; number of claims paid 44; amount paid members for sick, accident, and death claims, $134,82; with no claims due and unpaid. Cash on hand $1495.26.

John P. Johnson, late county treasurer, and at present cashier of the Marine National bank, was elected to succeed C. R. Normandy as treasurer. The society's new business is increasing each month, as 216 applications have been received in the last three days showing its plan to be popular, and though only established such a short time its record is without an equal. The men who manage the society are strictly honorable and well adapted to carry out the vast business entrusted to them. It is conducted on principles of the strictest economy, which are bound to commend success and the confidence of the people.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS.

The State Supreme Court Holds That Soldier's Additional Scrip is Assignable.

Another Decision in a Similar Case Reverses the Judgment of the Lower Court on a Minor Point.

Several Other Decisions Affecting St. Louis County Residents Are Handled Down.

Two important decisions were handed down by the state supreme court yesterday in cases involving the power of assignment of soldiers' additional scrip. It is held to be assignable in A. F. Webster, appellant, vs. M. F. Luther et al., respondents. The decision of the lower court is sustained and the following syllabus given:

"The right given by section 2306 of the revised statutes of the United States to enter additional lands sufficient to make up the original homestead entry 160 acres is assignable. Judgment affirmed."

In the case of H. K. King, appellant, vs. J. S. Pillsbury et al., respondents, involving the same question the discussion of the lower court is reversed but for the reason that the respondents did not prove that the original entry was on soldiers' additional scrip. Judge White who is attorney in the case received claims that his notification from the supreme court provides for a new trial, but the decision does not read so. The syllabus says:

"A recital of a fact in a power of attorney to convey land is not, as against a subsequent grantee from the grantor of the power, evidence to identify the land intended by the power, with that subsequently granted. Judgment reversed."

Several other decisions were handed down by the supreme court yesterday. In Paul Shary, respondent, vs. Arnasa Rust, et al., appellants, the syllabus says: "Facts held not to constitute an estoppel on part."

In James A. Smith, et al., respondents, vs. John E. Glover, appellant, the syllabus says: "Held, that in an action by plaintiffs for an accounting defendant is chargeable with one-half the proceeds of such sales after deducting from such proceeds the amount due on such charge or lien. Held also, that it does not affect defendant's liability to plaintiffs that he shared such proceeds with another person, against whom they would have no recourse. Held also, that in such accounting it is immaterial what defendant paid to acquire the interest of P. and P."

"On an issue that the plaintiffs abandoned the contract and their rights under it, it is competent to prove not only acts, omissions and declarations tending to show such an abandonment in fact, but in connection therewith and to characterize such acts, omissions and declarations to show a reason or motive for abandonment such as that, owing to low prices or values of the property involved, the venture and the rights under the contract appeared of no value. New trial ordered on the issue of abandonment."

Transcripts Filed.
Transcripts of judgment from the municipal court of this city in favor of D. A. Petre and against Edmond Barnard for $220.93; also one from Ramsey county district court in favor of E. Thomson and against Helen and John F. Baars for $89.95, were docketed this morning in the district court clerk's office.

CITY BRIEFS.
The Duluth Missabe & Northern Railway company yesterday filed with the secretary of state a trust deed to the Metropolitan Trust company of New York for $1,300,000, payable in thirty years at 6 per cent.

Maria Sweeney, the notorious window smasher, is again in Ashland. She created much trouble there last fall, breaking considerable plate glass in business blocks, and later was arrested in West Superior on a similar charge. She seems to be a monomaniac on window smashing.

It is reported that ore has been found on some of the Great Northern properties and that one of the pits is down twenty-two feet in ore. It is said to assay 62 per cent metallic iron and .022 in phosphorus.

Robert E. Hall received his first papers in the United States court yesterday afternoon.

Frank H. Brown and Mary Ellen Lynch received a marriage license at the district clerk's office this morning.

There was quite a large number of West Duluth people in the county treasurer's office today. They were all paying taxes.

THEATRICAL WORK A SPECIALTY.

Gentlemen:—Some three years ago your fireproofing was presented to us for examination, and after a thorough test we were asked what we thought of it. We would not at that time give an opinion of its merits; but can now say after three years of actual test, that we believe your RICINATE to be permanent and reliable, and find it to be all you represent as a fire-proof material.

We recommend its thorough application to all wood, canvas and other inflammable materials in all buildings where stage work and scenery is to be used. Its application in all instances to wood, canvas, upholstery, and other inflammable materials, made under our observation, has given perfect satisfaction, and we have no hesitancy in recommending it as a safeguard against fire.

Very respectfully yours,
Signed, J. B. McLEATRIC & SONS.

THE USE OF Ricinate

has made a new departure in building. You can remove all danger of fire at an absolutely small expense. The Philadelphia Central Theater DID NOT but we know "a word to the wise is sufficient." If you intend building, LOOK IT UP.

HE WOULD ACCEPT

Ex-Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, Called on Mr. Blaine in New York Today.

After an Interview he Declared That the Secretary Will Accept the Nomination.

On the Other Hand, Gen. New Says That Harrison Will be Nominated.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Secretary Blaine and his wife took breakfast in the public dining room of the Fifth Avenue hotel at 8 o'clock this morning. After breakfast the secretary and his wife returned to their rooms and although many cards were sent up, no one was permitted to see Mr. Blaine. There was one exception, however, ex-Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, and he was the only person to whom the secretary accorded an interview. After his talk with Mr. Blaine the ex-governor was seen by a representative of the United Press to whom he said:

"Mr. Blaine will accept the nomination. There is no longer any question about it. He has reconsidered his letter to Mr. Clarkson, stating that under no circumstance would he be a candidate, and while he will not write a letter formally making such an announcement, he will not write one declining the nomination, as it has been reported he would do. Massachusetts is all for Blaine. There appears to be a Blaine cyclone. The Republicans of the whole country appear to demand his nomination."

At 11:30 Mr. and Mrs. Blaine drove out. It was said that they would drive through Central park and call on Mrs. Damrosch.

IN THE RACE TO STAY.

Gen. New Says President Harrison Will be Nominated.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Gen. John C. New, in an interview on the presidential outlook, says that President Harrison is in the race to stay and win, and he will do both. Referring to the talk of opposition to him, Mr. New said: "The opposition to him can only grow out of the personal grievances and disappointments of the men who are now endeavoring to work up a National Convention. No sincere admiration or love for the gentlemen whose names, with or without their consent, are being used to conjure with. With them it is anything but conjuring. Harrison is the only man who can succeed with this attempt than was the attempt to defeat the renomination of President Lincoln in 1864."

What will constitute Mr. Harrison's strength at Minneapolis, was asked. Mr. New said: "The great body of the Republican party, the straightforward thinking millions, have settled down to the conviction that President Harrison, having kept the faith and proven himself in every respect worthy of and equal to the duties of his great position, has deserved and should receive a renomination and re-election. Any attempt by the machine or by the political jugglers at this late day to defeat their will would most certainly meet with their deserved resentment." Gen. New will leave here tonight for Chicago en route to Minneapolis.

A BANK PRESIDENT SHOT.

Killed by a Former Partner who Makes Serious Charges.

OMAHA, May 26.—A special from Lincoln says that Charles E. Montgomery, president of the German National bank, was shot and killed, while at breakfast at the Lincoln hotel this morning, by William H. Irvine, a real estate broker and former partner of the murdered man. Irvine claims his wife and daughter had been seduced by Montgomery. He surrendered to the police.

All for Cleveland.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 26.—Hon. W. L. Ledgerwood, of Knox, called the Democratic state convention to order at 10 o'clock and then Hon. Ernest Pillow, of Bedford, was elected temporary chairman. He made a strong Cleveland speech, which was cheered to the echo. Committees were appointed, and the convention adjourned until 2 o'clock. A solid Cleveland delegation will be chosen and they will be instructed for Cleveland.

Murdered for Money.

ST. PAUL, May 26.—A special from Eau Claire says the body of the missing lumberman, Anderson, has been found under the logs at Porterville, Wis. The vest had been removed from the body and there were other evidences that he had been known to have drawn from the bank just before he disappeared.

They Want Free Silver.

POCATELLO, Idaho, May 26.—The Democratic state convention met here yesterday and elected the following delegates to the national convention: J. M. Burk, J. W. Reed, J. M. Bennett, J. L. Hawley, Col. Bryan and R. J. Johnson. The resolutions favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver and recommend that a plank be inserted in the national platform. The delegates are undivided.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

The Woman Question Again Causes a Hot Debate.

OMAHA, May 26.—The session of the Methodist Episcopal quadrennial conference this morning was presided over by Bishop Fitzgerald. The sifting committee had arranged an order of business burying the unimportant committees' reports. An attempt was made to take off the table the report of the committee on temporal economy, but it failed. The conference then ordered the treasurer of the missionary fund to pay from the episcopal fund the amount of missionary bishop's salary.

The committee on state of the church in relation to the organic union of all Methodist churches recommended that the bishops report a commission of three bishops, three laymen and three ministers to confer with like commissions from other churches which the bishops are asked to request. Adopted.

Dr. Moore renewed his motion to suspend the rules and consider the woman question, but it was defeated, 242 to 138, not the necessary two-thirds. The report of the committee on judiciary was then taken up and the old battle on the meaning of the words "lay delegates" was resumed and amendments were showered in from all sides. Drs. Kynett and Moore engaged in a hot debate and the confusion became riotous. Finally Dr. Hamilton's amendment, providing that a two-thirds vote majority of the conference is necessary to insert the words "must be male," was adopted by 241 to 160.

This sends the woman question to the annual conferences and the opponents of the women must be two-thirds in the majority to keep them out. There was great applause upon the result being announced. On motion of C. J. Little the conference at 2:10 p. m. adjourned until tomorrow.

AN AFFECTIONATE MEETING.

The Principle People in a Parisian Scandal Meet.

PARIS, May 26.—M. Raymond, husband of the woman who murdered Mme. Lassimonne in a house in the Rue de Rocher Saturday night, has made his appearance again. He has been secluded in the house of his mother, to which he went immediately after the tragedy. The mother denied to the police that she had seen her son.

The faithless husband and his wife were confronted before a magistrate yesterday. They had a most affectionate meeting. Mme. Raymond showing that she still loved her husband, notwithstanding his infidelity and the husband exhibiting both sympathy and affection for the woman whom his misconduct had driven to murder. The stories of the husband and agreed substantially, M. Raymond admitting his guilty intimacy with Mme. Lassimonne and that he was surprised by his wife under circumstances that left no doubt of his wrong doing.

ANOTHER BAD CREVASSE.

An Overflow Which Means Bankruptcy and Starvation.

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 26.—The latest crevasse occurred yesterday afternoon at Craig's landing, Ark., and threatens the line of the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific railway as well as the fertile region known as the Tensas basin. It will also overflow considerable portions of the river parishes of East Carroll, Madison, Tensas and probably Concordia. The parishes affected are among the most populous in the state, and an overflow of this season means bankruptcy for the planters and starvation for the laborers and tenants.

Latest reports say it is already 150 feet wide and 8 feet deep. This is authentic. It is not cutting fast, but there is no hope of closing it at this stage of the water.

FAVOR SUNDAY CLOSING.

The World's Fair Bill Amended by the House.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The house today amended the section of the sundry civil appropriation bill relating to the World's fair by adding a Sunday closing provision which now reads as follows: "Provided that the government exhibit to the Columbian exposition shall not be open on Sundays."

Is Not Deranged.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Dr. James W. McLane, the family physician, when asked about the reported mental derangement of Cornelius Vanderbilt, said: "Mr. Vanderbilt is much prostrated at the loss of his son and is a great sufferer, but it is not true that he has become deranged. He slept soundly last night from exhaustion and there were no watchers in his room."

A Steamer Wrecked.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 26.—News has been received here of the wreck of the government steamer Quadra, on her way to Bering sea with Prof. Macoun, in search of sealing information. Mr. Macoun and the captain reached here Tuesday night. The vessel was wrecked on Queen Charlotte island.

Prominent Deaths.

LONDON, May 26.—Hon. Sir Charles Parker Butt, judge of the divorce and admiralty division, before whom the O'Shea and Parnell case was tried in November, 1890, is dead, aged 62. Herr Forckenbeck, burgmaster of Berlin, is dead.

Aitken's Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The president sent to the senate today the nomination of G. W. Lott for postmaster at Aitken, Minn.

THE CLOUD BURST

An Ohio Village Visited by a Cloud Burst Causing Death and Damage.

Six Persons Known to Have Perished and Much Property and Stock Destroyed.

A Large Dam Broke and Poured Down Upon the People Who Were Unwarned.

NILES, O., May 26.—A cloud-burst at Kinsman, a small village twelve miles northwest on the Pymattinger river, resulted in a flood which has caused the death of at least six persons and the destruction of a vast amount of property and stock. The water-spout or cloud burst over a section about 6 o'clock in the morning and the loss of life and damage to crops, drowning of stock and destruction to building is appalling. A number of physicians from this city are now at the scene.

The water fell in torrents from 4 o'clock until a few minutes after 6 o'clock. A small river overflowed its banks and poured its volume of water over the farming country. A large dam about two miles above the village broke and a wall of water poured down the river's bed. No one was warned, as all thought themselves secure. It was upon them in an instant. The river was over a mile wide and covered the bottoms.

J. B. Robbins' house, a small one story structure, was located on the bank of the river. He and his wife and two children were eating breakfast. All at once they noticed a volume of water approaching and started to flee, but were carried down and were drowned. K. Stewart and son were at their barn, which was some rods away from the house. It was carried away and both were drowned. The house withstood the torrent and the wife from the house observed the destruction of the barn and the death of its occupants. S. B. Campbell and wife were carried down with a rush. They lodged on the abutments of a bridge and were rescued. The bodies of the six known to have perished have been discovered in a large pile of driftwood which reached nearly across the river. Searching parties are overhauling the driftwood, believing that more bodies will be found. Many horses and cattle were swept away and the losses are estimated at $20,000.

Indiana Prohibitionists.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26.—In the prohibition convention this afternoon a platform was adopted with a plank favoring closing the World's fair on Sunday. Rev. Aaron V. Smith, of Jay county, was nominated on the first ballot for governor and the convention took a recess.

MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Nose Chewine Case Comes up Before Judge Winje.

Before Judge Powell in the municipal court this morning four drunks—James Burns, John O'Brien, Charles Erickson and Patrick Burke—pleaded guilty, and an overflow of this season means bankruptcy for the planters and starvation for the laborers and tenants.

Before Judge Winje the case of the state of Minnesota against John Gagnon came up for examination. This case charges that Gagnon chewed the end of Thos. Sumner's nose a few days ago. Attorney Hopkins and Lawyer Holmes had charge of the defense. County Attorney C. C. Fear conducted the prosecution. At the close of the state's testimony the defense concluded that it was not advisable to go on with their side of the case at present. Mr. Holmes tried to convince the court that a man's nose was not a prominent part of his face, but the court couldn't be persuaded and Gagnon was bound over to the grand jury. The amount of bail will be fixed this afternoon by the district court judges.

MUST GET OUT.

W. S. Albertson Must Vacate His Present Premises.

Another complication has been brought about in the difficulties in the Albertson & Chamberlain case. It will be remembered that a few weeks ago Anna Chamberlain asked for the appointment of a receiver for the firm, alleging that Mr. Albertson refused to make a division of the profits and was using funds belonging to the firm for his own use. She also alleged that she had demanded, as administratrix of the estate of Mr. Chamberlain, deceased, the share of the profits and the business belonging to Mr. Chamberlain, but had been refused. The court denied the motion for a receiver.

Yesterday a civil suit was tried in the municipal court to have Mr. Albertson ejected from the building he now occupies. C. F. Johnson owns the building and gave Mr. Albertson a month's notice to leave. The latter claimed that he has a lease running from year to year, which does not expire until September, and refused to vacate. Mr. Johnson claims that he only rented the property from month to month. The trial was concluded this morning and the judge ordered the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff.

Mr. Albertson must now vacate the store and Miss Anna Chamberlain will be the new tenant and she will put in a book and stationery store also. She was present at the trial yesterday in the plaintiff's interests.

Additional dispatches will be found on page five.

A BIRD THAT IS GOING

The Wild Pigeon Has Practically Disappeared From Its Old Haunts in the Eastern States.

They Have Been Driven to Isolated Wilds and Are Not Seen in Such Clouds as Formerly.

Even in the West Big Flocks Are Not Common Nowadays—They Will Soon be Extinct.

"A solitary flock of wild pigeons, flying westward, passed over the Beaverkill country, in Sullivan county, last week," said a New Yorker who was up in that country trying the fishing, "and that is the first flock that has been seen there about for years, and it started the Sullivan county woodsmen to talking about the great passing of wild pigeons of 1876, which was the last one ever seen so far east."

"The news of this great pigeon flight first came from the village of Barnum's, the last week in March, 1892. The air suddenly became thick with an apparently endless flock of wild pigeons, which was passing over that part of the country going northward. For over half an hour the flight continued in an incessant procession, obstructing all view of the sky and giving to the surroundings the somber appearance caused by the gathering and passing of thunderclouds. It was not known at that time how far the flock extended to the eastward, but it was subsequently learned that it reached over twelve miles in a continuous line. The birds were flying too high to be shot at, with any degree of success, although during the flight numbers of them were killed by unusually fortunate gunners."

"Old hunters said that the pigeons were seeking nesting places, but from the altitude of their flight it was not probable that they would rest short of the Canadian forests. Two days afterward, however, lumbermen from the headwaters of the Beaverkill and the beech woods of the adjacent wildernesses of Sullivan, Delaware and Ulster counties brought in news that those regions had been taken in possession by wild pigeons in untold numbers, and that they were preparing for the nesting season."

"This news led to law and order sportsmen from the surrounding towns combining to take measures to protect the birds from lawless destruction. The woods were found to be literally swarming with pigeons. Deputy game constables were stationed in considerable force in the wilderness, with orders to deal as summarily with gunners and trappers as the law would warrant. Unparalleled sport was anticipated for the season after the nesting was over, but unfortunately severe weather came on soon after the birds had begun their nesting. Snow fell to the depth of a foot all through that region. After the storm had ceased the game constables and woodsmen noticed an unusual and peculiar stir among the birds throughout the length and breadth of the great roost, and at noon on the fifth day of their coming into the wilderness the pigeons began rising and taking flight, and in a few hours not a pigeon was to be found in the entire territory."

"They flew almost due west. That same day, before 1 o'clock in the afternoon, Clint Walters and Isaac Bennett, woodchoppers and bark peelers, were in the depths of the Pocono beech woods, then a vast forest covering large areas in Pike, Wayne, Laclede and Monroe counties, Pa. The sun was shining brightly, when suddenly it was hidden as if by a dark cloud, and a noise like that produced by a gale of wind or the roll of distant thunder broke on their ears. Simultaneously the woods began filling with wild pigeons. Tree after tree was filled, and still the air was black with an apparently interminable mass of birds. The pigeons settled down in the trees in such numbers that great branches broke beneath their weight, and this occurring on every hand through the woods was like a windfall in the forest. The two men did not know where the pigeons had come from so suddenly, but when in course of time the news of their presence in the Pennsylvania wilderness reached Sullivan county people there knew that the pigeons were the ones that had been driven from the Beaverkill country by the great snowstorm. The nearest point in the Pennsylvania woods where the birds rested after their flight from New York state is forty-five miles from the Beaverkill, almost due west, showing that the pigeons must have flown nearly a mile a minute in changing their resting place."

"After the first excitement attending the appearance of the vast colony of wild pigeons around them had passed off, Walters and Bennett, true to the instinct of the human race, began to slaughter the birds. They had no guns with them, but with long poles they slew the swarming pigeons by the hundred. Every sweep of a club laid scores of the birds dead or wounded on the ground, but hundreds dropped down to take their places. According to their own story, the two men kept up this ruthless and entirely wanton destruction of the pigeons until they sickened of their work, and after they loaded themselves down with as many of the dead birds as they could carry they left hundreds of dead and wounded on the ground, and they had not stirred out of their tracks in doing their slaughtering. For the purpose of seeing how far the woods were occupied by the pigeons Walters and Bennett walked five miles through the forest. As far as they could see on either side the birds crowded every tree full, and when they left the woods after going that far through the pigeon colony they could discover no evidence that they were anywhere near its ending. It was afterward learned that the area covered by the roost was eight miles in length and four miles wide."

"The excitement following the settling of the pigeon colony in the woods was intense, not only among the woodsmen, but among the dwellers in the towns for a hundred miles around. The woods were filled constantly with not only men, but women and children, killing the nesting birds with guns and clubs. Immense nets were set, in which thousands and thousands of birds were captured. The pigeons were not even allowed any rest at night. Carrying torches, bands of destructive hunters swarmed in the woods after dark and slaughtered without mercy. In spite of all this the pigeons held their roost and their young remained until the squabs were old enough to look out for themselves, and then took their flight, still moving westward."

That was the last visitation of wild pigeons in localities so far east to the United States where roosting was formerly a frequent occurrence. The farthest east the wild pigeons have roosted since then was in northwestern Pennsylvania in 1881. Since then the birds have entirely disappeared from the east, and will never be seen here again. They have been driven to the wilds of Michigan, the Indian Territory and other isolated haunts, and in a few years will be numbered among the extinct birds of the American continent.—New York Sun.

SAVED

THE ENGINEER.

Harry Miller, an engineer stopping at the Norris House, at 112 East Superior street, this city, has been afflicted for four or five years with loss of self-confidence, nervousness, sleeplessness, pain in the head and back, flabbiness of the muscles and cold clammy sweats and was, at the time he began treatment with Dr. Speer, four months ago, a total wreck, both in his physical and nervous system. He is now wholly recovered and stands ready to go before any justice of the peace and swear to the facts above set forth. Dr. Speer's office is in the New York block in West Superior.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., May 26.—The weather is everywhere fair except along the lakes where it is cloudy and where light showers have fallen during the past two-ty-four hours.
The temperature has fallen in all sections
except the extreme Northwest and over the South, where there has been a slight rise.
An area of low pressure is now central over
the Northwest and will probably move East, bringing warmer weather to this section in a few days.
The highest temperature here yesterday was 61°; the lowest 51°; the rainfall .10 inch.DULUTH, May 26.—Local forecast for Duluth

THE SATURDAY HERALD.

The great paper of the week in Duluth, the Saturday edition of The Herald,
will be up to its usual high standard this week. It will contain many interesting features, of which announcement will be made tomorrow, in addition to all the latest news of the day, both local and telegraphic.The indications are that there will be a big rush of advertising for the Saturday edition, and all advertisers are therefore urged to send in their copy before tomorrow evening, if possible. By so doing they will obtain good locations in the paper. Those desiring the insertion of church notices and social news
are reminded that they must reach this office before Friday evening or they will not be published.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR UNION.

The idea of including Newfoundland
in the Canadian confederation has long been a pleasing dream to the statesmen of Canada, and at several intervals overtures looking towards union have been made to the ancient colony. All such overtures in the past have been rejected.
The late Sir John Macdonald, when premier of the Dominion, approached the Newfoundland authorities on the subject
but found them unwilling to listen to his proposals.Within the past two or three years several incidents have occurred which have shown the desirability of closer political union between Canada and Newfoundland. The bait question has been an annoying one to both sides, and the feeling aroused over it nearly led to serious trouble. Only the recent agreement of the Newfoundland government
to let things remain in statu quo, pending settlement by arbitration, prevented
action which might have resulted in open hostilities. It is not long since the Canadian people were made indignant
by the discovery that Newfoundland was endeavoring to arrange, with the approval of the British government, closer commercial relations with the United States, accompanied by discrimination against Canada. The indignation of the Canadians was expressed in a strong protest lodged with the officials in Downing street.In view of these incidents and other circumstances which point to the desirability of such a union, it is not astonishing to learn from today's dispatches that the British authorities are urging the Dominion government to open negotiations
with Newfoundland upon the subject,
the idea being that the island colony
shall enter the confederation as a province and be represented in the federal parliament by eight members of the house of commons and four senators.
This would be a very fair representation
in comparison with that accorded to the other members of the confederation.
With the influence of the imperial government in favor of this union, Canada
and Newfoundland may soon come together.

THE NEW YORK GERRYMANDER.

It is stated that Hon. William A. Sutherland, the Republican candidate for attorney general of New York, last fall,
is about to begin an action in Rochester
to test the constitutionality of the legislative apportionment act passed at the extra session of the legislature a few weeks ago. It does not appear that Mr.
Sutherland has yet determined upon the line to be pursued, but he and Senator Hiscock, who has been giving thoughtful attention to the subject, have examined with care the brief prepared by ex-
Senator Spooner in the case of the Wisconsin gerrymander, which was recently overthrown by the highest court of that state. There is no doubt that the New York apportionment is a gerrymander of the worst description, and that it is based upon an enumeration which is alleged to be glaringly fraudulent.In denouncing this gerrymander, which favors the Democrats, it must not be forgotten that the previous apportionment, which was made by a Republican legislature, was also a palpable gerry-mander in favor of the Republican party and was open to as strong objec-tions as the one now made by a Democratic legislature. It is to be hoped that the matter will be tested in the courts, and if the New York tribunals shall decide that gerrymanders of this character are unconstitutional it will be a good thing for the Empire state.
Both the Republicans and the Democrats have been equally guilty, and it is their duty, in making an apportionment,
to give equal and fair representation to all parts of the state.A New England journal commenting upon the fact that the terms of twenty-eight senators will expire on March 3, 1893, affirms that the Democratic party,
by carrying the legislatures of Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Connecticut,
New York, California and Nebraska will have control of the upper house by a substantial majority next year. This is true, but how many sensible Democrats
are there who believe that such a thing is even probable?N. C. Creede, the founder of the great Colorado mining camp, has learned that being a millionaire has its disadvantages and troubles. Every day he receives letters from all parts of the country
signed by women who want to marry him. It might be refreshing for these matrimonially inclined females to know that all such letters and photographs are turned over to his wife."A stranger thing might happen," says
the Buffalo News, "than a discovery that President Harrison stands ready to do for Mr. Blaine what Mr. Blaine did for him four years ago and be the Warwick of the next administration, as Mr. Blaine was the Warwick of his." Possibly, but it begins to look as if Mr. Harrison will not have an opportunity to say anything
on the subject.The citizens of New York have within the past two months contributed $310,000
of the $350,000 required for the completion of the Grant monument, and Gen.
Porter is working hard to secure the remainder before Monday next. New York will appear in a better light before
the country, if his efforts are rewarded with success.Henry Watterson, who is opposed to both Cleveland and Hill, and favors the nomination of a Western man for president, has been elected a delegate-at-large from Kentucky. Indications are increasing that the contest at Chicago will be a lively one.The Minnesota Historical society has given Capt. Glazier another blow between the eyes which ought to end his fraudulent pretensions as the discoverer of the Mississippi's source. As a first-class impostor, Glazier has been a glittering success.Col. Bobleter says that "in deference to the wishes of his friends" he will be a candidate for a third term as state treasurer. The friendship of those who urge the colonel to assume such a position is questionable. Third terms are not popular.The News errs in saying that "yesterday was the seventy-third birthday of Queen Victoria." If the News will consult a biographical encyclopedia, it will discover that Tuesday was the anniversary of the British queen's birth.David Hill dodged a vote on a silver resolution in the senate yesterday.
Pending the decision of the Chicago convention, Mr. Hill is not going to compromise himself, even at the risk of being charged with cowardice.A communication from Mr. S. D. Allen in regard to the Duluth & Northwestern ordinance was received by The Herald at 2 o'clock this afternoon—to late for publication today. It will appear in tomorrow's issue.A New York contemporary inquires:
"Must Dr. Parkhurst go?" Well, in view of the disclosures regarding the last time he went, we would advise that he stay at home.The Fargo Argus says: "The Duluth end of Minnesota strongly favors Knute Nelson for governor." It would be interesting to learn where the Argus got
this information.The vice presidential boom for Gov.
Merriam is being revived, but it will hardly attain very much growth.Blaine seems to be in pretty good health these days. The sickness is confined to the office-holders.The Colorado Democrats have elected a Hill delegation to Chicago.Not Very Formidable.
Toronto News: Those American
writers who have been scaring residents
in their lake cities with stories of the frightful devastation which might be wrought by H. M. S. Constance should have seen the little vessel as she lay at the foot of Scott street yesterday. She is a pretty craft certainly, but for war
purposes she would be about as useless
as an old-time canal. A Canadian Pacific lake steamer or one of those big American iron ore barges would run right over her without rattling a dish on their saloon tables.Ladies' blouses and outing caps, new-

WEST DULUTH.

West Duluth office of The Herald, room 4, Silvey building, where announcements etc., may be left.Go to Kirkwood & Thorpe's for Decoration day flags.The council held a special session
last evening to consider the ordinance
granting privileges to the Duluth Transfer Railway company. The company was not satisfied with the amended ordinance. It wants fifty feet next the St.
Paul & Duluth right-of-way, but the Duluth, Missabe & Northern has been granted the fifty feet adjoining, although
it has not yet purchased it, and the Terminal company claims that it will be made too expensive to buy its fifty feet
when the intervening fifty feet has not been purchased. The council claims that if the fifty feet adjoining the St.
Paul & Duluth is given, through roads
will be prevented from coming in without crossing the Terminal company's tracks. O. H. Simonds spoke at the meeting. No action was taken, as the ordinance can only be passed at a regular meeting.There will be a general meeting next Friday evening of the Republican club of this place. The county executive committee will be in attendance and several short speeches are promised by

AMUSEMENTS.

A Poor Performance.
The dear public was not very cruelly
deceived for the audience last evening
at the Temple which heard the Original Georgians was an unusually small one.
The performance was a decidedly slim
one, the jokes were old and decrepit and the singing was poor. The end men tried in vain to get up a little enthusiasm but it would not do. The audience had dwindled to a very few before the close of the entertainment if it can be called that.Hallen and Hart.
Hallen and Hart in their great success, "Later On," will be at the Temple Saturday evening. "Later On" as played this year, is revised considerably from last season's production. Mr. Frederic Hallen is looked upon as one of the coming light comedians, and in Hallen
and Hart's new piece, of which a good deal is expected next season, he will have a juvenile role adapted to display
his fitness for stage honors. Mollie Fuller, the charming Rose of the company, is the wife of Frederick Hallen,
and a valuable contributor to the marked success which follows Hallen and Hart.

RELIABLE SEEDING RETURNS.

A St. Paul Paper Reports Seeding Over
at Grand Marais.Under the heading, "From the North Shore," the St. Paul Dispatch of last evening publishes reports from different points in the vicinity of Duluth and along the north shore, of the progress of seeding. Among these appears the following, given as a special to the Dispatch:GRAND MARAIS, Minn., May 25.— Seeding is nearly over and at present crops look good for this season. It has been raining for the last four days, the rivers are higher than they ever were,
and farmers are afraid of an overflow
that will take the seed out, and it being so late in the season, if it did, it would prove fatal, as it would be too late to sow seed again.This is pretty good when it is remembered that there is not a farmer within 100 miles of Grand Marais at seed
could not be sown with a shotgun.

SHERIFF'S EXECUTION SALE.

Under and by virtue of an execution issued out of and under the seal of the district court of the state of Minnesota, in and for the eleventh judicial district, and county of St. Louis, on the 24th day of April, 1892, upon a judgment rendered and docketed in said court and county in an action therein, wherein Hannah Hamilton was plaintiff and W. F. Hullett defendant, in favor of said plaintiff and against said defendant, for the sum of twelve hundred fifty-eight and 19-100 dollars, which said execution has been duly directed and delivered, I have levied upon
and will sell at public auction, to the highest cash bidder, the real estate of the defendant in the city of Duluth, in said county of St. Louis, on Monday the 11th day of July, 1892, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all the right,
title and interest that the above named judgment debtor had in and to the real estate
hereinafter described on the 23th day of

SAYS IT IS A FALSEHOOD

Father Chiniquy Denies the Charge That He Was Expelled From the Presbytery of Montreal.

He Lectures Last Evening to a Large Audience on the Dangers Ahead From the Church of Rome.

He Calls the Religion of the Church of Rome "A Diabolical Religion That Comes From Hell."

Father Chiniquy made a much more favorable impression at his second talk in the Lyceum theater than he did on the first evening. Traces of age were plentiful on the first evening, but last night the old missionary was no longer old in appearance; his voice was fresh and clear and he was frequently interrupted by long and continued applause from the large audience which listened for one hour and forty minutes to his version of the "Dangers ahead to you gospel men and women from the church of Rome." As a prelude to his discourse Rev. G. H. Kemp read a chapter from the Bible, Rev. T. M. Findley uttered a short prayer, and then Rev. K. H. Craig introduced the aged speaker, who was greeted with tremendous applause. When the heartiness of the reception had subsided so that his voice could be heard the speaker said:

"My Christian friends and people of Duluth: Before addressing you this evening on my chosen subject, I have to say something about the slander published about me in one of your papers by a priest of the church of Rome, referring to the statement that I was expelled from the presbytery of Montreal. I don't say that it is a lie for that would not be polite, but I will simply say it is a falsehood. There is no need to and I shall not give his name but you all know him very well. I ask you to tomorrow telegraph to the presbytery of Montreal and ask if the statements made by this poor priest are true. If the answer is 'yes' then I consent to be taken tomorrow night with a rope around my neck and hung to the steeple of his church of Rome, but if the answer is 'no' then I want you to go with me to the house of that poor priest and write on its walls 'here lives the biggest liar the city of Duluth has ever seen.' Your ancestors 400 or 500 years ago were all children of the church of Rome. The sublime mountains of Scotland and the quiet plains of England and France were wrapped in the profound religious darkness which enveloped those times, but the light came. I know the priests here are respectable with the exception of the miserable liar of whom we have spoken at the beginning, but they belong to that diabolical religion of Rome—a religion that comes from hell." Then came a very touching tribute to the Scotch martyr Wishart and a recital of the facts of his imprisonment and cruel death as the result of an order from the pope, ending with the sentence, "but at the battle of the Boyne your ancestors gained the day. They wrenched from the hand of the pope the bloody sword and in its stead lifted high their banner with the burning words 'liberty of conscience' upon it. 'I come as a prophet of God,' continued Father Chiniquy, "Eighty-three years have passed over my head and it is a miracle of my God that my voice is still permitted to go out to all people. I read in the papers a few days ago about a train that was rushing along toward a broken bridge, and how a brave man rushed on the track and swung a red flag and the train was stopped just before a few more people had been hurled into an abyss where there would have been no hope. The church of Rome is that broken bridge for you, and I am the man with the red flag to warn you of your peril. I have here the secret book which all priests of Rome have to read and learn by heart. I don't mean word for word, but to have a general knowledge of its contents. In order that I may not be accused of not reading it correctly I will ask one of these gentlemen here on the stage to read from a certain chapter. Listen and you will hear your condemnation."

Rev. T. Findley here took the book and read a section which in substance said that all heretics must be asked twice to give up their faith, but that if they still persisted, they must be put to death by extermination. This order of the pope applied to either individuals, families, whole villages or whole cities. The speaker then recounted the deaths of over 100,000 of people, who he said died by death because of their refusal to give up their faith. He told how he had seen the dungeons where Christian men and women had been confined and stored to death, and of the clanking of the heretics were thrown on the rocks, a 1000 feet below, by order of the pope. He told, in a highly dramatic way, of the band of hired assassins who visited his town in Quebec at midnight and attempted to take his life and how the Protestant mayor of Quebec ordered the soldiery to protect him, and how he marched between thousands of friendly bayonets and delivered his lecture to thousands of hearers. He told of his persecution by hired witnesses and priests of Rome at Kankakee, Ill., and how his counsel Abraham Lincoln succeeded by the help of God in vanquishing them all, and briefly alluded to how the afterwards president met his death because of his actions as an attorney. He said that a great deal of the religion of Rome was a sealed book to the believers, because if the priests told all of its true import nine-tenths of the people would leave the church.

The lecture ended by the singing of the doxology by the entire audience. Tonight the third lecture will be given relating to the dangers of auricular confession and the death of Abraham Lincoln.

Monthly Assessment Day. Judge Winje had an interesting matinee yesterday afternoon. The "landladies" from the point were called up and assessed the most $2.50. ## COMMENCING EARLY.

Lumbermen Saving Their Money to Visit the World's Fair.

Many of the lumbermen who have had camps in the woods this winter find that their men are already beginning to lay their plans and prepare for visiting the World's fair next year. W. T. Bailey says that when his men were paid off this year they declared almost without exception that they were going to save their money to go to the national exhibition in 1893. He did not regard it serious, however, but has met a number of his men since and when he somewhat jokingly asked about their World's fair fund, was in nearly every case shown a certificate of deposit for a good sum. This is something decidedly unusual. Ordinarily the men who work in the woods come out in the spring and spend nearly all of their winter's wages in the first large city they reach. It has been observed this spring that there has been less drunkenness among lumbermen on the streets of Duluth than in any year previous, and the fact that many are saving their wages for the fair is said to be one of the principal causes.

Wants the Sale Nullified.

William Tretheway has commenced an action in the district court to nullify a real estate deal made between himself and Nehemiah Hallett. The plaintiff alleges that he sold the defendant in June, 1874, the following property, its value now being $25,000: Lot 2 and nw 1/4 of section 10, and as a part of the deal he received $100 in cash, this being half the purchase price and the balance in real estate, three lots on Oak-ka beach, which were worth not more than $15, although the defendant represented them to be worth considerably more than this. He also alleges that the defendant's title was worthless.

New Directors Elected.

The school board met yesterday afternoon and elected Dr. Charles L. Coding as a director to succeed W. A. White, resigned. ## A SMITH PREMIER EXHIBITION

By the Fastest Typewriter in the World.

It is said that the fastest sworn record of typewriting is 172 words per minute. Miss Curry, of Syracuse, N. Y., has recently made 182 words and the time-keepers and judges made affidavit to it. The young lady has run a typewriter for the last five years, but it was only last July that she began to practice for speed work. She has charge of the "principal department" of the Henley college at Syracuse, N. Y.

Arrangements have been made with Miss Curry to give an exhibition of her work at the Duluth Business University between 7:30 and 8:30 o'clock, Thursday evening. All are invited to attend.

Now is the cheapest and best time to have your furs repaired and stored for the summer under care of R. Krojaner, practical furrier, 29 West Superior street.

DENMARK CELEBRATING

Copenhagen is En Fete Over the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Wedding of the King and Queen.

The Capital is a Mass of Decorations and Arches, Flags and Flowers Are Seen Everywhere.

Twelve Hundred Choristers Sang Outside the Palace This Morning—A Round of Festivities.

COPENHAGEN, May 26.—This being the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of King Christian and Queen Louise, of Denmark, the celebration reached its culminating point. Copenhagen is a mass of decorations. Arches, flags and flowers are seen everywhere. The bells are ringing and salutes have been fired from every point, while the capital presents an aspect of militarism that is very unusual in Denmark. The united Copenhagen singing societies numbering 1200 chorists waited upon their majesties this morning and sang outside the palace. King Christian and Queen Louise came out on the balcony and listened to the singers with evident pleasure. When they had finished King Christian expressed his hearty thanks for the choral salutation, which, he said, was deeply appreciated by himself and the queen.

The king and queen then drove to the chateau at Christiansborg where they attended divine service. They were loudly cheered on the way by great multitudes from city and country. This afternoon King Christian and the queen received more deputations and in the evening the crown prince and crown princess of Denmark will give a grand dinner, after which the royal family and their guests will witness a gala performance at the Royal theater. There will also be a splendid display of fireworks this evening by the corporation of Copenhagen, which will be followed by public and private dwellings. Besides the public celebration fetes are being given by members of the Danish nobility, foreign ambassadors and other persons. The festivities will be continued over the next two days. Tomorrow the king receives more deputations and Prince Waldemar will give a grand dinner party at night. On Saturday the festival of the university will take place. The king received today an illuminated address, enclosed in a golden casket, from the Danish community in London. The Bayfield county officers that the czar will start for Kiel, Germany, on Tuesday next. The banquet at the royal palace last evening was a brilliant affair. Three salons were occupied. All of the royal visitors were present except the prince and princess of Wales, who are still in mourning.

WANTS THEM VACATED

H. G. Ingersoll Asks the Court to Set Aside Certain State Leases Running to H. V. Rutherford.

He Alleges That the Clerks in the State Auditor's Office Conspired to Defraud Him.

The Leases in Question Have All Been Sold to the Mesaba Iron Range Mining Company.

The excitement which was occasioned some weeks ago by the charges of corruption in the state auditor's office in the "gobbling up" of state leases on mining properties by employees at the capitol is partially forgotten, but it will be revived again very soon. H. G. Ingersoll filed a complaint today in the district court in an action against H. V. Rutherford, the Mesaba Iron Range Mining company and A. Bierman, state auditor and ex-officio land commissioner. He alleges that on Jan. 30, 1892, he made written applications for leases of the following lands: 3 1/2 of sw 1/4 and c 1/2 of se 1/4 of section 10, nw 1/4 of nw 1/4 of section 14, nw 1/4 and ne 1/4 of section 20, se 1/4 and sw 1/4 and ne 1/4 of section 32, all in 58-16. He also paid $200 into the state treasury and says that it was held there for over two weeks. Certain deputies and clerks employed in the land commissioner's office, he alleges, conspired with H. V. Rutherford to prevent the plaintiff from securing the leases. To carry out their scheme they either on the afternoon or evening of January 29, after the office was closed and before it opened next morning conveyed information which they could only obtain by virtue of their positions, to said Rutherford of the lands to be opened and informed him that he could get leases in spite of the applications of the plaintiff. Accordingly, the plaintiff sets forth, Rutherford made applications but did not pay in his money before the evening of Jan. 30 or the morning of Feb. 1. He further alleges that the clerks made hurried entries on the records that Rutherford had applied for leases and that they had been issued.

These leases were all transferred to the Mesaba Iron Range Mining company and the plaintiff demands that they be vacated and set aside and the land commissioner ordered to issue leases to him.

The Stone-Ordean company has brought suit to recover $15,522.24 from Fred Salberg and Peter Johnson and has garnished Williston, Chanley & Co. Asher M. Prudden has filed an appeal from the action of the council ordering the opening of an alley through block 24, Third division, and block 10, Second division, for the reason that he has been awarded insufficient damages.

United States Court. The trial of the case of Mary Holm as administrator of the estate of Henry Holm, deceased, against the Northern Pacific railway was completed this morning in the United States court, and Judge Nelson ordered a verdict for the defendant. Lena Anderson vs. the Duluth & Iron Range railway was next taken up and is now on trial. She is suing for $5000 for the death of her husband while employed by the defendant.

President Alexander Will Consider. R. F. Fitzgerald, F. A. Patrick, C. B. Woodruff and J. A. Ferguson, committee of the Jobbers' union on transportation, had a conference last evening with W. S. Alexander, president of the Eastern Minnesota, on the question of local switching charges. Mr. Alexander will consider the questions submitted to him.

Injured But Forgiving. Adolph Kingbeal's wife is more forgiving than most women, and today she tottered down to Judge Powell to plead for the liberty of the brute who kicked and strapped her so on May 1 that she gave premature birth to a child some time afterwards. The poor woman's face showed signs of both mental and physical anguish as she half felt, half walked along the way to the judge's room. Owing to the peculiar circumstances of the case, while the man deserves no particle of mercy, yet it is quite probable that the committing magistrate may give him some leniency.

DENIES THE STATELET.

Chairman Nichols of the Republican County Committee Talks.

There is but little new in the Republican congressional situation today. The friends of Col. Graves are still circulating the petition asking him to become a candidate and it will be presented to him probably tonight, when a definite answer is anticipated. Mr. Kendall's friends are also working hard and will not be unprepared for the fight at the primaries. It is expected that the call for the primaries and convention will be issued by the county committee tonight. The news this morning contained the remarkable statement that Monroe Nichols, chairman of the county committee, had stated that the vote of the Range would go to Kendall, and that the votes of all the counties in this congressional district, except one, had been "fixed" for the same gentleman. A Herald reporter found Mr. Nichols in the Spalding at noon and interviewed him on the subject.

"Some one must have imposed upon the reporter," said Mr. Nichols. "I did say to several parties who made the statement that Col. Graves had been promised the vote of the Range, that such was not the case. Regarding the other nineteen counties in this district, outside of St. Louis, I do not know nor do I believe any man knows at this time, how they will go. At the Brainerd convention, it looked as though four counties would certainly be favorable to Judge Searle, providing he was a candidate. At the same time representatives from eight counties promised to bring the delegates from their respective counties to the congressional convention for H. C. Kendall. I am very sorry to see Col. Graves thinking of shying his castor into the ring at this eleventh hour, especially after having repeatedly stated in press interviews that he was not a candidate. I fear greatly that the result of this action may be to convince the people outside of Duluth that we cannot agree upon a home candidate. They may not care to come over here and settle our quarrels for us. It would seem as though many Republicans here are unable to curb their self-consuming ambition to go to congress, and through jealousy of Kendall have made up their minds to bust up the game if possible. Duluth needs a congressman badly at this time, and I hope that on June 2 an unmistakable expression (uninfluenced by any questionable methods) will be obtained from the result of the primaries."

WHEAT STEADY BUT DULL.

Prices on the Duluth Board the Same as Yesterday.

Prices of July wheat were weaker this morning at the opening, July having sold at 84c, which was 1/2c below yesterday's close. The early cables were weak and set the pace at the opening. There was a general toning up of the market, and before noon the July future had advanced 1/2c. May wheat was stronger owing to reports of a crop by the elevator men in Chicago and it opened unchanged on this market. There was an excellent demand here for track No. 1 northern and lower grades for milling purposes. Fresh receipts here are small and the demand both by home and outside flouring mills is large. The close was steady but dull at the following prices:

No. 1 hard cash 85 1/2c, May 86, June 86 1/2, July 86 1/2, No. 1 northern cash 83 1/2c, May 83 1/2, June 83 1/2, July 84 1/2. No. 2 northern 76 1/2c. No. 3, 72 1/2c. Rejected 63c on track—No. 1 hard 86, No. 1 northern 84 1/2c.

Car inspection today, 56. Receipts—Wheat, 32,731 bus; Shipments—Wheat, 202,082 bus. Cars on track, 46; last year, 137.

Outside Markets.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The close: Wheat, May, 83 1/2c; July, 82 1/2c. Corn, May, 64c; July, 63c. Oats: May, 42 1/2c; July, 39 1/2c. Pork: July, $10.47 1/2; Lard: July, $6.50. Ribs: July, $6.35 1/2.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 26.—Wheat: May closed at 81 1/2c; July opened at 81 1/2c and closed at 81 1/2c. On track—No. 1 hard, 84 1/2c; No. 1 northern, 83 1/2c; No. 2 northern 80 1/2c.
